Marwadi (Marwari), Step by Step, Sign by Sign

A gentle writing-first curriculum, one usable greeting at a time

How to use this starter edition

Begin with no assumed Marwadi and no assumed Devanagari. Each section lasts at most five minutes. The first section gives the hand one sign to copy; later sections move through guided copy, delayed copy, and independent recall. The writing ramp never waits for an alphabet chapter and never asks for a sign that has not already been isolated.

The name in the title is deliberately double. Official and linguistic sources often use Marwari; many speakers and learners use Marwadi. This book uses Marwadi as its short name and keeps Marwari visible for discoverability.

Chapter 1 makes one narrow promise: you will be able to read, say, and write the respectful greeting राम-राम सा, and answer it. Chapter 2 adds one formal gratitude response, आभार, through two new signs. Chapter 3 isolates two more signs before adding respectful affirmative हां सा. Chapter 4 first teaches pāṇī, "water," by ear, then isolates each new sign before the learner reads and writes पाणी. Chapter 5 builds the name answer म्हारो नाम राम है; Chapter 6 adds the question थारो नाम कांई है?. Chapter 7 asks आप कैसो हो? entirely with known signs. Chapter 8 answers हूं ठीक हूं, adding only two new signs after meaning and sound are secure. These are real pre-A1 steps, not a claim that the level is complete.

Chapter 1

Ram-Ram Sa: A Greeting the Hand Can Make

Modes: voice (2) pen (5) Hands-free start: none of the 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, read, say, copy, and write the respectful Marwadi greeting राम-राम सा, and answer it with the same greeting.
> A two-line authentic greeting exchange followed by independent written recall, using only signs and language taught in the chapter.

1.1 र — one sign, and the beginning of a greeting

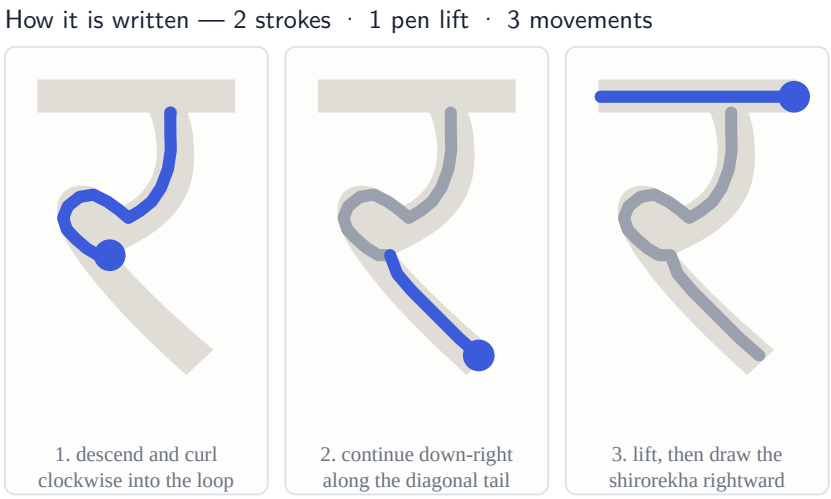

> You do not need an alphabet first. Today your eye and hand need one sign.

Script — notice the sign

र — ra

Devanagari consonants carry a short a by default, so this is ra, not a bare r. The r is a quick tongue-tip tap.

Writing — guided copy

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[illegible]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How र is written, stroke by stroke

Put a finger over र and follow the printed shape. Then copy it three times, large and slow. Say ra each time your pen stops.

The strip shows one attested stroke order for र, with its source beneath it. It is not one universal order: school traditions differ.

Before you move on

Cover the model. Point to the one you copied most clearly and say its sound.

1.2 ◌ा — make ra into rā

Read रा. (ra.) Copy it once.

Script — add one mark

The mark ◌ा sits on the right of a consonant and lengthens its vowel:

र ra + ◌ा ā = रा rā

Hold ā steady; do not turn it into English ray.

Writing — guided copy

How ◌ा is written, stroke by stroke

- copy र
- add ◌ा on its right
- read the result: रा rā

Do that three times. On the last copy, wait five seconds after looking at the model before you write.

Before you move on

Which is ra: र or रा? Which is rā?

1.3 राम — your first whole written word

Write रा after looking away from the model. Check it, then begin.

Script — add म

म — ma

Join it to the piece you know:

रा rā + म ma = राम rām

At the end of this word, the built-in vowel of म is not pronounced in ordinary speech. Read the whole word rām. राम is the name Ram. The Marwadi greeting you are building will repeat this name. Today you only need the one word राम; the complete greeting still comes later.

The word, taken apart

राम (rām) is the Sanskrit name Rāma, taken over whole, a tatsama. CDIAL, which lists words by their inherited descendants, has no entry for the name.

Writing — from copy to memory

1. copy म twice
2. copy राम once while looking
3. hide the model for ten seconds
4. write राम from memory, then compare

If the memory copy stalls, return only to the missing sign.

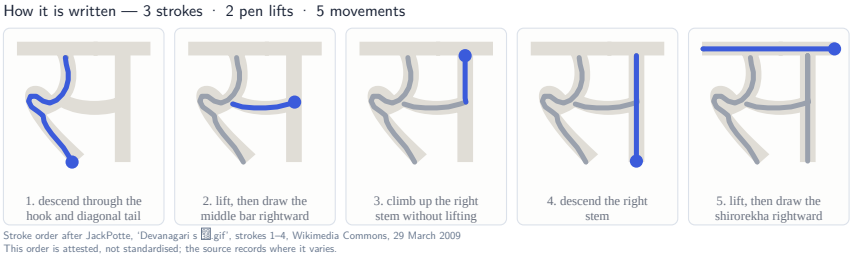

Before you move on

Read राम without using the romanization, say that it is the name Ram, then write it once more.

1.4 स — a second consonant

Read राम, say what it means, then write it from memory. Check that your last sign is म.

Script — notice and copy

How स is written, stroke by stroke

स — sa

Like र, this consonant carries a short a. Do not confuse the two:

र ra · स sa

Finger-trace स, then copy it three times. Say sa as each copy finishes.

Before you move on

Cover the large model and write स once from the copy you remember.

1.5 सा — reuse a mark instead of learning a new rule

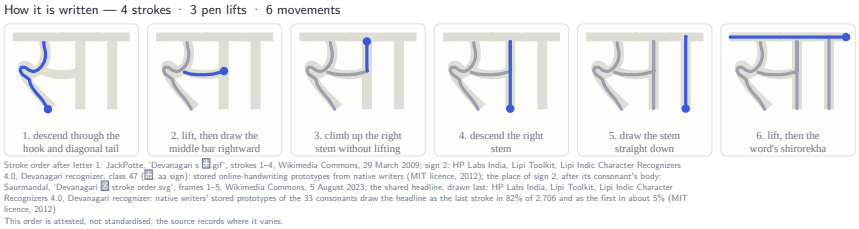

What did ◌ा do to र? Apply the same change to स.

Script — assemble

स sa + ◌ा ā = सा sā

The writing rule is old; only the combination is new. In the greeting you are building, सा is a respectful form of address.

Writing — delayed copy

How सा is written, letter by letter, then one headline, stroke by stroke

Copy सा once. Look away for ten seconds, say sā, and write it again. Then retrieve the two known pieces separately rather than using them as a phrase before the next lesson teaches the greeting:

राम

सा

Before you move on

Read राम, then सा. Circle the copy of ◌ा in each separate word.

1.6 राम-राम सा — your first complete Marwadi greeting

Read it: राम and सा separately

You already own every sign in today's line.

The exchange — meet the greeting

राम-राम सा। — Rām-rām sā. — a respectful greeting

Repeat राम, then add respectful सा. Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi's Jāgtī Jot prints this exchange:

A: राम-राम सा।

B: राम-राम सा, राम-राम।

That attestation is why this track begins here rather than substituting a Hindi greeting merely because the scripts are shared.

The word, taken apart

राम-राम सा (rām-rām sā) says the Sanskrit name Rāma, a tatsama, twice and adds sā, a mark of respect. The origin of sā is not settled. CDIAL gives no Marwari form for it, but lists Gujarati sā̃, "a term of respectful address", under Sanskrit svāmin, "owner, master" (CDIAL 13930), a possible relative.

Your turn — use and write it

- Hear: rām-rām sā
- Answer: राम-राम सा
- Read it: राम-राम सा
- Say it: the line without romanization
- Copy: राम-राम सा once, keeping the hyphen and space

Before you move on

Cover: the line
Say the greeting once. Write it: as much of it as you can remember
Source: Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, August–September 2018.

1.7 Practice — hear it, answer it, write it

Write it: राम and सा separately, with the page covered — check only after both are down

The exchange

A: राम-राम सा।

B: राम-राम सा, राम-राम।

Run both voices once. Cover: B
Then answer A aloud. Switch roles.

Your turn — four-skill checkpoint

1. Listen: ask someone or a screen reader to say rām-rām sā without showing the text; identify it as a greeting.
2. Speak: give the greeting without reading.
3. Read it: राम-राम सा without romanization
4. Write it: राम-राम सा from memory, after fifteen seconds with the book closed — check the repeated word, hyphen, space, and final सा

Writing counts only if the model was hidden. Copying was the ramp; this is recall.

Before you move on

If one sign stalled, note which one and repeat only its short lesson tomorrow.

Chapter 2

Aabhaar: Formal Thanks, Two New Signs

Modes: 🚗 voice (1) ✓ pen (3) 🚗 Hands-free start: none of the 4 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, hear, say, copy, and independently write आभार as a short formal gratitude response.
> A source-attested formal gratitude word built from two new signs and two signs already taught, followed by independent four-skill retrieval.

2.1 आ — long ā at the beginning

> With the page covered, write राम and give the greeting reply you learnt in Chapter 1. Uncover. Point to the vowel mark in रा: you know ◌ा when long ā follows a consonant.

Script — one new sign

When long ā begins a word, it stands by itself:

> आ — ā

Notice the upright line at the right. Say one steady ā while your finger follows the sign.

Writing — observe, trace, copy

How आ is written, stroke by stroke

1. look at आ for three seconds
2. finger-trace it once
3. copy it twice
4. compare only the upright line and the top bar

Do not add a word yet. This session belongs to one sign.

Before you move on

Cover the models. Write आ once, then uncover and compare.

2.2 भ — bha, with a small breath

Write स, then आ, from memory. Check both before moving on.

Script — one new sign and sound

भ — bha

Begin like English b, then let a small puff of air follow. Hold a hand near your mouth: bha. The breath is part of the sound.

Writing — observe, trace, copy

How भ is written, stroke by stroke

1. look at भ
2. finger-trace its lower shape, then the upright line
3. copy भ twice
4. say bha after each copy

Stop there. The next lesson will join this sign to signs already in your hand.

Before you move on

Cover the model for five seconds. Write भ, uncover, and compare.

2.3 आभार — formal thanks, built from known signs

Write सा from memory. Then read these four pieces: आ · भ · ◌ा · र.

Script — build the word

Join only signs you already know:

आ + भ + ◌ा + र = आभार

ābhār — formal thanks; gratitude

Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi's Jāgtī Jot uses आभार when expressing gratitude in Rajasthani prose. It is a formal, Sanskrit-derived word. This lesson keeps that register visible rather than pretending every kind of thanks sounds the same.

The word, taken apart

आभार (ābhār) is Sanskrit ābhāra, "a load, a burden", taken over whole, a tatsama; the sense of thanks came later. CDIAL has no entry for ābhāra itself, but lists the inherited family of its root under bhāra, "burden, weight", among them Old Marwari bhāra, "load" (CDIAL 9459).

Writing — from guided to delayed copy

1. copy आभार once while looking
2. point to भा and say bhā
3. hide the word for ten seconds
4. write आभार from memory
5. compare one sign at a time

If one sign stalls, practise only that sign before trying the word again.

Before you move on

Read आभार, say its meaning, then write it once with the model covered.

2.4 Practice — receive a kindness, offer formal thanks

Give the respectful Chapter 1 greeting from memory. Write it: आ, then भ, with the new word covered — then uncover it and check

The exchange — one courtesy move

Someone helps you or gives you something. Offer formal thanks:

आभार। — Ābhār. — Thank you. / My gratitude.

Use it here as a complete short response. A later chapter can add a more casual Marwadi gratitude form; do not make this one word carry every register.

Your turn — four tiny skills

1. Listen: ask someone or a screen reader to say ābhār; identify it as formal gratitude.
2. Speak: imagine receiving help and say आभार without reading.
3. Read it: राम · आभार · सा, then choose the thanks word
4. Write it: आभार from memory, after fifteen seconds with the book closed

The written response counts only with the model hidden.

Before you move on

If आ or भ stalled, return to that sign's two-minute practice before repeating the whole word.

Chapter 3

Haan Sa: A Respectful Yes, Sign by Sign

Modes: voice (2) pen (3) Hands-free start: none of the 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, hear, say, copy, and independently write हां सा as a respectful affirmative answer.
> A source-attested polite affirmative built from two tiny script steps and the already-known respect word सा, followed by independently scored four-skill retrieval.

3.1 ह — ha, one new sign

> Give the Chapter 1 greeting reply from memory. Then, with आभार covered, say it as formal thanks and write it once. Uncover only long enough to check each sign.

Script — one sign and one sound

> ह — ha

Let the air pass freely as you say ha. Do not add the rest of the coming word yet; today the eye, ear, voice, and hand meet only ह.

Writing — observe, trace, copy

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[illegible]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 9 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ह is written, stroke by stroke

1. look at ह for three seconds
2. finger-trace its lower curve and upright line
3. copy ह twice
4. say ha after each copy

Before you move on

Cover the model for five seconds. Write ह, uncover, and compare.

3.2 ◌ं — a small dot for the nasal ending

Write ह, then भ, from memory. Add the familiar long-$\bar{a}$ mark to ह: हा. Read it once.

Script — one small new mark

◌ं — a dot above

In the source spelling हां, this dot cues the nasal ending. Say hā(n) slowly: the vowel is long and the ending resonates through the nose. Speakers vary, so listen for the whole word rather than forcing one exaggerated sound.

Writing — add only the mark

How ◌ं is written, stroke by stroke

1. copy हा once
2. look at हां
3. add ◌ं above the end of your copy
4. compare the dot's position, then say hā(n)

Before you move on

Hide हां for five seconds. Write it once, then uncover and compare.

3.3 हां सा — a respectful yes

Say the Chapter 1 greeting from memory. Write हां, then सा, as two separate known pieces.

The exchange — join the two pieces

The first word answers yes. Familiar सा keeps the answer respectful. A scholarly Marwari text edition identifies hā(n)-sā as the polite affirmative, and a Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi dialogue writes हां सा in context.

The word, taken apart

हां सा (hā(n) sā) puts the respectful sā after hã̃, "yes". CDIAL lists Hindi and Gujarati hã̃, "yes", under Sanskrit āma, "yes", with an h- it calls emphatic or taken from the verb "to be" (CDIAL 1235); it gives no Marwari form there. The origin of sā is not settled (see CDIAL 13930 for a possible Gujarati relative).

Writing — guided, then delayed

1. copy हां सा once while looking
2. point to the space between the answer and the respect word
3. hide the phrase for ten seconds
4. write हां सा from memory
5. compare हां, the space, and सा separately

Before you move on

Say हां सा once without looking, then write it once with the model covered.
Sources: Hess, Texts and Translations and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, April–May 2019.

3.4 Listen and answer — yes without the page

Write it: the first sign of आभार, then the first sign of हां सा

Say which belongs to formal thanks and which begins a yes answer.

You'll want to know: answer by ear

Have someone or a screen reader say these in either order: ābhār and hā(n) sā. Without looking, answer formal thanks or respectful yes for each. Then say हां सा as the answer to a question you accept.

Your turn — four tiny skills

1. Listen: identify hā(n) sā without seeing it.
2. Speak: answer yes respectfully without reading.
3. Read it: आभार · हां सा · राम, then choose हां सा
4. Write it: only हां, with all models covered

Say हां सा. Write it: हां from memory

3.5 Practice — hear a yes, give a yes

Write it: भ, then हां, with the page covered

Say आभार for formal thanks; say हां सा for a respectful yes.

Your turn — independent four-skill check

1. Listen: hear hā(n) sā and identify an affirmative answer, without text.
2. Speak: hear "Will you come?" and answer yes respectfully, without notes.
3. Cover: the English, then explain हां सा

4. Write it: the complete phrase, fifteen seconds after hearing hā(n) sā

Score each line separately. A missed line is the one to repeat; three stronger skills do not erase a writing or listening miss.

What you've built — and what remains

You can now give one respectful affirmative. You have not yet learnt the Marwadi responses for no or okay, and you have not completed a yes/no exchange. Those remain separate tiny steps.

Before you move on

If the dot or ह stalled, return only to its two-minute sign lesson before trying the complete dictation again.

Chapter 4

Paani: Hear Water, Then Write It Sign by Sign

Modes: voice (2) pen (4) Hands-free start: the first of 6 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, hear, say, read, and independently write पाणी as the Marwadi word for water.
> A source-attested everyday noun secured by ear before three new signs are isolated, assembled, and retrieved independently in all four skills.

4.1 Hear pāṇī — meaning before spelling

> Give the Chapter 3 four-skill response once: hear hā(n) sā and identify a respectful yes; say it. Read it: हां सा, then cover it
> Write it: the phrase
> Say ābhār for formal thanks. Now set writing aside: today's new word begins with the ear and voice.

You'll want to know — one useful word

> pāṇī — water

Listen for two long vowels: pā-ṇī. The middle sound is made with the tongue curled back a little. Hear the whole word twice, then say it once. Do not try to spell it yet; the next three tiny lessons will give the hand one piece at a time.

The word, taken apart

pāṇī is inherited from Sanskrit pānīya, "water", a tadbhava; CDIAL lists Marwari pāṇī under it (CDIAL 8082).

Your turn — meaning without letters

Imagine two cups: one holds water, one holds tea. Hear pāṇī and say which cup it names. Change the order and do it again. Then say pāṇī while imagining water.

Say pāṇī once, then give its meaning.
Source: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015).

4.2 प — pa, the first sign

Write हां from memory, checking the first sign and the dot.
With no new spelling in view, say the Marwadi word for water.
Then write the familiar long-ā mark ◌ा once.

Script — one new consonant

प — pa

Close the lips, release them without a strong puff, and say pa. Today the hand meets only प; the complete word stays hidden.

Writing — observe, trace, copy

How प is written, stroke by stroke

1. look at प for three seconds
2. finger-trace its left stem, bowl, and headline
3. copy प twice
4. say pa after each copy

Before you move on

Hide the model for five seconds. Write प, then add ◌ा to make पा.

4.3 ण — curled-back ṇa

Write हां as one complete known word. Say pāṇī without looking at its spelling, then write पा from memory.

ण — ṇa

Curl the tongue tip slightly back for ṇ. Do not replace it with the dental n heard in the Hindi cognate. The Marwadi dictionary spelling in this chapter uses ण, so the eye, voice, and hand keep that contrast clear from the beginning.

Writing — observe, trace, copy

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[89][23]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ण is written, stroke by stroke

1. look at ण for three seconds
2. finger-trace the lower loop, upright, and headline
3. copy ण twice
4. say ṇa after each copy

Before you move on

Cover both models. Write प, then ण, with a clear space between them.

4.4 ◌ी — the long-ī mark

Hear "Will you come?" and answer yes respectfully. Then say pāṇī. Write प, then ण, from memory and name the curled-back sound.

Script — one new vowel mark

◌ी — long ī

Like familiar ◌ा, this mark cannot stand alone in a word. It attaches to a consonant. Add it to ण and read णी, ṇī.

Writing — attach only the mark

How ी is written, stroke by stroke

1. copy ण once
2. look at णी
3. add ी on the right of your copy
4. compare the joined form, then say ṇī

Before you move on

Hide णी for five seconds. Write it once, then uncover and compare.

4.5 पाणी — join the word you already know by ear

Write the first sign of राम from memory. Then say the Marwadi word for water and write पा, then णी, as two separate pieces. Check each piece before going on.

The exchange — two familiar pieces

पा + णी → पाणी — pāṇī — water

Join the pieces without adding or changing a sign. Keep ण, the curled-back sound that distinguishes this source-attested Marwadi spelling from its Hindi cognate.

The word, taken apart

The word belongs to an old Indo-Aryan family. Sanskrit pānīya meant something for drinking; related regional forms travelled through Middle Indo-Aryan into modern Marwadi पाणी. The history is a memory hook, not a new spelling task.

Writing — guided, then delayed

1. copy पाणी once while saying pā-ṇī
2. point to पा, then णी
3. hide the model for ten seconds
4. write the complete word from memory
5. uncover and compare प, ◌ा, ण, and ◌ी separately

Before you move on

Say पाणी once without looking, then write it once with the model covered.
Sources: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015) and Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages, entry 8082.

4.6 Practice — hear, say, read, and write water

Give the older respectful yes in four quick steps: hear it and name its meaning; say it. Read it: हां सा, then cover it

Write it: the phrase

Now say the three meanings in English as you hear ābhār, hā(n) sā, and pāṇī. Write it: पा, then ण and ी separately from memory

Your turn — four independent checks

1. Listen: hear pāṇī and identify water, without text.
2. Speak: imagine a glass of water and say pāṇī, without notes.
3. Read it: आभार · हां · पाणी, choose पाणी, then give its meaning
4. Write it: पाणी with no model, fifteen seconds after hearing pāṇī

Score each line separately. Repeat only the missed line; strong speaking does not compensate for a missing ण or ी in writing.

What you've built — and what remains

You can retrieve one useful word in all four skills. You cannot yet request water in a complete Marwadi sentence; that needs pronouns, a request form, and register choices taught in later small steps.

Before you move on

If one sign stalled, return only to its two-minute sign lesson before repeating the complete dictation.

Chapter 5

Mharo Naam: Give One Name

Modes: voice (6) pen (4) Hands-free start: the first of 10 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can hear, say, read, and independently write म्हारो नाम राम है, then substitute a chosen name in speech.
> A source-attested name statement built by ear before four new signs are isolated and the complete line is retrieved from dictation.

5.1 Hear mhāro — one small word for "my"

> Hear pāṇī, say water, and say the Marwadi word back. Write it: its first sign प, once
> Set writing aside. The next chapter begins with the ear.

What to know first

> mhāro — my, before a masculine singular noun

Listen twice: mhā-ro. Say it once. The breath after m belongs to the word; do not insert a full vowel between m and h. You do not need to spell it today.

The word, taken apart

mhāro is the Marwari "my". CDIAL lists no Marwari mhāro; its nearest row is Old Gujarati māharaü, "my", under the first-person stem ma- (CDIAL 9691), beside Old Marwari meraü. How the word took its mh- is not settled.

Your turn

Say my when you hear mhāro. Say water when you hear pāṇī. Change the order and do it once more.

Before you move on

Say mhāro once, then stop.
Sources: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015) and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, November 2007.

5.2 ◌् — stop the built-in vowel

Write known स once, then read म as ma. Hear mhāro once. Today one tiny mark lets म close onto the next consonant without a between them.

Script

How it is written — one unbroken stroke · 1 movement

1. draw the stroke down to the right

Stroke order after HP Labs India, Lipi Toolkit, Lipi Indic Character Recognizers 4.0, Devanagari recognizer, class 61 (virama): stored online-handwriting prototypes from native writers (MIT licence, 2012)
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ् is written, stroke by stroke

This is the virāma. Under म, it removes the built-in a: म् is m, not ma. Keep the model visible; no joined form is required yet.

Your turn

Finger-trace ् once beneath a printed म, then trace one pencil model. Say "vowel off" as your hand stops.

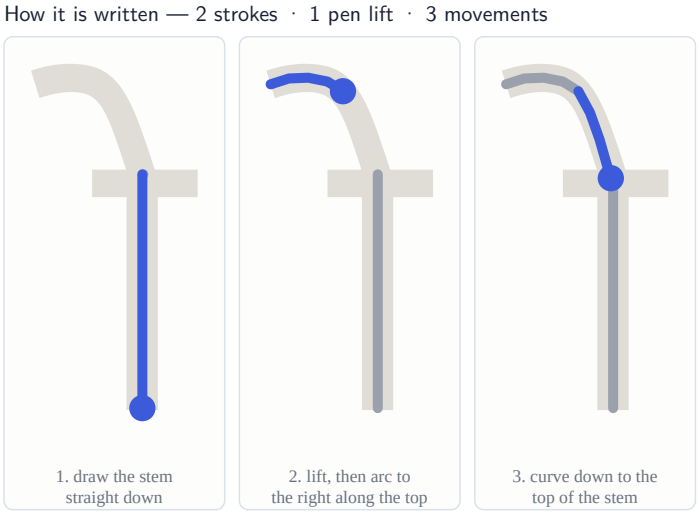

Before you move on

Cover the mark and draw it once beneath म.

5.3 ो — turn ra into ro

Write known सा once and point to ी in पाणी. Write र once, then draw yesterday's vowel-off mark beneath a spare म. Today adds one sign to the right of र.

Script

How ो is written, stroke by stroke

र + ो → रो

Attached ो replaces the built-in a. Read रो as ro. It is one sign, even though it reaches above and to the right.

Your turn

Keep रो visible and copy it once. Point to र, then ो, and read ro.

Before you move on

Cover the model, wait three seconds, and write रो once.

5.4 म्हारो — the heard word becomes readable

Say the Marwadi word for my and recall what respectful सा does. Write it: पाणी from the heard cue pāṇī; then the vowel-off mark and रो from memory

What to know first

म् + हा + रो → म्हारो — mhāro — my

Every piece is known. The virāma removes the vowel from म so म्ह begins mh, not maha.

The word, taken apart

म्हारो (mhāro) is the Marwari "my". CDIAL lists no Marwari mhāro; its nearest row is Old Gujarati māharaü, "my", under the first-person stem ma- (CDIAL 9691), beside Old Marwari meraü. How the word took its mh- is not settled.

Your turn

Cover: म्हारो after a five-second look, then wait five seconds

Write it: the word — then uncover it, compare म्ह, ◌ा, and रो separately, and repair only the piece that differs

Before you move on

Read it: your repaired word once without romanization

Sources: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015) and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, November 2007.

5.5 Hear nām — name

Hear राम-राम सा and answer it. Retrieve पाणी once by ear and voice. Read it: पाणी

Write it: पाणी once

Then hear mhāro and say my. Read it: म्हारो once

What to know first

nām — name

Listen twice, then say it once. Marwadi nām, Sanskrit nāman, and English name are distant members of the same old word family. That history is a memory hook; today's task is only sound and meaning.

Old Marwari had nāva (CDIAL 7067).

Your turn

Say name when you hear nām. Say my when you hear mhāro. Change the order once.

Before you move on

Say mhāro nām and give the two-word meaning: my name.
Sources: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015) and Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

5.6 न — a front-of-the-mouth n

Write independent आ once. Say nām and its meaning. Read known ण with the tongue curled back. Today the tongue moves forward.

Script

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[89][28]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 11 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How न is written, stroke by stroke

न

Read न as na, with the tongue near the teeth. Do not replace it with retroflex ण from पाणी.

Your turn

Keep न visible. Finger-trace it once, then trace one pencil model. Point to न when you hear na and ण when you hear retroflex ṇa.

Before you move on

Cover the model and write न once.

5.7 नाम — name, with no new sign

Write it: known भ and the vowel-off mark ्, once each

Say nām and its meaning. Write it: न once

What to know first

न + ◌ा + म → नाम — nām — name

Nothing new is hiding here: dental न, known long ◌ा, and known म.

The word, taken apart

नाम (nām) goes back to Sanskrit nāman, "name", the same ancient word as English name. CDIAL lists Gujarati nām under it, and an older Marwari form nāva (CDIAL 7067); nām keeps the Sanskrit shape.

Your turn

Cover: नाम after a five-second look, then wait five seconds

Write it: the word once — then uncover it, compare one piece at a time, and repair only a differing piece

Before you move on

Read it: म्हारो नाम, then say my name

5.8 Hear hai — the small closing word

Read it: आभार once

Write it: आभार once

Hear mhāro and nām in either order, then give each meaning.

What to know first

hai — is

Listen twice, then say it once. This tiny copula closes the name statement. Do not spell it yet; one vowel sign is still missing from your hand.

The word, taken apart

hai, "is", has no Marwari row in CDIAL. Under Sanskrit ākṣēti, "abides", it lists Old Hindi āhaï, "is", and Old Marwari chai, "exists" (CDIAL 1031). Many accounts trace hai instead to Sanskrit asti, "is"; the route is not settled.

Your turn

Hear mhāro nām rām hai. Count four beats aloud: my | name | Ram | is. English changes the order in translation: My name is Ram.

Before you move on

Say the four-beat line once from sound: mhāro nām rām hai.
Sources: Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat language report and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, November 2007.

5.9 ै — turn ha into hai

Say आभार for formal thanks. Say the closing word hai, then write known ह once.

Script

ह + ै → है

Attached ै replaces the built-in a. Read the whole word है as hai. Do not confuse ै with the taller ो in रो.

Your turn

Keep है visible and copy it once. Point to ह, then ै, and read hai.

Before you move on

Cover the model, wait three seconds, and write है once.

5.10 म्हारो नाम राम है। — say one name

Hear mhāro, nām, rām, hai in mixed order. Give each meaning.

What to know first

म्हारो | नाम | राम | है।

mhāro nām rām hai — My name is Ram.

The written line adds no new sign. है is known ह plus ै. Replace राम with your chosen name when speaking; keep Ram for the first writing attempt because every sign is already yours.

The word, taken apart

म्हारो नाम राम है (mhāro nām rām hai) joins four words with their own lessons: mhāro, "my", whose history is not settled; nām, "name", from Sanskrit nāman (CDIAL 7067); the Sanskrit name Rāma; and hai, "is", which CDIAL ties to Sanskrit ākṣēti, "abides" (CDIAL 1031).

Your turn

1. hear the line and say the name the speaker gives
2. say the line once with rām
3. Read it: the four groups without romanization

Before you move on

Cover: every written model
Hear the line once. Write it: the line — then uncover the model and repair one group, not the whole sentence

Chapter 6

Tharo Naam: Ask One Name

Modes: voice (5) pen (3) Hands-free start: the first of 8 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can ask थारो नाम कांई है and answer with a chosen name in four separately scored skills.
> The question half of the name exchange, built by ear before three new signs are isolated and joined to the already-secure answer.

6.1 Hear thāro — turn from my to your

> Say mhāro nām rām hai once. Write it: न, then है, from memory
> Say my on mhāro.

What to know first

> thāro — your, before a masculine singular noun

Listen twice: thā-ro. Let a small breath follow t. Say your when you hear it. Spelling waits for the next lesson.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Marwari thāro, "your", among the possessive forms built on Sanskrit yuṣmad-, the plural "you" (CDIAL 10511). It is an inherited word, a tadbhava, whose plural "your" now serves for one person too.

Your turn

Hear mhāro and say my. Hear thāro and say your. Change the order twice.

Before you move on

Say the pair once: mhāro — my; thāro — your.
Sources: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015) and Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat language report.

6.2 थ — one breathed consonant

Read हां, say yes, then hear thāro, point away, and say your.

Script

How थ is written, stroke by stroke

थ

Read थ as tha: the tongue begins near the teeth and a small breath follows. It is one new shape. The remaining signs in thāro are already known.

Your turn

Keep थ visible. Finger-trace it once, then trace one printed model once. Say tha after your hand stops.

Before you move on

Cover the model and write थ once.

6.3 थारो — your

Say thāro and its meaning. Read it: म्हारो, then give the opposite direction — my

What to know first

थ + ◌ा + रो → थारो — thāro — your

Only थ was new. The rest comes from राम and म्हारो.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Marwari थारो (thāro), "your", among the possessive forms built on Sanskrit yuṣmad-, the plural "you" (CDIAL 10511). It is an inherited word, a tadbhava, whose plural "your" now serves for one person too.

Your turn

Cover: थारो after a five-second look, then wait five seconds

Write it: the word — then uncover it and compare थ, ◌ा, and रो separately

Before you move on

Read it: the two words once without romanization

6.4 Hear kāĩ — what

Retrieve हां सा once by ear and voice. Read it: हां सा

Write it: हां सा once

Point to: ◌ै in है

Read it: थारो

Then hear thāro nām, and give its meaning: your name.

What to know first

kāĩ — what

Listen for one long, lightly nasal middle and a final long ī. Say the whole word once rather than exaggerating the nasal sound. Its old interrogative root belongs to the same deep family as Sanskrit kim and English what.

The word, taken apart

kāĩ is not in CDIAL, so its history is not settled. Its k- is the question stem of Sanskrit kim, "what", where CDIAL lists Old Marwari kyaü (CDIAL 3164).

Your turn

Hear thāro nām kāĩ hai? Point to: the question mark

Then say What is your name? No spelling yet.

Before you move on

Say the four-beat question once from sound.
Sources: SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015), Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages, and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, September 1999.

6.5 क — the first sign in kāĩ

Hear kāĩ and say what.

Script

How क is written, stroke by stroke

क

Read क as ka. Keep the sound short and unaspirated. Only this one shape is new today.

Your turn

Keep क visible. Finger-trace it once, then trace one printed model once. Say ka after your hand stops.

Before you move on

Cover the model and write क once.

6.6 ई — long ī standing alone

Write प, then क, once each. Point to attached ी in पाणी and say its long vowel.

Script

How ई is written, stroke by stroke

ई

Read ई as long ī. Use this independent form when the vowel stands on its own. Attached ी still belongs after a consonant.

Your turn

Keep ई visible and copy it once. Then point: ई stands alone; ◌ी attaches.

Before you move on

Cover the model, wait three seconds, and write ई once.

6.7 कांई — what, with no new sign

Write it: known ण and new थ, once each

Say kāĩ and its meaning. Write it: क and independent ई

Point to: the known nasal dot in हां

What to know first

क + ◌ा + ◌ं + ई → कांई — kāĩ — what

No shape is new. Read it: the whole word smoothly — the dot lightly nasalizes the long middle rather than creating an extra beat

The word, taken apart

CDIAL has no entry for कांई (kāĩ), so the full history of the word is not settled. Its k- is the old question stem of Sanskrit kim, "what", under which CDIAL lists Old Marwari kyaü, "what, why" (CDIAL 3164).

Your turn

Cover: कांई after a five-second look, then wait five seconds

Write it: the word — then uncover it and compare क, ◌ा, ◌ं, and ई separately

Before you move on

Read it: थारो नाम कांई है? once without romanization

6.8 Practice — ask one name and give one name

Say the four older meanings as you hear rām-rām sā, ābhār, hā(n) sā, and pāṇī. Write it: only पाणी, from the last cue

What to know first

थारो नाम कांई है?

म्हारो नाम राम है।

The question asks What is your name? The answer says My name is Ram. In speech, replace rām with the name the speaker chooses. This book teaches one documented central-Marwari form; regional speakers may use another possessive or copula, and that variation is not an error.

Your turn

1. Listen: hear one of the two lines and identify question or answer.
2. Speak: hear the question and answer with a chosen name, without notes.
3. Read it: the printed question, then match it to the printed answer
4. Write it: the question with no model, ten seconds after hearing it

Score each line separately. Speaking cannot cover a missing word in writing; reading cannot cover an unanswered spoken question.

Before you move on

Stop after one complete exchange. Accuracy comes before speed. Sources: Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat language report, SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary (2015), and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi, Jāgtī Jot, September 1999.

Chapter 7

Kaiso Ho: Ask How Someone Is

Modes: voice (1) eyes (1) Hands-free start: the first of 2 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, say, read, and write the polite wellbeing question आप कैसो हो?.
> A source-attested formal wellbeing question heard first and then written entirely with signs from earlier chapters.

7.1 Hear āp kaiso ho? — ask about someone, politely

> Write it: पाणी
> Ask the name question once, and answer it once. Recall that kāĩ asks what. Cover: the page
> The next question has a different social job.

What to know first

> āp kaiso ho? — How are you?, polite/formal

Hear three groups: āp / kai-so / ho? The first addresses the other person respectfully; kaiso asks how; rising ho? keeps the line a question. Listen twice, then say the three groups once. Do not spell them yet.

The word, taken apart

āp kaiso ho is three inherited words: āp, "you", from Sanskrit ātman, "self" (CDIAL 1135); kaiso, "how", from kīdṛśa, "of what kind" (CDIAL 3197); and ho, "are", from bhavati, "is" (CDIAL 9416).

Your turn

Choose the right situation: asking a respected person how they are, or asking their name. Say āp kaiso ho? only for the first situation.

Before you move on

Say the three sound groups once, then stop.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 2.

7.2 आप कैसो हो? — the question your hand already knows

Write पाणी from memory, then write क. Hear āp kaiso ho?, give its meaning, and say the three groups back.

The word, taken apart

आप कैसो हो (āp kaiso ho) is three inherited words: āp, "you", from Sanskrit ātman, "self" (CDIAL 1135); kaiso, "how", from kīdṛśa, "of what kind" (CDIAL 3197); and ho, "are", from bhavati, "is" (CDIAL 9416).

Script — three known groups

आप | कैसो | हो?

No new sign appears. Read slowly: आ + प, then क + ै + स + ो, then ह + ो. The question mark preserves the rising social cue you heard first.

Your turn

Read the line once. Cover it for ten seconds, then write the three groups. Open the model and repair only the group that changed.

Before you move on

Read what you wrote once. Stop before learning the answer.

Chapter 8

Thik Hoon: Answer in Two New Signs

Modes: voice (2) eyes (1) pen (2) Hands-free start: the first of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can answer हूं ठीक हूं, then complete a polite wellbeing exchange in separately scored listening, speaking, reading, and writing tasks.
> A source-attested wellbeing answer whose only new written shapes are isolated before the complete four-skill exchange.

8.1 Hear hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃ — I am fine

> Write it: independent ई
> Say that mhāro means my, then ask āp kaiso ho? once from memory. Keep the page closed.

What to know first

> hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃ — I am fine

Hear three groups: hū̃ / ṭhīk / hū̃. The first and last groups match. Hold the ū and let the ending nasal colour it; do not add a separate final syllable. The middle begins with a curled-back, breathed ṭh. Say the line once. Its two unfamiliar written shapes come later.

The word, taken apart

In hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃, the first hū̃, "I", is listed by CDIAL as Old Marwari hũ under Sanskrit aham, "I" (CDIAL 992). ṭhīk, "fine, right", goes back to ṭhīkka*, "firm, right", which CDIAL says is probably from Sanskrit sthita, "standing" (CDIAL 5503). The second hū̃, "am", has no Marwari row in CDIAL, so its exact source is not settled.

Your turn

Hear the question, then answer hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃. Switch roles once. Keep this an ear-and-voice exercise.

Before you move on

Say the answer once without looking at any spelling.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 2.

8.2 ◌ू — hold the vowel below a known sign

Write कांई, then write म्हारो and point to the virāma. Say hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃, then write known ह once.

Script — one vowel mark

How it is written — one unbroken stroke · 3 movements

Stroke order after HP Labs India, Lipi Toolkit, Lipi Indic Character Recognizers 4.0, Devanagari recognizer, class 51 (ू uu sign): stored online-handwriting prototypes from native writers (MIT licence, 2012)
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ◌ू is written, stroke by stroke

This is the dependent long-ū sign. It hangs below and to the right of a consonant. Add it to known ह: ह + ◌ू = हू. Hold the vowel for one beat longer than a short u.

Your turn

Keep ◌ू visible. Finger-trace the mark once, copy it once, then add it to ह twice. Say hū after the hand stops.

Before you move on

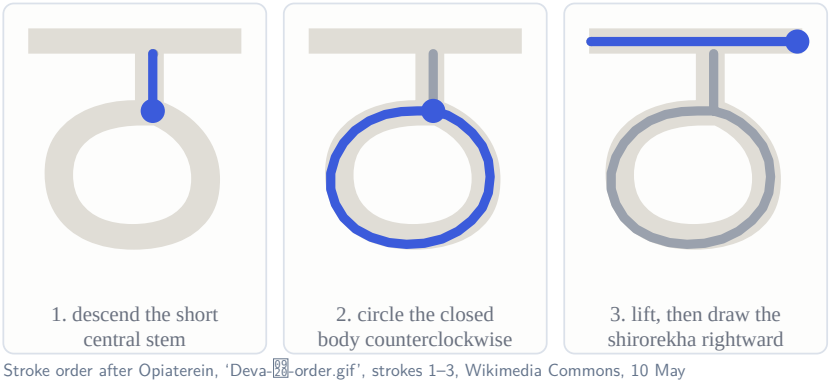

Cover the model and write हू once.

8.3 ठ — curl back, then release breath

Write रो and point to ◌ो. Write हू, then say the middle sound group ṭhīk without spelling it.

Script — one consonant

How it is written — 2 strokes · 1 pen lift · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-ठ-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ठ is written, stroke by stroke

ठ

Read ठ as ṭha. Curl the tongue tip back, release it, and let a small breath follow. Keep it distinct from dental थ, which your hand already knows.

Your turn

Keep ठ visible. Finger-trace once, copy once, then alternate ठ | थ while saying ṭha / tha.

Before you move on

Cover the model and write ठ once.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

8.4 हूं ठीक हूं. — two new signs complete the answer

Write म्हारो from memory. Say hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃, write ◌ू, and write ठ.

The word, taken apart

In हूं ठीक हूं (hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃), the first hū̃, "I", is listed by CDIAL as Old Marwari hũ under Sanskrit aham, "I" (CDIAL 992). ṭhīk, "fine, right", goes back to ṭhīkka*, "firm, right", which CDIAL says is probably from Sanskrit sthita, "standing" (CDIAL 5503). The second hū̃, "am", has no Marwari row in CDIAL, so its exact source is not settled.

Script — build three heard groups

Build हूं as ह + ◌ू + ◌ं. Build ठीक as ठ + ◌ी + क. Every sign except the two from the last lessons was already secure. The repeated first and last group make the line easier to hold in memory.

Your turn

1. Read हूं | ठीक | हूं once.
2. Cover it for ten seconds.
3. Write all three groups, then say the answer.

Before you move on

Read the answer once from your own handwriting.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 2.

8.5 Practice — ask how someone is and answer

Ask and answer one name. Then change the topic: ask how the other person is.

The exchange

आप कैसो हो?

The first line is polite/formal. The reply reports being fine. Other regions and relationships may choose another pronoun or question form; this chapter assesses the source-attested pair it has taught.

Your turn

1. Listen: hear one line and identify question or answer.
2. Speak: hear the question and answer without notes.
3. Read it: the printed question, then match it to its answer
4. Write it: the answer with no model, ten seconds after hearing it

Score all four separately. A correct reading does not replace missing writing; a correct written line does not replace the spoken reply.

Before you move on

Stop after one accurate exchange. Speed can wait.

Chapter 9

Pachhe Milsu: See You Later

Modes: voice (2) pen (5) Hands-free start: the first of 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can hear and say pāchhe milsū, write its four new units, and distinguish it from the common farewell राम राम सा in all four skills.
> A source-attested see-you-later line taught sound-first, written through four isolated units, and scored separately in all four skills.

9.1 Hear pāchhe milsū — see you later

Ask how someone is, answer hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃, then say राम राम सा once. Cover: the text

Then the new parting line begins.

What to know first

pāchhe milsū — see you later

Hear two groups: pā-chhe / mil-sū. The first points later/back; the second carries meeting again. Listen twice, say the two groups apart, then say them once together. Do not spell the line yet.

The word, taken apart

pāchhe milsū is two inherited words. pāchhe, "later, behind", matches Old Marwari pāchaï̃, "behind", which CDIAL lists under paśca*, "hinder part", drawn from Sanskrit paścāt (CDIAL 7990). milsū, "we will meet", is the future of a verb CDIAL lists as Old Marwari milaï, "meets", under Sanskrit milati (CDIAL 10133).

Your turn

Choose the cue that promises another meeting, not the cue that starts a conversation. Answer it with pāchhe milsū.

Before you move on

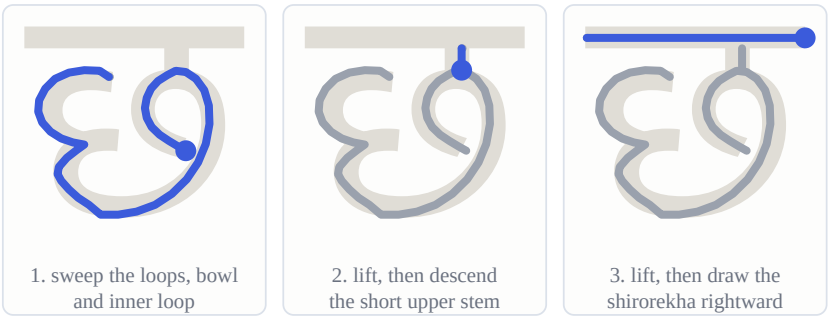

Say the two sound groups once, then stop.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 2.

9.2 छ — one aspirated consonant

Write नाम, say pāchhe once, then write known ठ. The new sign carries a different consonant and keeps the released breath.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

1. sweep the loops, bowl and inner loop
2. lift, then descend the short upper stem
3. lift, then draw the shirorekha rightward

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[illegible]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How छ is written, stroke by stroke

छ — chha

Keep the sign visible. Finger-trace the main body first and add the headline last. Say chha with a small breath after the consonant.

Your turn

Trace छ once, copy it once, then cover the model and write it once.

Before you move on

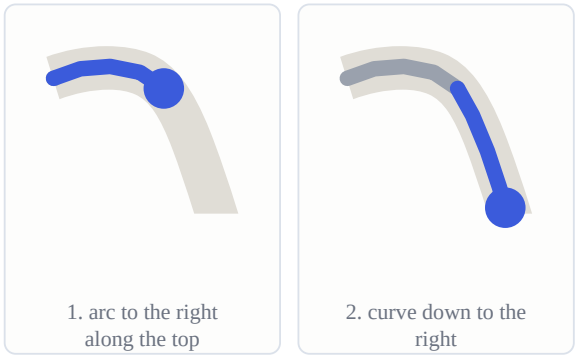

Write छ once from memory.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

9.3 े — attach e to a consonant

Complete mhāro nām Rām hai, write छ, then write known ं. Today's mark attaches above a consonant instead.

Script — one vowel mark

How it is written — one unbroken stroke · 2 movements

Stroke order after HP Labs India, Lipi Toolkit, Lipi Indic Character Recognizers 4.0, Devanagari recognizer, class 53 (े sign): stored online-handwriting prototypes from native writers (MIT licence, 2012)
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How े is written, stroke by stroke

े — dependent e

छ + े = छे — chhe

The mark cannot stand as the word's consonant. Add it above and to the right of छ; read the result chhe.

Your turn

Copy छे twice. Point to the consonant, then to the vowel mark.

Before you move on

Cover the model and write छे once.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

9.4 ि — written before, heard after

Write है, then known म and the long-$\bar{\imath}$ mark from णी. The new mark is short i and has a placement rule worth noticing.

Script — one vowel mark

ि — dependent short i

म + ि = मि — mi

The visible mark sits to the left of म, but the sound follows the consonant: read मि as mi, never im.

Build मि twice. Each time, point left-to-right on the page, then say the sounds in their spoken order: m-i.

Before you move on

Write मि once from memory.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

9.5 ल — the last new consonant

Write the full my-name statement, then ask and answer wellbeing once. Write मि and known न. Today adds only ल.

Script — one sign

How ल is written, stroke by stroke

ल — la

Keep the sign visible. Trace the open lower body before adding the headline. Say la once the hand stops.

Your turn

Copy ल once beside the model. Cover it, wait five seconds, and write it once.

Before you move on

Read ल once, then stop.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

9.6 पाछे मिलसू — assemble the two sound groups

Say thāro, then write हूं ठीक हूं and circle ठ. Say pāchhe / milsū, then write छे, मि, and ल separately.

Script — join only known units

पा | छे मि | ल | सू

पाछे मिलसू

Nothing new hides in the join. Read the two groups, then write them with one space between.

Your turn

Cover the romanization. Read पाछे मिलसू, cover the line, wait ten seconds, and write it once.

Before you move on

Point to the short-i mark and say why it appears before म on the page.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 2.

9.7 Practice — goodbye, with or without "later"

Write it: थ

Then say राम राम सा once as the common farewell.

What to know first

राम राम सा. — goodbye / farewell

पाछे मिलसू. — see you later

The second line explicitly points to meeting later. Other regions and relationships may choose another parting line; this payoff scores only the two source-attested choices it taught.

Your turn

1. Listen: hear one line and identify common farewell or see-you-later.
2. Speak: answer a later-meeting cue with pāchhe milsū.
3. Read it: both printed lines, then match them to their meanings
4. Write it: the line without a model, ten seconds after hearing pāchhe milsū

Score all four separately. A spoken line does not replace missing writing.

Before you move on

Stop after one accurate four-skill pass.

Chapter 10

Four Family Words: Meaning First, One New Sign

Modes: voice (7) eyes (2) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first of 10 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, say, read, and independently write four source-attested close-family labels after learning only one new Devanagari sign.
> Four close-family labels secured by ear before writing, with only ब added and every skill scored separately.

10.1 Hear mā̃ — mother

> Say the line that promises another meeting and give its two meaning parts. Write it: े and the known word थारो, once

What to know first

> mā̃ — mother

Listen twice. The vowel is long and the ending is nasal. Say the whole word once; do not spell it yet. Families and the names people use for relatives vary, so this lesson teaches one source-attested everyday label, not one family model.

The word, taken apart

mā̃ is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mātṛ, "mother". CDIAL lists Old Marwari mā under it (CDIAL 10016).

Your turn

Say mother when you hear mā̃, then say the word once from the meaning alone.

Before you move on

Say mā̃ once, then stop.
Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4 and Society for Endangered Languages, Marwari Swadesh list.

10.2 मां — a new word from known signs

Say mā̃ from its meaning. Write म, ◌ा, and ◌ं; then write किं and say the known question word kāĩ.

What to know first

म + ◌ा + ◌ं → मां — mā̃ — mother

Nothing on the page is new. Join three earned units and read the complete word.

The word, taken apart

मां (mā̃) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mātṛ, "mother". CDIAL lists Old Marwari mā under it (CDIAL 10016). It is the same ancient word as English mother.

Your turn

Look at मां for five seconds. Cover it, wait five seconds, then write the word once. Uncover and compare the long-vowel sign and nasal mark separately.

Before you move on

Read and write मां once without romanization.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

10.3 Hear bāp — father

Say mother. Write it: the word for mother

Then say water. Write it: familiar ल and क, once each

What to know first

bāp — father

Hear one long middle vowel: bāp. Say the word once without looking for its spelling. A respectful form such as bāpūjī can come later; this step keeps one meaning and one sound small.

The word, taken apart

bāp is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bāppa*, "father", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9209); the match is through Hindi bāp and Gujarati bāp. CDIAL counts it among the nursery words.

Your turn

Hear mã̃ and bāp in either order. Say mother or father, then say only the word you heard.

Before you move on

Say mã̃ and bāp once each, then stop.
Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4 and SIL International, Marwari–English Dictionary archive.

10.4 ब — one new consonant

Say father and mother from meaning cues. Write पाछे मिलसू once, then familiar प; today's voiced sound gets a different sign.

Script — one sign

How ब is written, stroke by stroke

ब — ba

Keep the model visible. Trace the lower turn, rise to the upright, and add the headline. Say ba after the hand stops.

Your turn

Copy ब once. Cover it, wait five seconds, and write it once. Then say the family word bāp that this sign will begin.

Before you move on

Read ब once, then stop.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

10.5 बाप — father on the page

Write it: ब, ◌ा, and प separately

Say mother and father. Write it: कांई

Then give the earlier see-you-later four-skill response once.

What to know first

ब + ◌ा + प → बाप — bāp — father

Only the first sign is newly learned. Read it: the whole word without romanization

The word, taken apart

बाप (bāp) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bāppa*, "father", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9209); the match is through Hindi bāp and Gujarati bāp. CDIAL counts it among the nursery words.

Your turn

Cover: बाप after a five-second look, then wait five seconds
Write it: the word — check that ब did not turn into प

Before you move on

Read it: मां — बाप once, then stop
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

10.6 Hear bhāī̄ — brother

Say mother. Write it: the word for father

Ask and answer the known name exchange, then recall the formal gratitude word that begins with breathy bh.

What to know first

bhāī̄ — brother

Hear two long vowel parts: bhā-ī̄. Say them smoothly once. The first consonant matches the familiar start of ābhār; spelling waits for the next step.

The word, taken apart

bhāī is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bhrātṛ, "brother". CDIAL lists Marwari bhāī under it (CDIAL 9661). English brother is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Distinguish bāp from bhāī by meaning and by the breath after bh. Answer a brother cue with bhāī once.

Before you move on

Say bhāī once, then stop.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

10.7 भाई — brother from familiar units

Write भ, ◌ा, and independent ई. Say mother, then ask the known polite wellbeing question with āp and kaiso.

What to know first

भ + ◌ा + ई → भाई — bhāī — brother

The written pieces are old; only their family meaning is new.

The word, taken apart

भाई (bhāī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bhrātṛ, "brother". CDIAL lists Marwari bhāī under it (CDIAL 9661). English brother is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at भाई, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it once. Read the word without romanization and give its meaning.

Before you move on

Read भाई once, then stop.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

10.8 Hear bahan — sister

Say father and brother. Write it: the known wellbeing question once, then ब

Keep the next new word oral for now.

What to know first

bahan — sister

Hear two small parts: ba-han. Say the whole word once. A familiar alternative such as dīdī may be used in some relationships; this lesson scores only the source form bahan.

The word, taken apart

bahan is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bhaginī, "sister". CDIAL lists Old Marwari bahaṇa under it (CDIAL 9349). CDIAL notes that the move of the breathy h from the first sound to the middle of the word is hard to explain.

Your turn

Hear bhāī or bahan. Say brother or sister, then repeat the heard word.

Before you move on

Say bhāī — bahan once, then stop.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

10.9 बहन — sister on the page

Write it: ब, ह, and न separately

Say brother, then give the heard wellbeing answer with hū̃ and ṭhīk.

What to know first

ब + ह + न → बहन — bahan — sister

All three signs are earned. Read it: the word as two sound groups — ba-han

The word, taken apart

बहन (bahan) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bhaginī, "sister". CDIAL lists Old Marwari bahaṇa under it (CDIAL 9349). CDIAL notes that the move of the breathy h from the first sound to the middle of the word is hard to explain.

Your turn

Hear bahan and wait five seconds. Write it: बहन without a visible model — check the middle ह rather than guessing from the meaning

Before you move on

Read it: बहन — भाई once, then stop
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

10.10 Checkpoint — four close-family words

Write it: ◌ू once

Say its long vowel. Cover: the earlier page

What to know first

मां — बाप — भाई — बहन

The four labels name relationships; they do not prescribe one family structure.

Your turn

1. Listen: identify all four heard labels.
2. Speak: produce two different labels from meanings.
3. Read it: all four printed words and match them
4. Write it: two heard labels without a model

Score each skill separately.

Before you move on

Stop after one independently accurate pass.

Chapter 11

Grandparents and Family: Two New Signs

Modes: voice (8) eyes (2) pen (2) Hands-free start: the first of 12 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add paternal grandfather, paternal grandmother, and family to the earlier four-word map while keeping regional and household variation explicit.
> Three more family labels secured by ear before writing, with only द and व added one sign at a time before the seven-word map.

11.1 Hear dādā — paternal grandfather

> Recall the four-word family checkpoint and say the known word for name. Write it: familiar ठ once

What to know first

> dādā — paternal grandfather

Hear the same long beat twice: dā-dā. Say it once. This chapter follows the source's dādā form; other documented Marwari materials also record dādo. That variation is real and is not an error to erase. Writing waits one step.

The word, taken apart

dādā goes back to dādda*, "father or elderly relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs. It gives no Marwari form; the match is through Hindi dādā (CDIAL 6261).

Your turn

Choose among brother, sister, and paternal grandfather from three heard words. Repeat only dādā.

Before you move on

Say dā-dā once, then stop.
Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4 and Marwari Pathshala, D glossary.

11.2 द — one sign for both beats

Write brother, then the known wellbeing answer. Say paternal grandfather and sister; keep dādā oral until the new sign appears.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 2 strokes · 1 pen lift · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-द-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 8 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How द is written, stroke by stroke

द — da

Keep the model visible. Trace the curved lower body, return to the upright, and add the headline. Say da after the pen stops.

Your turn

Copy द once. Cover it, wait five seconds, and write it twice with a small space: द द. Say dā-dā without assembling the word yet.

Before you move on

Read द once, then stop.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

11.3 दादा — the repeated word

Ask and answer wellbeing once. Write द and familiar ◌ा, then say sister from memory.

What to know first

दा + दा → दादा — dādā — paternal grandfather

The spelling repeats exactly what the ear heard: two matching long beats.

The word, taken apart

दादा (dādā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dādda*, "father or other elderly relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6261); the match is through Hindi dādā.

Your turn

Look at दादा, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it once. Point to both copies of ◌ा before reading the whole word.

Before you move on

Read दादा once, then stop.
Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4 and Marwari Pathshala, D glossary.

11.4 Hear dādī — paternal grandmother

Say paternal grandfather and sister. Write it: both words

Then give the known see-you-later line and its two meaning parts.

What to know first

dādī — paternal grandmother

The first beat matches dādā. The last vowel changes: dā-dī. Hear the pair dādā — dādī, then say only dādī.

The word, taken apart

dādī is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dādda*, "father or other elderly relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6261); the match is through Hindi dādī and Gujarati dādī. It is the feminine of dādā.

Your turn

Hear either dādā or dādī. Identify paternal grandfather or paternal grandmother before repeating the word.

Before you move on

Say dādā — dādī once, then stop.
Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4 and Marwari Pathshala, D glossary.

11.5 दादी — change the final vowel

Recall the four-word family checkpoint. Write it: छ, then दा and दी

Say sister once.

What to know first

दा + दी → दादी — dādī — paternal grandmother

Compare दादा and दादी. Only the final vowel sign changes.

The word, taken apart

दादी (dādī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dādda*, "father or other elderly relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6261); the match is through Hindi dādī and Gujarati dādī. It is the feminine of dādā.

Your turn

Hear dādā or dādī. Write it: the matching word without a model, then check the final vowel sign

Before you move on

Read it: दादा — दादी once, then stop
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

11.6 Hear parivār — family

Say paternal grandfather and sister. Write it: the word for paternal grandmother, then े once

What to know first

parivār — family

Hear three small groups: pa-ri-vār. Say them smoothly once. The word names a family group; it does not require every family to have the same members.

The word, taken apart

parivār is Sanskrit parivāra, "cover, surroundings; followers", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 7876). The sense "family" grew from "followers".

Your turn

Hear one group word and two relation words. Identify parivār as family, then say it once from the meaning alone.

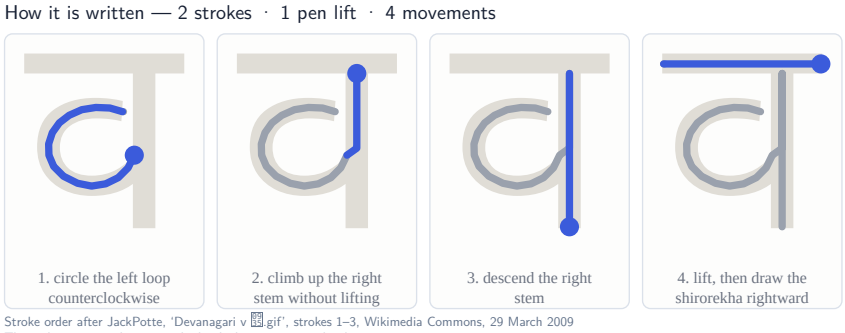

Before you move on

Say parivār once, then stop.

11.7 व — the middle of family

Say family and paternal grandmother. Write द and ि once.

Script — one sign

How व is written, stroke by stroke

व — va

Keep the model visible. Trace the rounded lower body, rise to the upright, and finish with the headline. Say va after the hand stops.

Your turn

Copy व once. Cover it, wait five seconds, and write it once. Say the middle sound group vār from parivār.

Before you move on

Read व once, then stop.
Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

11.8 परिवार — family on the page

Write प, रि, व, and ◌ार as four small units. Write paternal grandfather and ल, then say paternal grandmother.

What to know first

प + रि + वा + र → परिवार — parivār — family

Remember that ◌ि is written before र but read after it: ri.

The word, taken apart

परिवार (parivār) is Sanskrit parivāra, "cover, surroundings; followers", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 7876). The sense "family" grew from "followers".

Your turn

Look at परिवार, cover it, wait eight seconds, and write the four chunks. Uncover and check रि and व separately.

Before you move on

Read परिवार once without romanization.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

11.9 Retrieve three family words

Say family. Write it: the word for family, then ब and the known पाछे मिलसू once

Your turn

1. Listen: identify mā̃, bāp, or dādī from sound alone.
2. Speak: say the word from one relation cue.
3. Read it: मां, बाप, and दादी, then match them to their meanings
4. Write it: one heard word without a model

Before you move on

Stop after one accurate pass.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

11.10 Build the seven-word family map

Say paternal grandmother. Write it: the word for paternal grandmother

Then complete the earlier four-skill see-you-later response once.

Your turn

Read it: four cards, placing each under its cue — भाई, बहन, दादा, and परिवार
Read it: each card again, then turn it over
Write it: only the one named aloud

Before you move on

Stop after one accurate map.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

11.11 Payoff — seven family labels in four skills

Read it: the seven-word line once

Cover: the line before the scored pass

What to know first

मां — बाप — भाई — बहन — दादा — दादी — परिवार

These are labels for understanding and describing relationships, not a required family structure. Regional and household choices remain valid when documented.

Your turn

1. Listen: identify four randomly heard labels.
2. Speak: produce four different labels from relation cues.
3. Read it: all seven printed words and match them to meanings
4. Write it: three heard labels without a model

Score all four skills separately. A perfect spoken map does not replace missing reading or writing.

Before you move on

Stop after one independently accurate pass.

archive.

11.12 Close the chapter — three new signs

Name the family group. Write it: मां

Recall one successful part of the four-skill family check.

Your turn

Write it: ब, द, and व from spoken sign names — circle only the sign that stalled, reopen its one-sign lesson, then try that sign once more

Before you move on

Stop after the three signs are accurate.

Chapter 12

Maternal Grandparents and Husband: One New Sign

Modes: voice (7) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first 5 of 8 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add maternal grandfather, maternal grandmother, and husband to the family map after learning only one new Devanagari sign.
> Three source-attested relationship labels begin by ear, reuse the established script except for त, and finish in four separately scored skills.

12.1 Hear nānā — maternal grandfather

Say the paternal-grandfather word. Write it: परिवार

Then recall the seven-word family map. Today one matching two-beat word changes only the family side.

What to know first

nā-nā — maternal grandfather

Listen twice. Say it once. Keep dādā and nānā tied to their meanings before writing enters.

The word, taken apart

nānā is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nānna*, "term of respect for an older relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7059); the match is through Hindi nānā. CDIAL compares Vedic nanā, "mother".

Before you move on

Say nānā once without seeing its spelling.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

12.2 नाना — one known unit twice

Say nānā. Write it: familiar न and ◌ा

What to know first

ना + ना → नाना — nānā — maternal grandfather

The word, taken apart

नाना (nānā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nānna*, "term of respect for an older relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7059); the match is through Hindi nānā. CDIAL compares Vedic nanā, "mother".

Your turn

Cover: the word after a five-second look
Write it: the word
Then label दादा and नाना orally without ranking either side of the family.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

12.3 Hear nānī — maternal grandmother

Say nānā. Write it: बाप

Then say the known paternal-grandmother word. Listen for the final long ī in the new word.

What to know first

nānī — maternal grandmother

The word, taken apart

nānī is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nānna*, "term of respect for an older relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7059); the match is through Hindi nānī. It is the feminine of nānā.

Before you move on

Say nānī once. Writing waits for the next step.
Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

12.4 नानी — change only the final vowel

Write it: नाना, then familiar ी separately

Then recall the seven-label four-skill payoff.

What to know first

ना + नी → नानी — nānī — maternal grandmother

The word, taken apart

नानी (nānī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nānna*, "term of respect for an older relative", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7059); the match is through Hindi nānī. It is the feminine of nānā.

Your turn

Cover: नानी, then wait five seconds
Write it: the word, and circle only the final ी

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

12.5 Hear pati — husband

Say the two maternal-grandparent labels. Write it: नानी, then familiar र and भाई from sound cues

What to know first

pati — husband

This is a relationship label, not a required household pattern. Say the two short beats. The spelling waits until its new consonant has its own lesson.

The word, taken apart

pati is Sanskrit pati, "master, husband", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 7727).

Before you move on

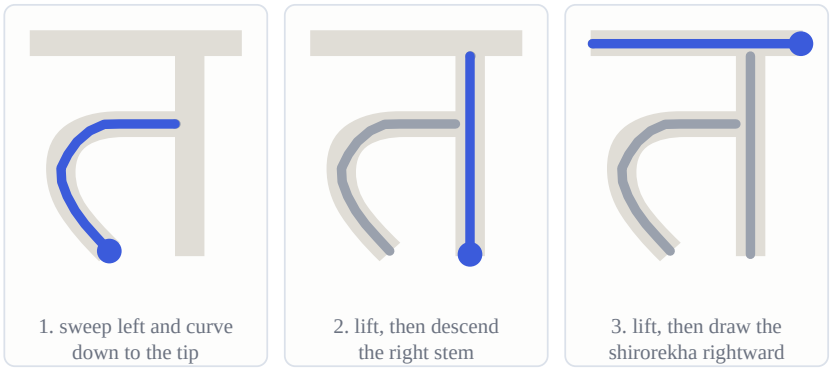

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

12.6 त — a quiet dental stop

Say pati. Write known ठ and थ once; today's unaspirated dental sound gets its own sign.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-त-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How त is written, stroke by stroke

त — ta

Your turn

Trace once with the model visible, copy once, cover it, and write it once.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

12.7 पति — husband on the page

Say husband and maternal grandfather. Write it: प, त, ि, राम, and बहन — point to म inside राम

What to know first

प + ति → पति — pati — husband

The word, taken apart

पति (pati) is Sanskrit pati, "master, husband", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 7727).

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: पति — check that ि appears before त on the page but is read after it

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

12.8 Checkpoint — three more relationship labels

Say mother and father. Write it: both words, then स

Recall the earlier four-label payoff before extending the map.

Your turn

1. Hear and identify all three labels.
2. Produce each from a meaning cue.
3. Read it: नाना — नानी — पति
4. Cover: the line
5. Write it: all three

Before you move on

Chapter 13

Wife and Child: One New Sign

> By the end of this chapter: I can add wife and child to a twelve-label family map while recognizing that the source records an alternative wife label.
> Wife and child begin by ear, add only च, and join the earlier labels in a non-compensatory four-skill payoff.

13.1 Hear patnī — wife

Say husband and maternal grandmother. Write it: सा

Then recall the last three-word four-skill checkpoint.

What to know first

patnī — wife

The same source also gives bāī sā. That documented alternative is not an error; this step secures one form at a time. Writing still waits.

The word, taken apart

patnī is Sanskrit patnī, "mistress, wife", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 7742).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

13.2 पत्नी — known signs, one careful join

Say patnī. Write it: पति, ◌्, न, and ◌ी separately; then नानी

Then say the respectful राम राम सा greeting.

What to know first

प + त् + नी → पत्नी — patnī — wife

The word, taken apart

पत्नी (patnī) is Sanskrit patnī, "mistress, wife", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 7742).

Your turn

Write it: one copy of पत्नी; then cover it, wait five seconds, and write it again — check the virama join before checking the final long-ī sign

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

13.3 Hear bachchā — child

Say wife, husband, and maternal grandfather, and complete the familiar greeting exchange. Write it: दादा

What to know first

bachchā — child

Hear the held middle consonant. The label does not specify a child's gender; writing waits until the new consonant has a separate, small step.

The word, taken apart

bachchā is a loan, usually traced to Persian bačča, "child". CDIAL lists a native cousin under Sanskrit vatsa, "calf, child": Hindi bāchā, "calf" (CDIAL 11239).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

13.4 च — unaspirated beside familiar छ

Say child and wife. Write familiar छ and independent आ; today's sound has no following breath.

Script — one sign

How च is written, stroke by stroke

च — cha

Your turn

Trace once, copy once, cover the model, and write it once from sound.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

13.5 बच्चा — child on the page

Say child and wife. Write it: ब, च, ◌्, ◌ा, familiar भ, then पत्नी and दादी from memory

What to know first

ब + च् + चा → बच्चा — bachchā — child

The word, taken apart

बच्चा (bachchā) is a loan, usually traced to Persian bačča, "child". CDIAL lists a native cousin under Sanskrit vatsa, "calf, child": Hindi bāchā, "calf" (CDIAL 11239).

Your turn

Write it: one copy of बच्चा; then cover it, wait five seconds, and write it again — check the doubled middle before checking the final vowel mark

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

13.6 Retrieve the five new relationship labels

Write it: त, च, and आभार

Give the gratitude meaning, then recall the earlier three-word payoff.

Your turn

Hear all five in a mixed order, and say each from meaning. Read it: the five cards

Write it: the two cards named aloud

Repair only a missed word.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

13.7 Payoff — a twelve-label family map

Recall the seven-label and three-label checkpoints, then give the formal gratitude response. These are vocabulary options, not a prescribed family structure.

Your turn

1. Listen: identify six randomly heard labels.
2. Speak: produce six different labels from relationship cues.
3. Read it: all twelve printed labels and match them to meanings
4. Write it: four heard labels without a model

Score each skill separately. A strong spoken score cannot compensate for a missed reading or writing score.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 4.

13.8 Close the chapter — two signs, two words

Write it: earlier द, व, ह, and परिवार

Then name the four skills in the twelve-label payoff.

Your turn

Write it: त, च, पत्नी, and बच्चा, from sound alone — check each new sign before checking the complete word

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 14

Three Useful Places: Two New Signs

Modes: voice (7) pen (2) Hands-free start: the first of 9 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, say, read, and write market, home, and temple after learning only ज and घ.
> Three source-attested destinations begin by ear, add two signs separately, and finish in four scored skills without pretending the location question is taught.

14.1 Hear bājār — market

Recall the twelve-label payoff and say family once.

What to know first

bājār — market

Hear the two long vowels and say the destination. Its new middle consonant stays off the page until the next lesson.

The word, taken apart

bājār is a loan, usually traced to Persian bāzār, "market". Marwadi says the z as j.

Before you move on

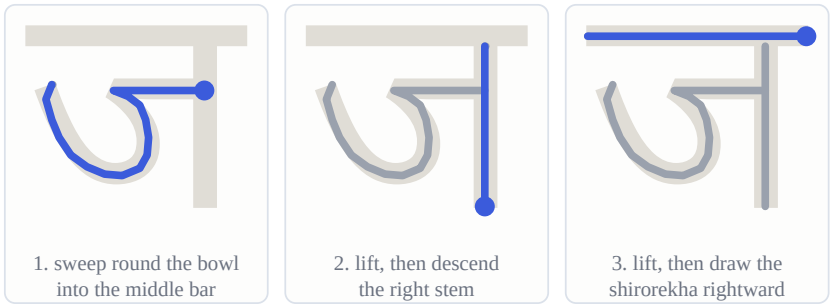

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

14.2 ज — the middle of market

Say market and polite yes, write हां, बच्चा, and familiar च once.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-ज-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

ज — ja

Your turn

Trace once, copy once, cover the model, and write ज from sound.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

14.3 बाजार — market on the page

Say market and child. Give polite yes and recall the seven-label payoff. Write it: ब, ज, ◌ा, and र

What to know first

बा + जार → बाजार — bājār — market

The word, taken apart

बाजार (bājār) is a loan, usually traced to Persian bāzār, "market". Marwadi says the z as j.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: the word — check both long-vowel marks

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

14.4 Hear ghar — home

Say market. Write it: the word for market

Then recall the polite-yes and twelve-label four-skill payoffs.

What to know first

ghar — home; house

Say the single beat with breath after the first sound. Writing waits one step.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Marwari ghar under ghara-, "house", a word already in early Middle Indo-Aryan (CDIAL 4428). It is usually taken as a popular form of Sanskrit gṛha, "house", but CDIAL calls that link phonetically difficult, so the origin is not fully settled.

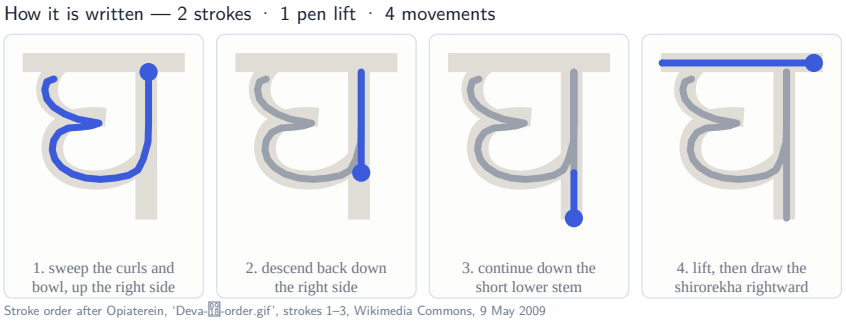

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

14.5 घ — home begins here

Say home, water, and maternal grandfather, then write familiar ह and new-earlier ज.

Script — one sign

How घ is written, stroke by stroke

घ — gha

Your turn

Trace once, copy once, cover the model, and write घ from sound.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

14.6 घर — home on the page

Say home and market. Write it: घ, र, बाजार, and नाना

What to know first

घ + र → घर — ghar — home; house

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Marwari घर (ghar) under ghara-, "house", a word already in early Middle Indo-Aryan (CDIAL 4428). It is usually taken as a popular form of Sanskrit gṛha, "house", but CDIAL calls that link phonetically difficult, so the origin is not fully settled.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: the one-beat word

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

14.7 Hear mandir — temple

Say home, market, and maternal grandmother. Write it: ज and retroflex ण

What to know first

mandir — temple

Say the three short sound groups. The complete spelling uses only earned signs, but meaning stays first.

The word, taken apart

mandir is Sanskrit mandira, "dwelling, camp, town, temple", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 9852).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

14.8 मंदिर — a new place from known signs

Say temple. Write it: म, ं, द, ि, र, ी, then घर and नानी

What to know first

मं + दि + र → मंदिर — mandir — temple

The word, taken apart

मंदिर (mandir) is Sanskrit mandira, "dwelling, camp, town, temple", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 9852).

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: the word — check the nasal mark and the short-i position separately

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

14.9 Checkpoint — three useful places

Say wife, child, and husband. Write it: पाणी, before changing domains

Your turn

Hear and identify all three places, and say each from a cue. Read it: the three cards, then cover them

Write it: all three

Score each skill separately.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

Chapter 15

Hand and Money: No New Signs

Modes: voice (7) Hands-free start: all 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add hand and money to the three-place map in listening, speaking, reading, and writing without learning another sign.
> Hand and money arrive by ear, reuse the complete script inventory, and join the three places in a non-compensatory four-skill payoff.

15.1 Hear hāth — hand

> Recall the three-place and water four-skill payoffs, then say home.

What to know first

> hāth — hand

The source uses this word in right-hand and left-hand direction cues. Say the one long beat. Writing waits even though every sign is familiar.

The word, taken apart

hāth is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from hasta, "hand". CDIAL lists Marwari hāth under it (CDIAL 14024).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

15.2 हाथ — hand on the page

Say hand and my. Write it: ह, ◌ा, थ, घर, and पति

What to know first

हा + थ → हाथ — hāth — hand

The word, taken apart

हाथ (hāth) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from hasta, "hand". CDIAL lists Marwari hāth under it (CDIAL 14024).

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: the word

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

15.3 Hear paisā — money

Say hand and market. Write it: virama ◌्

Then recall the ten-label four-skill checkpoint.

What to know first

paisā — money

The source uses this word when asking travel cost. Hear the opening pai and say the whole word. Writing waits until the next step.

The word, taken apart

paisā is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from padāṃśa*, "quarter part", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7761); the match is through Hindi paisā. CDIAL treats it as a Hindi word that spread to the neighbouring languages; it first named a quarter of an anna.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

15.4 पैसा — money on the page

Say money, hand, and wife. Write it: प, ै, स, ा, ो, then हाथ

What to know first

पै + सा → पैसा — paisā — money

The word, taken apart

पैसा (paisā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from padāṃśa*, "quarter part", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7761); the match is through Hindi paisā. Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: the word — check ै before ा

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

15.5 Retrieve five direction and travel words

Write it: ज, घ, म्हारो, and पत्नी

Then recall the three-place payoff.

Your turn

Hear all five in mixed order, and say each from meaning. Read it: the five cards

Write it: the two named aloud

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

15.6 Payoff — five travel words in four skills

Recall the three-place checkpoint, then say name and child before adding hand and money.

Your turn

1. Identify five heard words.
2. Produce five words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: five printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: three heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 5.

15.7 Close the chapter — two new signs

Write it: earlier त, च, न, and हाथ

Then name the four scored skills.

Your turn

Write it: ज, घ, बाजार, and घर, from sound alone

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 16

Wind, Cloud, and Rain: No New Signs

Modes: voice (9) Hands-free start: all 9 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, say, read, and write wind, cloud, and rain using only signs already secured in earlier chapters.
> Three source-attested weather nouns begin by ear, reuse the established script inventory, and finish in four separately scored skills without claiming a weather conversation is complete.

16.1 Hear havā — wind

> Recall the five-word travel payoff and say home. Write it: नाम, पत्नी, and बाजार

What to know first

> havā — wind

Listen once, then say the two light beats. Keep the meaning in your ear; the spelling waits for the next lesson even though every sign is already familiar.

The word, taken apart

havā is a loan from Arabic hawāʾ, "air", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is h-w-y (Lane).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.2 हवा — wind on the page

Say wind and money. Write it: घर, then form ह, व, and ◌ा once

What to know first

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: हवा
No new sign has been added.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.3 Hear bādal — cloud

Say wind. Write it: the word for wind

Then recall temple, hand, maternal grandmother, and the ◌ै mark in है.

What to know first

bādal — cloud; clouds

Hear the long first vowel. Say the sky word once without looking at any script.

The word, taken apart

bādal is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vārdala, “rainy day, bad weather”. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 11567); the match is through Hindi bādal.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.4 बादल — cloud on the page

Say cloud, wind, and market. Write it: नाना and the known my-name line ending in है

Then recall ब, ◌ा, द, and ल.

What to know first

बा + दल → बादल — bādal — cloud

The word, taken apart

बादल (bādal) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vārdala, “rainy day, bad weather”. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 11567); the match is through Hindi bādal.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: the two chunks — check that only the first syllable carries ◌ा

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.5 Hear barsāt — rain

Say cloud and wind. Write it: both words

Contrast thāro with mhāro, then recall husband. Write it: the word for money

What to know first

barsāt — rain; rainfall

Listen for the long final vowel. Say the weather word once from a rain cue.

The word, taken apart

barsāt is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from varṣārātri, "the rainy season". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 11398); the match is through Hindi barsāt. CDIAL also allows a blend with varṣartu, "rainy season". It is built on varṣā, "rain", and rātri, "night".

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.6 बरसात — rain on the page

Say rain and wind, and recall the travel payoff. Write it: थ, then form ब, र, स, ◌ा, and त

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: बरसात — check that ◌ा sits only in the final chunk

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.7 Retrieve wind, cloud, and rain

Write it: घ, ज, बच्चा, and थारो

Then say wife.

Your turn

Hear the three words in mixed order and say each from its meaning. Read it: three printed cards and match them
Write it: all three from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.8 Payoff — three weather words in four skills

Say market and home. Write it: both words

Recall the twelve-label family payoff, then give the meanings of kāĩ and hai from the known name exchange.

Your turn

1. Identify three heard words.
2. Produce three words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: three printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all three heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

16.9 Close the weather loop

Write it: घ, ज, थ, and क

Then name the four weather-payoff skills you just passed.

Your turn

Without a model, hear one word and say its meaning. Read it: the other two in mixed order

Write it: all three from meaning cues

Chapter 17

Weather, Heat, and Cold: Three New Signs

Modes: voice (10) pen (3) Hands-free start: the first of 13 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add weather, heat, and cold to the earlier wind-cloud-rain map after learning only the au mark, ग, and ड.
> Three more source-attested weather words begin by ear, add three signs one at a time, and join the earlier map in four separately scored skills without claiming a complete weather exchange.

17.1 Hear mausam — weather

> Recall wind, cloud, and rain in four skills. Write it: ई, कांई, and घर

What to know first

> mausam — weather

Listen for the au sound. Say the general word once; its new vowel mark stays off the page until the next lesson.

The word, taken apart

mausam is a loan from Arabic mawsim, "season, festival time", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is w-s-m (Lane). The sense "weather" grew from "season".

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.2 ◌ौ — the au mark in weather

Say weather and temple, write म, बरसात, and कांई, then contrast familiar ◌ै and ◌ो.

Script — one sign

◌ौ — au after a consonant

Your turn

Trace ◌ौ on म once, copy मौ once, cover it, and write मौ from sound.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

17.3 मौसम — weather on the page

Ask and answer the known name exchange, and say weather and wind. Write it: मंदिर, बादल, and थारो, then form मौ and स

What to know first

मौ + सम → मौसम — mausam — weather

The word, taken apart

मौसम (mausam) is a loan from Arabic mawsim, "season, festival time", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is w-s-m (Lane). The sense "weather" grew from "season".

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: मौसम — check the first-syllable vowel mark

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.4 Hear garmī — heat

Say weather. Write it: the word for weather

Recall rain and the three-place payoff, and ask āp kaiso ho? Write it: the है ending from the known name line

What to know first

garmī — heat; hot weather

The source also groups this word with summer. Keep the narrow heat meaning for now; the season contrast comes later.

The word, taken apart

garmī is a loan, usually traced to Persian garmī, "heat". It is built on Persian garm, "warm, hot".

Before you move on

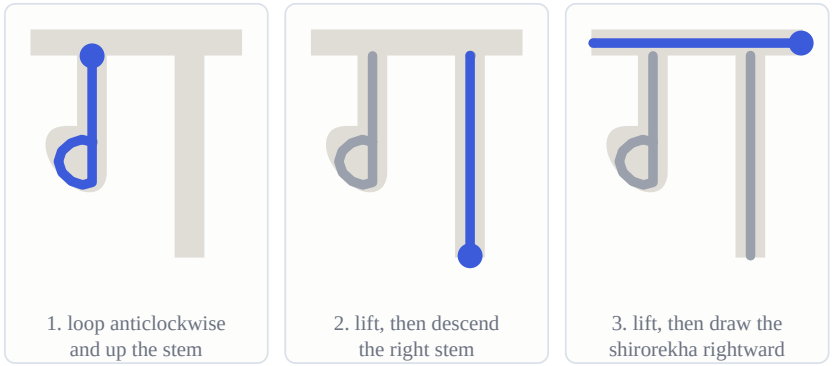

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.5 ग — the start of heat

Say heat, weather, and hand; write आप कैसो हो?, घ, मौ, and म्हारो.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[69][17]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 9 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ग is written, stroke by stroke

ग — ga

Compare ग with aspirated घ; this word begins with the unaspirated sign.

Your turn

Trace once, copy once, cover the model, and write ग from sound.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

17.6 गर्मी — heat on the page

Say heat, weather, wind, and the known fine answer. Write it: हाथ and मौसम, then form ग, र्, म, and **ी

What to know first

गर् + मी → गर्मी — garmī — heat

The word, taken apart

गर्मी (garmī) is a loan, usually traced to Persian garmī, "heat". It is built on Persian garm, "warm, hot".

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: गर्मी — check the virama under र and long ी after म

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.7 Retrieve weather and heat

Say money. Write it: मौ, ग, बादल, है, and ू

Your turn

Hear the two words in mixed order and give each meaning. Read it: both cards
Write it: both from sound

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7; Unicode Devanagari chart.

17.8 Hear ṭhaṇḍī — cold

Say weather and heat. Write it: both words

Recall cloud. Write it: the words for rain and money

What to know first

ṭhaṇḍī — cold; cold weather

The source also groups this form with winter. Keep the narrow cold meaning for now and contrast it with heat.

The word, taken apart

ṭhaṇḍī is built on ṭhaṇḍ, "cold". CDIAL lists Hindi ṭhaṇḍā and ṭhaṇḍh, "cold", under a reconstructed ṭhaṇḍha*, which it sets under Sanskrit stabdha, "stiff, solidified", tracing the sense from "firm" through "sluggish" to "cold" (CDIAL 13676); it gives no Marwari form. DEDR compares Dravidian words for "cool", such as Tamil taṇ (DEDR 3045).

Before you move on

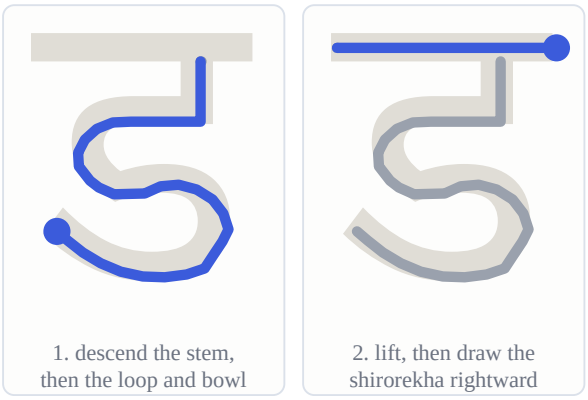

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.9 ड — the middle of cold

Say cold, heat, and the known wellbeing answer; write हूं ठीक हूं, then द, ठ, ग, and हवा.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 2 strokes · 1 pen lift · 2 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-21-order.gif', strokes 1–2, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ड is written, stroke by stroke

ड — ḍa, with the tongue curled back

Keep ड distinct from dental द.

Your turn

Trace once, copy once, cover the model, and write ड from sound.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

17.10 ठंडी — cold on the page

Perform the known wellbeing exchange and travel payoff, and say cold, heat, and weather. Write it: गर्मी, then form ठ, ं, ड, and ी

What to know first

ठं + डी → ठंडी — ṭhaṇḍī — cold

The word, taken apart

ठंडी (ṭhaṇḍī) is built on ṭhaṇḍ, "cold". CDIAL lists Hindi ṭhaṇḍā and ṭhaṇḍh, "cold", under a reconstructed ṭhaṇḍha*, which it sets under Sanskrit stabdha, "stiff, solidified", tracing the sense from "firm" through "sluggish" to "cold" (CDIAL 13676); it gives no Marwari form. DEDR compares Dravidian words for "cool", such as Tamil taṇ (DEDR 3045).

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: ठंडी — check the nasal mark and keep ड distinct from द

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.11 Retrieve weather, heat, and cold

Say the known see-you-later line. Write it: मौ, ग, ड, and बरसात

Your turn

Hear the three words in mixed order and give each meaning. Read it: three cards

Write it: all three from sound

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7; Unicode Devanagari chart.

17.12 Payoff — six weather words in four skills

Write it: छ

Then recall the earlier wind-cloud-rain payoff before adding three words.

Your turn

1. Identify six heard words.
2. Produce six words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: six printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: three heard words from each half without a model

Pass each skill separately.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 7.

17.13 Close the chapter — three new signs

Write it: ज, घ, ◌े, and हवा

Then name the four weather-payoff skills.

Your turn

Write it: मौ, ग, ड, then मौसम, गर्मी, and ठंडी, from sound alone
Give each word's meaning.

Before you move on

Chapter 18

Shop, Item, and Price: One New Vowel Mark

Modes: voice (9) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first of 10 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, say, read, and write shop, item, and price after learning only the short-u vowel mark.
> Three source-attested shopping words begin by ear, add one vowel mark, and finish in four separately scored skills without claiming a complete buying exchange.

18.1 Hear dukān — shop

> Recall the six-word weather payoff and say market. Write it: मौसम, गर्मी, and ठंडी, then form ि once

What to know first

> dukān — shop

Hear the two beats and say the word once from a shop cue. Keep the sound and meaning together; the unfamiliar vowel mark waits for the next lesson.

The word, taken apart

dukān is a loan from Arabic dukkān, "shop", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is d-k-n (Lane), though Lane notes that some take the Arabic word itself from Persian.

Before you move on

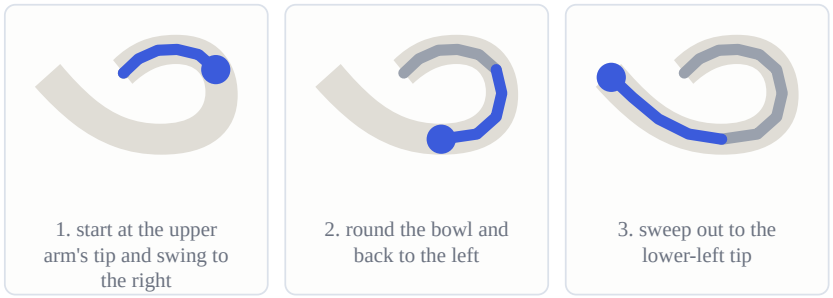

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.2 ु — short u after a consonant

Say shop, write द, ू, ौ, ड, ल, and पत्नी.

Script — one mark

How it is written — one unbroken stroke · 3 movements

Stroke order after HP Labs India, Lipi Toolkit, Lipi Indic Character Recognizers 4.0, Devanagari recognizer, class 50 (u sign): stored online-handwriting prototypes from native writers (MIT licence, 2012)
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ु is written, stroke by stroke

ु — short u after a consonant

Your turn

Trace ु below द once, copy दु once, cover it, and write दु from sound. Keep it shorter than familiar दू.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

18.3 दुकान — shop on the page

Say shop and market. Write it: बाजार, बरसात, and कांई, then पाछे मिलसू, then form दु, का, and न

What to know first

दु + कान → दुकान — dukān — shop

The word, taken apart

दुकान (dukān) is a loan from Arabic dukkān, "shop", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is d-k-n (Lane), though Lane notes that some take the Arabic word itself from Persian.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: दुकान — check short ु below the first sign and long ा in the second chunk

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.4 Hear vastu — item

Say shop. Write it: the word for shop, then form short ु

Then recall money, temple, and cold, then retrieve the see-you-later line from its cue.

What to know first

vastu — item; thing

Say the two beats once from an item cue. The word can name the thing being bought; no buying sentence is claimed yet.

The word, taken apart

vastu is Sanskrit vastu, "existing thing, affair", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 11449).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.5 वस्तु — item on the page

Say item and shop. Write it: दुकान, गर्मी, and हाथ

Then say mother. Write it: short ु and the familiar vowel-off mark ्

What to know first

वस् + तु → वस्तु — vastu — item

The word, taken apart

वस्तु (vastu) is Sanskrit vastu, "existing thing, affair", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 11449).

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: वस्तु — check the middle consonant join and the final short ु

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.6 Hear bhāv — price

Say item and shop. Write it: both words

Then recall market. Write it: the words for money and cloud, then मां

What to know first

bhāv — price

Say the single long beat from a price-tag cue. This lesson teaches the noun; asking the final price remains later phrase work.

The word, taken apart

bhāv goes back to Sanskrit bhāva, "being, thing, state", and keeps the Sanskrit shape. CDIAL lists Gujarati and Marathi bhāv, "market rate", under it (CDIAL 9475), with the worn Hindi form bhāu, "price"; it gives no Marwari form there.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.7 भाव — price on the page

Say price, item, shop, and father. Write it: वस्तु, बाप, and हवा, then form familiar भ, ◌ा, and व

What to know first

भा + व → भाव — bhāv — price

The word, taken apart

भाव (bhāv) goes back to Sanskrit bhāva, "being, thing, state", and keeps the Sanskrit shape. CDIAL lists Gujarati and Marathi bhāv, "market rate", under it (CDIAL 9475), with the worn Hindi form bhāu, "price"; it gives no Marwari form there.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: भाव — keep ◌ा after भ
Hold the long vowel in speech.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.8 Retrieve shop, item, and price

Write it: ु, ौ, ग, ड, and ब

Then recall the six-word weather payoff.

Your turn

Hear the three words in mixed order and say each from its meaning. Read it: three printed cards and match them

Write it: all three from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.9 Payoff — three shopping words in four skills

Say market. Write it: the word for money

Recall the weather payoff, then ask and answer the known wellbeing exchange. Write it: बाप

Your turn

1. Identify three heard words.
2. Produce three words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: three printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all three heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

18.10 Close the first shopping loop

Write it: ु, घ, ज, and त

Say brother, and retrieve cloud, rain, weather, heat, and cold. Write it: ड, गर्मी, and ठंडी

Then recall the three-word weather payoff and name the four shopping-payoff skills.

Your turn

Without a model, hear one word and say its meaning. Read it: the other two in mixed order

Write it: all three from meaning cues

Before you move on

Chapter 19

Cheap and Goods: No New Signs

Modes: voice (7) Hands-free start: all 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add cheap and goods to the shop-item-price map in listening, speaking, reading, and writing without learning another sign.
> Two more source-attested shopping words reuse the secure script inventory and join the earlier three in a non-compensatory four-skill payoff.

19.1 Hear sastā — cheap

> Recall the three-word shopping payoff and say price. Write it: ु, दुकान, वस्तु, भाव, and भाई
> Then say heat.

What to know first

> sastā — cheap; inexpensive

Say the two beats once from a low-price cue. This is the source's dictionary form; full bargaining phrases remain later work.

The word, taken apart

The origin of sastā is not settled. CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it; its words for "cheap", such as Sanskrit samargha (CDIAL 13187), do not match.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

19.2 सस्ता — cheap on the page

Say cheap and price. Write it: भाव, वस्तु, बरसात, and पति

Say sister, then recall ् and त.

What to know first

सस् + ता → सस्ता — sastā — cheap

The word, taken apart

The origin of सस्ता (sastā) is not settled. CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it; its words for "cheap", such as Sanskrit samargha (CDIAL 13187), do not match.

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

19.3 Hear sāmān — goods

Say cheap and shop. Write it: both words

Recall item and price. Write it: the words for home and sister, then गर्मी

What to know first

sāmān — goods; merchandise

Hear the two long-vowel beats and say the word once from a group-of-items cue.

The word, taken apart

sāmān is a loan, usually traced to Persian sāmān, “goods, equipment”.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

19.4 सामान — goods on the page

Say goods and cheap. Write it: सस्ता, दुकान, वस्तु, मौसम, and नाम

Retrieve the four-word family payoff. Write it: ◌ा once

What to know first

सा + मान → सामान — sāmān — goods

The word, taken apart

सामान (sāmān) is a loan, usually traced to Persian sāmān, “goods, equipment”.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: सामान — check both long ◌ा marks and the final न

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

19.5 Retrieve cheap and goods

Recall the three-word shopping payoff. Write it: ◌ु, ◌ौ, ग, and ड

Then say paternal grandfather and cold.

Your turn

Hear the two words in both orders and give each meaning. Read it: two cards

Write it: both from sound

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

19.6 Payoff — five shopping words in four skills

Recall the earlier shopping and weather payoffs and say money.
Write it: द and ड

Your turn

1. Identify five heard words.
2. Produce five words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: five printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all five heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately; a strong word cannot compensate for a missed one.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

19.7 Close the five-word shopping loop

Write it: short ु

Then ask and answer the known name and wellbeing exchanges. Write it: दादा and ठंडी

Your turn

Without a model, hear two words and say two from meaning cues. Read it: the fifth

Write it: all five, in a fresh mixed order

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 20

Clothes and Expensive: One Dot Below

Modes: voice (7) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first of 8 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add clothes and expensive to the shopping map after learning only the nukta that changes ड to ड़.
> Two source-attested shopping words begin by ear, add one dotted consonant, and join the earlier five words in four separately scored skills.

20.1 Hear kapṛā — clothes

Recall the five-word shopping map.

What to know first

kapṛā — clothes; cloth

Listen for the quick curled sound in the middle. Say the word once from a clothes cue. Keep the written form covered for now.

The word, taken apart

kapṛā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from karpaṭa, "patched garment, rag". CDIAL lists Marwari kapṛo under it (CDIAL 2871). CDIAL takes the Sanskrit word itself from an Austroasiatic language.

Before you move on

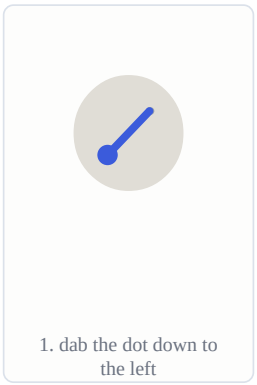

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

20.2 ड़ — one dot under familiar ड

Say clothes, then write familiar ड, paternal grandmother, and goods.

Script — one mark

How it is written — one unbroken stroke · 1 movement

Stroke order after HP Labs India, Lipi Toolkit, Lipi Indic Character Recognizers 4.0, Devanagari recognizer, class 62 (nukta): stored online-handwriting prototypes from native writers (MIT licence, 2012)
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ़ is written, stroke by stroke

ड + ़ → ड़

The dot below is called a nukta. Here it marks the quick curled sound in kapṛā.

Your turn

Trace ड़ once. Copy it once. Cover it, wait five seconds, and write ड़ from the sound cue.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

20.3 कपड़ा — clothes on the page

Say clothes and family. Write it: ड़

What to know first

कप + ड़ा → कपड़ा — kapṛā — clothes

The word, taken apart

कपड़ा (kapṛā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from karpaṭa, "patched garment, rag". CDIAL lists Marwari kapṛo under it (CDIAL 2871). CDIAL takes the Sanskrit word itself from an Austroasiatic language.

20.4 Hear mahaṅgo — expensive

Say cheap and clothes. Write it: व

What to know first

mahaṅgo — expensive

Hear the price contrast: sastā is cheap; mahaṅgo is expensive. Say only the word that matches a high-price cue.

The word, taken apart

mahaṅgo is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mahārgha, “high-priced”. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9954); the match is through Hindi mahãgā. It is built from mahā, “great”, and argha, “price”.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

20.5 महंगो — expensive on the page

Say expensive. Write it: the words for cheap and family, then short ु

What to know first

महं + गो → महंगो — mahaṅgo — expensive

The word, taken apart

महंगो (mahaṅgo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mahārgha, “high-priced”. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9954); the match is through Hindi mahãgā. It is built from mahā, “great”, and argha, “price”.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: महंगो — check ं above and ो around the final ग

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

20.6 Retrieve clothes and expensive

Recall the six-word weather payoff. Write it: the word for shop, then ड़

Your turn

Hear both words in both orders and give each meaning. Read it: two cards Write it: both from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

20.7 Payoff — seven shopping words in four skills

Recall the earlier five-word shopping payoff. Write it: the nukta

Your turn

1. Identify seven heard words.
2. Produce seven words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: seven printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all seven heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately. This is a vocabulary map, not yet a bargaining conversation.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

20.8 Close the seven-word shopping loop

Recall the seven-label family payoff. Write it: the word for item, then ड़

Your turn

With every model hidden, retrieve the seven meanings by ear and say them from meaning cues. Read it: a shuffled set

Write it: all seven from dictation

Before you move on

Chapter 21

Bus, Vehicle, and Cart: No New Signs

Modes: voice (9) Hands-free start: all 9 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can recognise, say, read, and write bus, vehicle, and cart using only signs already secured in earlier chapters.
> Three source-attested transport words begin by ear, reuse the established script inventory, and finish in four separately scored skills without claiming a ticket or timetable exchange.

21.1 Hear bas — bus

> Recall the seven-word shopping payoff, then say expensive and price.

What to know first

> bas — bus

Hear it twice, picture a bus, and say it once. Keep the spelling covered until the sound and meaning are easy.

The word, taken apart

bas is a loan from English bus.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

21.2 बस — bus on the page

Say bus and maternal grandfather. Write it: the words for expensive and price

What to know first

ब + स → बस — bas — bus

The word, taken apart

बस (bas) is a loan from English bus.

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

21.5 Hear ṭhelā — cart

Say vehicle and bus. Write it: ठ and the word for maternal grandmother

What to know first

ṭhelā — cart; handcart

Hear the strong first sound, picture a handcart, and say the word once.

The word, taken apart

ṭhelā is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ṭhell*, "push", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari ṭhelijaï under it (CDIAL 5512). Hindi has ṭhelā in the same sense, the cart you push.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

21.6 ठेला — cart on the page

Say cart, husband, and cheap. Write it: the word for vehicle

What to know first

ठे + ला → ठेला — ṭhelā — cart

The word, taken apart

ठेला (ṭhelā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ṭhell*, "push", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari ṭhelijaï under it (CDIAL 5512). Hindi has ṭhelā in the same sense, the cart you push.

Chapter 22

Rickshaw and Horse: One New Consonant

Modes: voice (7) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first of 8 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add rickshaw and horse to the transport map after learning only श and reusing the dotted consonant from clothes.
> Two more source-attested transport words begin by ear, add only श*, and join the earlier three in a non-compensatory four-skill payoff.*

22.1 Hear rikśā — rickshaw

> Recall the three-word transport payoff and say wife. Write it: the word for goods

What to know first

> rikśā — rickshaw

Hear the three beats, picture a rickshaw, and say the word once. Keep the written cluster covered for now.

The word, taken apart

rikśā is a loan from English rickshaw. English took the word from Japanese jinrikisha, "man-powered vehicle".

Before you move on

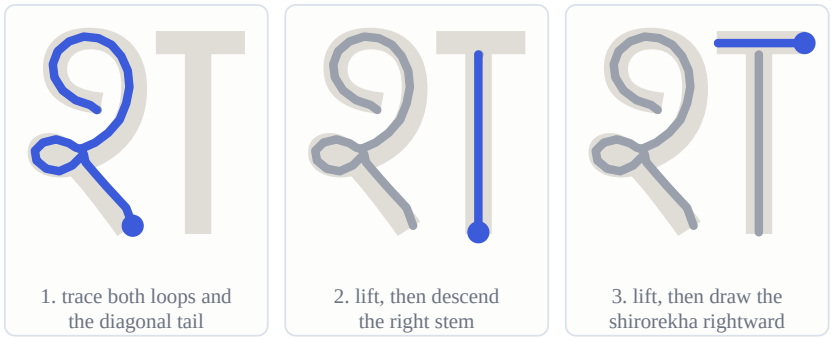

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

22.2 श — the sh in rickshaw

Recall the five-word shopping payoff, say rickshaw, then write wife and familiar स.

Script — one sign

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-[illegible]-order.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How श is written, stroke by stroke

श — sha

Notice the vertical stem and the looped left side. Keep it distinct from familiar स.

Your turn

Trace श once. Copy it once. Cover it, wait five seconds, and write it from the sh sound cue.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

22.3 रिक्शा — rickshaw on the page

Say rickshaw and child. Write it: श and ◌्

What to know first

रि + क् + शा → रिक्शा — rikśā — rickshaw

The word, taken apart

रिक्शा (rikśā) is a loan from English rickshaw. English took the word from Japanese jinrikisha, "man-powered vehicle".

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: रिक्शा — check that ◌ि appears before र but is read after it, and that ◌् joins क to श

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

22.4 Hear ghoṛo — horse

Say rickshaw, vehicle, and clothes. Write it: च and ड़

What to know first

ghoṛo — horse

Hear the breathy first sound and curled middle sound. Picture a horse and say the word once.

The word, taken apart

ghoṛo is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghoṭa, “horse”. CDIAL lists Marwari ghoṛo under it (CDIAL 4516). CDIAL calls the Sanskrit word non-Aryan, probably Dravidian.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

22.5 घोड़ो — horse on the page

Say horse. Write it: the words for vehicle and child

What to know first

घो + ड़ो → घोड़ो — ghoṛo — horse

The word, taken apart

घोड़ो (ghoṛo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghoṭa, “horse”. CDIAL lists Marwari ghoṛo under it (CDIAL 4516). CDIAL calls the Sanskrit word non-Aryan, probably Dravidian.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: घोड़ो — check both long-o marks and the dot below ड

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

22.6 Retrieve rickshaw and horse

Write it: श and ड़ from sound

Your turn

Hear both words in both orders and give each meaning. Read it: two cards Write it: both from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

22.7 Payoff — five transport words in four skills

Recall the earlier three-word transport payoff and the twelve-label family payoff, then say expensive.

Your turn

1. Identify five heard words.
2. Produce five words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: five printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all five heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately. This vocabulary foundation does not yet claim a ticket purchase, timetable question, or problem report.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

22.8 Close the writing loop for ड़ and श

Recall the five-word transport payoff. Write it: the word for expensive

Your turn

Write it: ड़ and श from sound cues, without a model; then कपड़ा, गाड़ी, रिक्शा, and घोड़ो from dictation — repair only the missed unit and repeat that word once

Before you move on

Chapter 23

First Food Words: No New Signs

Modes: voice (9) Hands-free start: all 9 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can retrieve lentils, clarified butter, and vegetables in listening, speaking, reading, and writing using only previously taught Devanagari signs.
> Three source-attested food words begin by ear, add no new sign at all, and close in a non-compensatory four-skill payoff.

23.1 Hear dāl — lentils

> Recall the five-word transport payoff, then say horse and market.

What to know first

dāl — lentils

Two beats, and the second one is long. Hear it twice, picture a bowl of cooked lentils, and say it once. The spelling stays covered until the sound and the meaning are comfortable.

The word, taken apart

dāl is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dāla, "kind of grain, split peas". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6309); the match is through Hindi dāl. CDIAL asks whether it is the same word as dāla, "splitting".

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.2 दाल — lentils on the page

Say lentils. Write it: the word for horse, then ज

What to know first

दा + ल → दाल — dāl — lentils

Three units, all of them met before: द, the long ◌ा, and ल.

The word, taken apart

दाल (dāl) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dāla, "kind of grain, split peas". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6309); the match is through Hindi dāl. CDIAL asks whether it is the same word as dāla, "splitting".

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: दाल — check that the ◌ा sits after द and not after ल

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.3 Hear ghī — clarified butter

Recall the seven-word shopping payoff. Write it: the words for lentils and market

What to know first

ghī — clarified butter

One beat, opening with the same breathy sound heard at the start of ghar and ghoṛo. Hear it twice and say it once.

The word, taken apart

ghī is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghṛta, "fluid grease, clarified butter or ghee". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4501); the match is through Hindi ghī and Gujarati ghī.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.4 घी — clarified butter on the page

Say clarified butter, recall the five-word transport payoff, then say bus.

What to know first

घ + ी → घी — ghī — clarified butter

The same घ that opens घर and घोड़ो, carrying the long ी met in पाणी.

The word, taken apart

घी (ghī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghṛta, "fluid grease, clarified butter or ghee". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4501); the match is through Hindi ghī and Gujarati ghī.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: घी — keep the ी stroke tall enough to reach the headline

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.5 Hear sabjī — vegetables

Write it: the words for clarified butter and bus, then घ

What to know first

sabjī — vegetables

Three beats, ending long. Hear it twice, picture a vegetable dish, and say it once.

The word, taken apart

sabjī is a loan, usually traced to Persian sabzī, "greenness, greens". Marwadi says the z as j.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.6 सबजी — vegetables on the page

Say vegetables and vehicle. Write it: the word for home

What to know first

स + ब + जी → सबजी — sabjī — vegetables

Four units, every one of them already in the hand. The source spells it with a full ब between स and जी; other Rajasthani writing prints a clustered spelling for the same word, so treat this form as the one attested here rather than as the only one anybody uses.

The word, taken apart

सबजी (sabjī) is a loan, usually traced to Persian sabzī, "greenness, greens". Marwadi says the z as j.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: सबजी — check that ब keeps its own short vowel and carries no vowel-killer

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.7 Retrieve three food words

Write it: the word for vehicle

Then say temple and home.

Your turn

Hear the three words in a mixed order and give each meaning. Read it: three shuffled cards

Write it: all three from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.8 Payoff — three food words in four skills

Say cart. Write it: the word for temple

Your turn

1. Identify three heard words.
2. Produce three words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: three printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all three heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately. Three food names are a vocabulary foundation, not an order placed in a kitchen or a shop.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

23.9 Close the first food loop

Recall the three-place payoff. Write it: the word for cart

Your turn

With every model hidden, identify and say दाल, घी, and सबजी in a shuffled order. Read it: all three, shuffled

Write it: all three, in a shuffled order

Before you move on

Chapter 24

Bread and Rolls: One New Consonant

Modes: voice (7) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first of 8 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add flatbread and hard wheat rolls to the food map after learning only ट and reusing every other sign.
> Two more source-attested food words begin by ear, add only ट*, and join the earlier three in a non-compensatory four-skill payoff.*

24.1 Hear roṭī — flatbread

Recall the three-word food payoff, then say hand and lentils.

What to know first

roṭī — flatbread

The middle consonant is made with the tongue tip curled back, further back than the d of dāl. Hear it twice and say it once. The spelling waits for the next lesson, because one sign in it has not been taught yet.

The word, taken apart

roṭī is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from roṭṭa*, "bread", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Marwari roṭī under it (CDIAL 10837).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

24.2 ट — the curled t in flatbread

Say flatbread, recall the three-word transport payoff, then write hand.

Script — one sign

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-ट-order.gif', strokes 1–2, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ट is written, stroke by stroke

ट — ṭa

A single closed loop hanging under the headline. Set it beside the ठ of ठेला: ठ carries a second inner ring and a puff of breath, ट has neither.

Your turn

Trace ट once. Copy it once. Write ठ beside it and say which one has the extra ring. Cover both, wait five seconds, and write ट from the curled sound cue.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

24.3 रोटी — flatbread on the page

Say flatbread and money. Write it: ट

What to know first

रो + टी → रोटी — roṭī — flatbread

The ो on र and the ी on ट are both long vowels met earlier.

The word, taken apart

रोटी (roṭī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from roṭṭa*, "bread", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Marwari roṭī under it (CDIAL 10837).

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: रोटी — check that the second consonant has no inner ring

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

24.4 Hear bāṭī — hard wheat rolls

Write it: the words for flatbread and money

Then say rickshaw.

What to know first

bāṭī — hard wheat rolls

Two beats, both long, with the same curled middle consonant heard in roṭī. These are baked hard rather than soft, which is why they take a different name from ordinary flatbread. Hear it twice and say it once.

The word, taken apart

The origin of bāṭī is not settled. CDIAL has no entry for it. The nearest lead is Sanskrit vaṭikā, "small lump", whose regular descendants are Hindi baṛā and baṛī, fried cakes (CDIAL 11213); the ṭ of bāṭī does not fit that path.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

24.5 बाटी — hard wheat rolls on the page

Say hard wheat rolls. Write it: the word for flatbread, then श

What to know first

बा + टी → बाटी — bāṭī — hard wheat rolls

Compare रोटी and बाटी on one line: the last two units are identical and only the opening syllable differs.

The word, taken apart

The origin of बाटी (bāṭī) is not settled. CDIAL has no entry for it. The nearest lead is Sanskrit vaṭikā, "small lump", whose regular descendants are Hindi baṛā and baṛī, fried cakes (CDIAL 11213); the ṭ of बाटी (bāṭī) does not fit that path.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: बाटी, then रोटी beneath it — check that only the first syllable changed

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

24.6 Retrieve flatbread and hard wheat rolls

Recall the five-word travel payoff. Write it: ટ, and the word for rickshaw

Your turn

Hear both words in both orders and give each meaning. Read it: two cards Write it: both from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

24.7 Payoff — five food words in four skills

Recall the earlier three-word food payoff, then say horse.

Your turn

1. Identify five heard words.
2. Produce five words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: five printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all five heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately. This vocabulary foundation does not yet claim an order in a kitchen, a request at a table, or a description of a meal.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

24.8 Close the writing loop for ट

Recall the five-word food payoff and say wind. Write it: the word for horse

Your turn

Write it: ट and ठ from sound cues, without a model; then रोटी, बाटी, and ठेला from dictation — repair only the missed unit and repeat that word once

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 25

The Sweet and the Tea: One New Consonant

Modes: voice (7) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first 3 of 8 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can add the sweet crumbled wheat dessert and tea to the food map after learning only य.
> The last two source-attested food words begin by ear, add only य, and complete a seven-word non-compensatory four-skill payoff.

25.1 Hear chūrmā — sweet crumbled wheat

Recall the five-word food payoff and say hard wheat rolls.
Write it: the word for wind

What to know first

chūrmā — sweet crumbled wheat dessert

Three beats, the middle one long. Hear it twice and say it once. The source names it beside dāl and bāṭī; the three are often served together, and this lesson teaches the word rather than the custom.

The word, taken apart

chūrmā is built on chūr, "crumbled". CDIAL lists Hindi cūr, "powder", under cūra*, a form drawn from Sanskrit cūrṇa, "powdered" (CDIAL 4888). It has no entry for chūrmā itself or for its ending.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

25.2 चूरमा — the sweet on the page

Recall the five-word transport payoff, then say the sweet crumbled wheat dessert and cloud.

What to know first

चू + र + मा → चूरमा — chūrmā — sweet crumbled wheat dessert

The ◌ू under च is the long ū met in मिलसू, and मा closes with the long ◌ा used since the first greeting.

The word, taken apart

चूरमा (chūrmā) is built on chūr, "crumbled". CDIAL lists Hindi cūr, "powder", under cūra*, a form drawn from Sanskrit cūrṇa, "powdered" (CDIAL 4888). It has no entry for चूरमा (chūrmā) itself or for its ending.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds

Write it: चूरमा — check that the ◌ू hangs below च and not below र

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

25.3 Hear chāy — tea

Say lentils. Write it: the words for the sweet crumbled wheat dessert and cloud

What to know first

chāy — tea

One long beat closing on a glide. It opens with the same consonant as chūrmā. Hear it twice and say it once. The spelling waits one lesson, because its final consonant has not been taught yet.

The word, taken apart

chāy is a loan, usually traced to Persian chāy, "tea". Persian took it overland from Chinese chá.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

25.4 य — the glide at the end of tea

Say tea and rain, then write hard wheat rolls.

Script — one sign

How य is written, stroke by stroke

य — ya

A left loop, a short arm, and a vertical stem on the right. Set it beside भ of भाई: भ opens its left side into a hook that reaches the stem, while य closes its left side into a loop.

Your turn

Trace य once. Copy it once. Write भ beside it and say which one closes its left side. Cover both, wait five seconds, and write य from the glide sound cue.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

25.5 चाय — tea on the page

Say tea. Write it: य, then the word for rain

What to know first

चा + य → चाय — chāy — tea

The य carries no vowel mark of its own here and closes the word.

The word, taken apart

चाय (chāy) is a loan, usually traced to Persian chāy, "tea". Persian took it overland from Chinese chá.

Your turn

Cover: the model after one look, then wait five seconds
Write it: चाय — check that the ा sits after च and that य ends the word bare

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

25.6 Retrieve the sweet and the tea

Write it: य

Then say rain. Write it: the word for rain

Your turn

Hear both words in both orders and give each meaning. Read it: two cards
Write it: both from sound

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

25.7 Payoff — seven food words in four skills

Recall the earlier five-word food payoff and the three-word weather payoff.

Your turn

1. Identify seven heard words.
2. Produce seven words from meaning cues.
3. Read it: seven printed cards and match them to meanings
4. Write it: all seven heard words without a model

Pass each skill separately. Seven food names are a vocabulary map; offering food, accepting it, asking for more, and refusing politely are all still untaught.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

25.8 Close the writing loop for य

Recall the seven-word food payoff, then say vegetables and tea.

Your turn

Write it: य and ट from sound cues, without a model; then चाय, रोटी, बाटी, चूरमा, and सबजी from dictation — repair only the missed unit and repeat that word once

Before you move on

Chapter 26

Show It To Me: The First Transaction

Modes: voice (8) eyes (1) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first of 10 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can point at one thing and ask a shopkeeper, a food seller, or a driver to show it to me, after learning only ख.
> A pointing word and an asking word join one already-taught noun, and the resulting request is then run unchanged over a shopping word, a food word, and a transport word in four separately scored skills.

26.1 Hear ye — this one

Recall the seven-word food payoff. Write it: य

Then say tea and clothes.

What to know first

ye — this

One beat. It points at the single thing in front of you and at nothing else. The source prints it in front of an ordinary noun, exactly the way the next chapters will use it: ye vastu, this item.

Every word this book has taught so far names a thing. ye does not name anything. It is the first Marwadi word here whose whole job is to pick one out.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi yah, "this", under Sanskrit eṣa, "this" (CDIAL 2530). It gives no Marwari form, so the exact path to ye is not settled.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

26.2 ये — this, on the page

Say this, then write tea.

What to know first

य + े → ये — ye — this

In चाय the glide य closed a word and carried no vowel mark. Here the same sign opens a word and carries े above the headstroke. One sign, two jobs, and nothing new to learn.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi yah, "this", under Sanskrit eṣa, "this" (CDIAL 2530). It gives no Marwari form, so the exact path to ये (ye) is not settled.

Your turn

Look at ये, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it. Check that े sits on top of the headstroke and not beside the stem.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

26.3 Hear dikhāvo — show it

Write it: ये

Then say shop and item. Write it: the word for shop

What to know first

dikhāvo — show it

Three beats: di-khā-vo, the middle one long. The middle beat carries a breath after the k that the k of kapṛā does not have. Hear both, then say both: ka — khā.

The source prints this form twice, once for a menu and once for another colour. It is the asking form used to one person across a counter, not a command shouted at anyone, and this lesson teaches the printed form rather than the whole system of asking forms behind it.

The word, taken apart

dikhāvo, "show", is the causing form of the verb "to see". CDIAL lists Marwari dekhṇo, "to see", and Old Marwari dikhāṛaï under dṛkṣati*, "sees", and its variant dekṣati*, present stems it reconstructs from Sanskrit (CDIAL 6507).

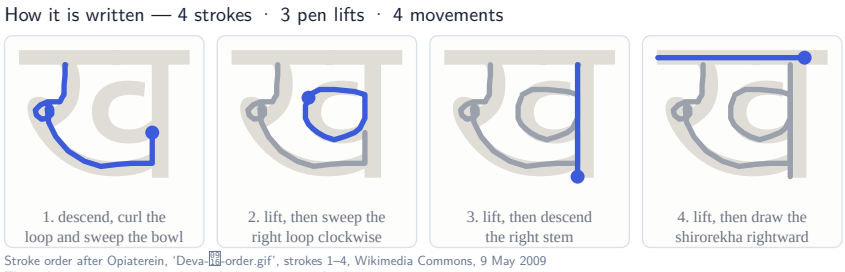

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

26.4 ख — the breathed partner of क

Say show it, then write कपड़ा and point to its dotted ड़.

Script — one sign

How ख is written, stroke by stroke

ख — kha

The sound first, because it is the part a reader can check without a model. Say क of कपड़ा, then say it again with a puff of breath released on the release: that puff is the whole difference, and it is the difference ख records.

The sign is built under the headstroke like every sign so far, with two parts side by side and the vertical stem closing it on the right.

Your turn

Trace ख once and copy it once. Write क beside it. Say the pair aloud with a hand in front of your mouth: the breath moves your hand on ख and not on क. Cover both, wait five seconds, and write ख from that breath cue.

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

26.5 दिखावो — the asking word on the page

Say show it. Write it: ख, then the word for wind

What to know first

दि + खा + वो → दिखावो — dikhāvo — show it

Three groups, one for each beat you already hear. ि is written before द and read after it, the order you first met in मंदिर. वो is the व of हवा with the ो of घोड़ो.

The word, taken apart

दिखावो (dikhāvo), "show", is the causing form of the verb "to see". CDIAL lists Marwari dekhṇo, "to see", and Old Marwari dikhāṛaï under dṛkṣati*, "sees", and its variant dekṣati*, present stems it reconstructs from Sanskrit (CDIAL 6507).

Your turn

Read it: the three groups once

Cover: the word, then wait five seconds

Write it: the word — check the ि stands to the left of द and that ख carries ा

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

26.6 Retrieve this and show it

Recall the seven-word food payoff. Write it: the word for tea, and य

Your turn

Hear both words in both orders and give each meaning. Read it: two cards

Write it: both from sound, then circle the one sign in them that is new this chapter

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

26.7 Hear ye kapṛā dikhāvo — show me this cloth

Say clothes and goods. Write it: both words

What to know first

ye kapṛā dikhāvo — show me this cloth

Three words, and you already own all three. The pointing word first, the thing second, the ask last: that order does not change when the noun changes.

Hear the line twice. Say it once as if the cloth were on the counter in front of you.

The source prints dikhāvo with its own objects. Here it takes a noun this book has already taught, so nothing in the line is unfamiliar except the joining.

The word, taken apart

ye kapṛā dikhāvo joins three words with their own lessons: ye, "this", which CDIAL sets beside Hindi yah under Sanskrit eṣa (CDIAL 2530); kapṛā, "cloth", from Sanskrit karpaṭa, "rag", which CDIAL takes from Austroasiatic (CDIAL 2871); and dikhāvo, "show", the causing form of the verb CDIAL lists under dṛkṣati*, "sees" (CDIAL 6507).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

26.8 ये कपड़ा दिखावो। — a whole line, no new sign

Say show me this cloth. Write it: the word for expensive

What to know first

ये | कपड़ा | दिखावो।

Three written words, each one already written on its own in an earlier lesson. The full stop is the । you first met in पाछे मिलसू. Nothing here is new but the joining, which is the point of the chapter.

The word, taken apart

ये कपड़ा दिखावो (ye kapṛā dikhāvo) joins three words with their own lessons: ye, "this", which CDIAL sets beside Hindi yah under Sanskrit eṣa (CDIAL 2530); kapṛā, "cloth", from Sanskrit karpaṭa, "rag", which CDIAL takes from Austroasiatic (CDIAL 2871); and dikhāvo, "show", the causing form of the verb CDIAL lists under dṛkṣati*, "sees" (CDIAL 6507).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: all three words — then open the model, repair only the word that changed, and rewrite that word alone

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

26.9 Payoff — one request, three counters

> Recall the seven-word shopping payoff, the five-word transport payoff, and the seven-word food payoff.

Your turn

The middle word is the only one that changes.

1. Identify which of the three lines you heard.
2. Produce all three from meaning cues alone.
3. Read it: three printed lines, then say which counter each belongs at
4. Write it: all three from dictation, without a model

Pass each skill separately. Asking to see something is one move; asking what it costs, saying it is too dear, and settling on a price are still untaught.

Before you move on

26.10 Close the writing loop for ख

> Recall the three-counter request payoff, then say rickshaw and flatbread.

Your turn

Write it: four single signs from sound cues, without a model — ख, य, श, ट

Three of those four have been on the page for chapters without being asked for on their own, which is why they are here.

Write it: दिखावो, ये, रिक्शा, रोटी, and चाय from dictation — repair only the missed unit and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Chapter 27

How Much Is This? No New Signs

Modes: voice (8) eyes (1) Hands-free start: the first of 9 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can ask the price of one named thing and ask for the total at the end, at a shop counter, a food stall, or a rickshaw, using no Devanagari sign I have not already written.
> The asking word arrives by ear, joins two source-printed price questions that add no new sign, and the first of them is then run unchanged over a shopping word, a food word, and a transport word in four separately scored skills.

27.1 Hear kitṇo — how much

> Recall the three-counter request payoff. Say price and weather.
> Write it: both words, and point to the ै inside one of them

What to know first

> kitṇo — how much

Three beats: ki-tṇo, said as two in ordinary speech. The ṇ is the retroflex n already heard inside pāṇī, made with the tongue curled back.

You have known bhāv, price, since Chapter 18. kitṇo is what you say when you want somebody to tell you one.

The word, taken apart

kitṇo is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kiyatta*, "how great", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari kītarāka under it (CDIAL 3167). The -ṇ- matches Hindi kitnā and Lahnda kiṭṇā, whose -n- CDIAL explains as an added suffix.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.2 कितणो — the question word on the page

Say how much, write ग, then write heat.

What to know first

कि + त + णो → कितणो — kiṭṇo — how much

Every unit is old. The ण is the same retroflex sign that sits in the middle of पाणी, and it is what makes this word Marwadi rather than the Hindi form a reader may expect. Write पाणी and कितणो one under the other and check that the ण is drawn the same way in both.

The word, taken apart

कितणो (kiṭṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kiyatta*, "how great", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari kītarāka under it (CDIAL 3167). The -ṇ- matches Hindi kitnā and Lahnda kiṭṇā, whose -n- CDIAL explains as an added suffix.

Your turn

Look at कितणो, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it. Check the ि sits before क and that the last sign carries ो.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.3 Hear ye kitṇe kū hai? — how much is this?

Say item and cold. Write it: both words, then ड and है on their own

What to know first

ye kitṇe kū hai? — how much is this?

Four words, three of which you own: ye points, kitṇe is the asking word from the last lesson, and hai is the is you have said since Chapter 5. Between them sits kū, one short beat that does the work English does with for.

The asking word arrives as kitṇe, not kitṇo. Marwadi bends the ending of that word before kū, exactly as the source prints it; learn the whole line as one heard shape now and the bending will be taught on its own later.

Hear it twice. Say it once as if the thing you are asking about were in front of you.

The word, taken apart

The new piece in ye kitṇe kū hai is kū, which CDIAL does not list, so its history is not settled; compare Hindi ko (CDIAL 14342). kitṇe, "how much", is from kiyatta* (CDIAL 3167); ye and hai are older (CDIAL 2530, 1031).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.4 ये कितणे कू है? — the price question on the page

Say how much is this. Write it: the word for shop, then ु on its own

What to know first

ये | कितणे | कू | है?

Four written words. ये and है you have written before; कितणे is last lesson's कितणो with े where ो stood; कू is क carrying the long ू you first drew for मिलसू.

The word, taken apart

ये कितणे कू है (ye kitṇe kū hai) is built from words with their own lessons: ye, "this" (CDIAL 2530); kitṇe, a form of kitṇo, "how much", from kiyatta*, "how great" (CDIAL 3167); and hai, "is" (CDIAL 1031). The small word kū is the new piece; CDIAL gives no Marwari row for it, so its history is not settled. It does the work of Hindi ko, which CDIAL lists under kakṣa, "armpit" (CDIAL 14342).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: all four words — then open the model, repair only the word that changed, and rewrite that word alone

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.5 Retrieve the asking word and its question

> Recall the three-word food payoff. Write it: ट, then the word for hard wheat rolls

Your turn

Hear the word alone and the whole question, in both orders, and give each meaning. Read it: two cards

Write it: both from sound

Then say the request from the last chapter and this question one after the other, in that order, as they would actually fall at a counter.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.6 Hear ye kitṇo huā? — how much altogether?

Recall the five-word shopping payoff, then say money and goods. Write it: both words

What to know first

ye kitṇo huā? — how much is that altogether?

The same three-word shape, with huā where kū hai stood. The asking word keeps its own ending here: kitṇo, not kitṇe.

The two questions do different jobs. ye kitṇe kū hai? asks the price of one thing while you are still deciding. ye kitṇo huā? asks for the total once you have stopped choosing. Hear both, one after the other, and say which one comes last.

The word, taken apart

In ye kitṇo huā, the new word is huā, "became, came to". CDIAL lists it as Hindi huā and Old Marwari hūvo, "became", under Sanskrit bhūta, "become, been" (CDIAL 9552). ye and kitṇo have their own lessons (CDIAL 2530, 3167).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.7 ये कितणो हुआ? — the total question on the page

Write it: आ on its own, then the word for formal thanks, then the price question from the last lesson

What to know first

ये | कितणो | हुआ?

Three written words, all made of old parts. हुआ is ह carrying the short ु of दुकान, followed by the standing आ you wrote for आभार. This is the first word in the track where a full independent vowel stands inside a word rather than starting one.

The word, taken apart

In ये कितणो हुआ (ye kitṇo huā), the new word is huā, "became, came to". CDIAL lists it as Hindi huā and Old Marwari hūvo, "became", under Sanskrit bhūta, "become, been" (CDIAL 9552). ye and kitṇo have their own lessons (CDIAL 2530, 3167).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: the three words — check that हुआ keeps its ु below the first sign and its आ at full height

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

27.8 Payoff — one price question, three counters

> Recall the three-word shopping payoff, the three-word transport payoff, and the five-word food payoff.

Your turn

Only the second word changes.

1. Identify which of the three counters you heard the question asked at.
2. Produce all three from meaning cues alone.
3. Read it: three printed lines, then match each to its counter
4. Write it: all three from dictation, then the total question once

Pass each skill separately. You can now ask to see a thing and ask what it costs. Understanding the answer, saying it is too dear, and settling on a price are still untaught.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

27.9 Close the writing loop for ू, ण and आ

Recall the three-counter price payoff and say water. Write it: ख

Your turn

Write it: four single signs from sound cues, without a model — ू, ण, आ, ई

This chapter added no sign of its own, so the four it borrowed most are the four it has to prove.

Write it: कितणो, पाणी, पाछे मिलसू, and both price questions from dictation — repair only the missed unit and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Chapter 28

Too Dear: The Answer and the Counter

Modes: voice (11) eyes (3) Hands-free start: the first of 14 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say that something is very expensive and ask for it a little cheaper, completing a three-turn bargaining exchange without learning a single new Devanagari sign.
> A strengthener, a softener, and a second asking word each arrive by ear before their spelling, join two source-printed lines, and close as a three-turn exchange scored separately in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

28.1 Hear ghaṇo — very

> Recall the price payoff, the request payoff, and the six-word weather payoff, then say expensive and cheap.

What to know first

> ghaṇo — very

Two beats. The first carries the breathed gh of ghar; the second carries the same retroflex ṇ as kitṇo and pāṇī.

The source prints it in front of a description, where English puts very: the food is ghaṇo tasty. Put it in front of mahaṅgo and you have said more than that a thing costs money: you have said it costs too much, which is the whole reason a bargain begins.

The word, taken apart

ghaṇo is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghana, "compact, firm, dense". CDIAL lists Marwari ghaṇo under it (CDIAL 4424). The sense moved from "dense" to "much" and "very".

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

28.2 घणो — very, on the page

Say very, then write home and clarified butter.

What to know first

घ + णो → घणो — ghaṇo — very

Three signs, none of them new. Write घर, घी, and घणो one under the other: the same घ opens all three. Then write कितणो beside घणो and check the णो at the end is drawn the same way in both.

The word, taken apart

घणो (ghaṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghana, "compact, firm, dense". CDIAL lists Marwari ghaṇo under it (CDIAL 4424). The sense moved from "dense" to "much" and "very".

Your turn

Look at घणो, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it from the sound.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

28.3 Hear ye ghaṇo mahaṅgo hai — this is very expensive

Say the price question. Write it: the words for very and expensive

Then say the sweet crumbled wheat dessert. Write it: that word too

What to know first

ye ghaṇo mahaṅgo hai — this is very expensive

Four words, every one of them already yours. ye points, ghaṇo strengthens, mahaṅgo describes, hai closes. The order is fixed: the strengthener always comes before the word it strengthens.

Say it once flat, as a fact, and once slowly, the way you would actually say it across a counter when you mean to keep talking. The words do not change; the pace does, and the pace is what tells a seller a bargain has begun.

The word, taken apart

ye ghaṇo mahaṅgo hai joins words with their own lessons: ghaṇo, "very", from Sanskrit ghana, "dense", listed by CDIAL as Marwari ghaṇo (CDIAL 4424); and mahaṅgo, "expensive", from Sanskrit mahārgha, "high-priced" (CDIAL 9954). ye and hai are older (CDIAL 2530, 1031).

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

28.4 ये घणो महंगो है। — the reply on the page

Say this is very expensive. Write it: the word for temple, then ख

What to know first

ये | घणो | महंगो | है।

Four written words, each written before. The dot above महंगो is the same ◌ं that sits in मंदिर; it is the only mark in the line that is easy to drop, so check for it last.

The word, taken apart

ये घणो महंगो है (ye ghaṇo mahaṅgo hai) joins words with their own lessons: ghaṇo, "very", from Sanskrit ghana, "dense", listed by CDIAL as Marwari ghaṇo (CDIAL 4424); and mahaṅgo, "expensive", from Sanskrit mahārgha, "high-priced" (CDIAL 9954). ye and hai are older (CDIAL 2530, 1031).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: all four words — then open the model, check the dot first, and repair only the word that changed

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

28.5 Retrieve the question and the reply

Recall the seven-word food payoff. Write it: य, the word for lentils, then the total question from the last chapter

Your turn

Hear the two lines in the wrong order and say which one has to come first. Give both meanings. Read it: two cards

Write it: both from sound, one under the other, and read the pair aloud as a single exchange

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

28.6 Hear thoṛu — a little

Recall the three-word transport payoff, then say cart and bus.
Write it: both words

What to know first

thoṛu — a little

Two beats. The first is the breathed th of ṭhelā; the middle carries the flapped ṛ you already say inside kapṛā and ghoṛo.

Hold it against ghaṇo, which you learned four lessons ago. ghaṇo makes a word bigger; thoṛu makes an amount smaller. A seller hears the difference at once, and it is the difference between complaining about a price and offering to meet it.

The word, taken apart

thoṛu is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from stoka, "drop; a little". CDIAL lists Marwari thoṛo under it (CDIAL 13720). CDIAL explains the ṛ as an added suffix.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.7 थोड़ु — a little, on the page

Say a little, then write clothes and horse.

What to know first

थो + ड़ु → थोड़ु — thoṛu — a little

Three of this track's most easily confused marks meet in four signs. ड़ is ड with the nukta under it, exactly as in कपड़ा and घोड़ो; the short ु hangs beneath it. Write कपड़ा, घोड़ो, and थोड़ु in a column and check that all three dots sit at the same height.

The word, taken apart

थोड़ु (thoṛu) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from stoka, "drop; a little". CDIAL lists Marwari thoṛo under it (CDIAL 13720). CDIAL explains the ṛ as an added suffix.

Your turn

Look at थोड़ु, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it. Check the dot, then the ु below it.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.8 Hear karo — make it

Recall the seven-word shopping payoff. Write it: the words for a little and cheap

What to know first

karo — make it; do it

Two beats, and the ending is one you have already heard. Say dikhāvo and karo one after the other: both close on the same -o, because both are the same kind of asking word, said to one person across a counter.

dikhāvo asks somebody to show you a thing. karo asks them to make something so — and what they are to make it, you say in front of the word.

The word, taken apart

karo is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from karoti, "does". CDIAL lists Old Marwari karaï under it (CDIAL 2814). karo is the asking form of this verb.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.9 करो — make it, on the page

Say make it, write राम, write ख, then write how much and very.

What to know first

क + रो → करो — karo — make it

Three signs, and the middle one is र, the very first sign this book taught. Set करो beside ख and say both: क and ख differ only by breath, and only one of them belongs in this word.

The word, taken apart

करो (karo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from karoti, "does". CDIAL lists Old Marwari karaï under it (CDIAL 2814). karo is the asking form of this verb.

Your turn

Look at करो, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it from the sound. Check that you wrote क and not ख.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.10 Hear thoṛu sasto karo — make it a little cheaper

Say this is very expensive, then say item and cheap. Write it: both words

What to know first

thoṛu sasto karo — make it a little cheaper

Three words, all yours: thoṛu shrinks the amount, sasto is the sastā you learned in Chapter 19, and karo asks.

The source prints sasto here, with -o rather than the -ā the earlier lesson taught. Both forms are used; the ending shifts with what the word is describing. Learn the printed line as it stands, and treat sastā and sasto as the same word wearing two endings rather than two different words.

Say the whole exchange in order: ask the price, say it is too much, then this.

The word, taken apart

thoṛu sasto karo joins words with their own lessons: thoṛu, "a little", from Sanskrit stoka, "a drop" (CDIAL 13720); sasto, "cheap", whose origin is not settled; and karo, "make", from Sanskrit karoti, "does" (CDIAL 2814).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.11 थोड़ु सस्तो करो। — the counter-offer on the page

Write it: ् on its own, then the words for wife and item — point to the vowel-killer in each

What to know first

थोड़ु । सस्तो । करो।

Three written words. सस्तो is the सस्ता of Chapter 19 with ो where ा stood; its vowel-killer between the two स does not move. The stop at the end is the । you have written since Chapter 9.

The word, taken apart

थोड़ु सस्तो करो (thoṛu sasto karo) joins words with their own lessons: thoṛu, "a little", from Sanskrit stoka, "a drop" (CDIAL 13720); sasto, "cheap", whose origin is not settled; and karo, "make", from Sanskrit karoti, "does" (CDIAL 2814).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: all three words — then open the model and check two marks first, the dot under ड़ and the vowel-killer inside सस्तो, and repair only the word that changed

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.12 Retrieve a little and make it

Recall the five-word transport payoff. Write it: the words for vehicle and very

Your turn

Hear each word alone, out of its line, and give its meaning. Read it: two cards

Write it: both from sound

Then rebuild the whole counter-offer from those two words plus the one you already had, and say it once at speaking pace.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

28.13 Payoff — ask, react, counter

Recall the price payoff and the seven-word shopping payoff.
Write it: the word for clothes

Your turn

Three turns, in this order and no other.

1. Hear the three lines shuffled and put them back in order.
2. Produce all three from meaning cues, as one continuous exchange.

3. Read it: the three printed lines, then say who speaks which
4. Write it: all three from dictation, without a model

Pass each skill separately. You can now open a price, react to it, and make one counter-offer. Hearing a number in reply, agreeing a final price, and paying are still untaught.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

28.14 Close the writing loop for ◌़, ◌़ and ◌़

Recall the three-turn bargaining payoff and say expensive.
Write it: ख

Your turn

Three marks change a word without adding a letter, and all three are easy to lose. Write it: each on its own from a spoken cue — the dot under a letter, the vowel-killer, the dot above the headstroke

Write it: थोड़ु, कपड़ा, पत्नी, बच्चा, and महंगो from dictation, marking which of the three you used in each; finish with both lines of this chapter — repair only the missed mark and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 29

Take the Money: Closing the Bargain

Modes: voice (11) eyes (3) Hands-free start: the first of 14 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can ask for a final price and hand over the money, so that a purchase runs from asking to see a thing all the way to paying for it, without learning a new Devanagari sign.
> Take and give arrive as a one-beat pair, the word for final joins them, and the two closing lines of a purchase are scored separately in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

29.1 Hear lo — take it

> Recall the bargaining payoff and the three-word shopping payoff. Write it: the words for price and make it

What to know first

> lo — take it

One beat, and the third asking word in this track. Say dikhāvo, karo, lo in a row: all three end on the same -o, and that ending is your signal that a word is asking somebody to do something.

lo is the word that closes a deal rather than opening one. It is what the person handing something over says, and what you say when you accept.

The word, taken apart

lo is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from labhate, "catches, takes". CDIAL lists Old Marwari lei under it (CDIAL 10948). lo is the asking form of this verb.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.2 लो — take it, on the page

Say take it, then write cloud and cart.

What to know first

ल + ो → लो — lo — take it

Two signs. The ल ends बादल and opens ठेला; here it stands alone with the ो you put on the end of करो.

The word, taken apart

लो (lo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from labhate, "catches, takes". CDIAL lists Old Marwari lei under it (CDIAL 10948). lo is the asking form of this verb.

Your turn

Look at लो, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it from the sound. Write करो beneath it and check that both end with the same mark.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.3 Hear paisā le lo — take the money

Recall the five-word shopping payoff and say the counter-offer.
Write it: the words for goods, money, and take it

What to know first

paisā le lo — take the money

paisā has been yours since Chapter 14 and has had nothing to do until now. Here it is what you are handing over, and le lo is the taking, said as two short beats that run together in ordinary speech.

Say the three turns you already have, then this one. That is a whole purchase, from asking to see a thing to paying for it, and every word in it was taught before this chapter except lo.

The word, taken apart

paisā le lo joins words with their own lessons: paisā, "money", from padāṃśa*, "quarter part" (CDIAL 7761); and le and lo, two forms of the verb "to take", which CDIAL lists as Old Marwari lei under Sanskrit labhate, "takes" (CDIAL 10948).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.4 पैसा ले लो। — the payment line on the page

Write it: ै on its own, then the words for what and this

What to know first

पैसा | ले | लो।

The same ल stands twice in a row, once with े and once with ो. Read it: the pair slowly and watch only the mark

It is the mark, not the letter, that tells the two words apart.

The word, taken apart

पैसा ले लो (paisā le lo) joins words with their own lessons: paisā, "money", from padāṃśa*, "quarter part" (CDIAL 7761); and le and lo, two forms of the verb "to take", which CDIAL lists as Old Marwari lei under Sanskrit labhate, "takes" (CDIAL 10948).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: all three words — then open the model and check the two marks on the two ल before anything else

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.5 Retrieve take it and the payment line

> Recall the three-counter request payoff. Write it: the request itself, then the words for how much and clarified butter

Your turn

Hear the word alone and the whole line, in both orders, and give each meaning. Read it: two cards

Write it: both from sound

Then say the line at speaking pace as if the money were in your hand.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.6 Hear do — give

> Recall the seven-word shopping payoff. Write it: the word for shop, then the word for take it

What to know first

do — give

One beat, like lo, and the same -o ending as every asking word so far. The two are a pair worth holding together: lo asks somebody to take, do asks them to give.

Say them alternately, four times, picturing the matching hand each time: taking for lo, giving for do. If the picture stops matching the word, slow down until it does.

The word, taken apart

do is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dadāti, "gives". CDIAL lists Marwari deṇo under it (CDIAL 6141). do is the asking form of this verb.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.7 दो — give, on the page

Say give, then write lentils and paternal grandfather.

What to know first

द + ो → दो — do — give

Two signs, and the द is the one that opens दाल and दादा. Write दो and लो side by side: same mark, different letter, opposite meanings. That pair is worth keeping on one line in your notes.

The word, taken apart

दो (do) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dadāti, "gives". CDIAL lists Marwari deṇo under it (CDIAL 6141). do is the asking form of this verb.

Your turn

Look at the pair, cover it, wait five seconds, and write both words from their meanings rather than their sounds: first give, then take it.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.8 Hear ākhrī — final

Write it: the counter-offer, then ख and the words for horse and give

What to know first

ākhrī — final; last

Three beats. The second carries the breathed kh you first met inside dikhāvo; say both words in a row and check that the breath falls in the same place.

A counter-offer can be answered with another counter-offer forever. ākhrī is the word that says this one is the end of it, and it is why the question in the next lesson gets a different kind of answer from the first price question.

The word, taken apart

ākhrī is a loan from Arabic ākhir, "last", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ʾ-ḫ-r (Lane). Persian āxirī, "final", added the ending -ī.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.9 आखरी — final, on the page

Say final, then write formal thanks and heat.

What to know first

आ + ख + री → आखरी — ākhrī — final

Four signs, all secure. The word opens on the standing आ of आभार, and its second sign is the ख you traced for दिखावो. Write दिखावो and आखरी one under the other and check that the ख is drawn the same way in both.

The word, taken apart

आखरी (ākhrī) is a loan from Arabic ākhir, "last", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ʾ-ḫ-r (Lane). Persian āxirī, "final", added the ending -ī.

Your turn

Look at आखरी, cover it, wait five seconds, and write it from the sound. Check the standing आ is at full height and the ी reaches above the headstroke.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.10 Hear kitṇo ākhrī bhāv doge? — what final price?

Say the first price question. Write it: the words for how much, price, final, and give

What to know first

kitṇo ākhrī bhāv doge? — what final price will you give?

Four words, four of them yours in some form. kitṇo asks, ākhrī closes, bhāv is the price you have been able to name since Chapter 18, and doge is the do of the last lesson with an ending that puts it in the future: not give, but will you give.

Learn the line as one heard shape. The ending on doge is real Marwadi machinery and it gets its own lesson later; taking it whole now costs nothing, because do has already been taught on its own.

The word, taken apart

kitṇo ākhrī bhāv doge joins words with their own lessons: kitṇo, "how much" (CDIAL 3167); ākhrī, "final", from Arabic ākhir, "last", through Persian; bhāv, "price" (CDIAL 9475); and doge, "will you give", a future of the verb CDIAL lists as Marwari deṇo under Sanskrit dadāti, "gives" (CDIAL 6141).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.11 कितणो आखरी भाव दोगे? — the closing question on the page

Write it: भ and ग on their own, then the word for brother

What to know first

Four written words. Three you have written alone; the fourth, दोगे, is the दो of two lessons ago with गे added. Write it: दो and दोगे one above the other, so the added part is the only difference on the page

The word, taken apart

कितणो आखरी भाव दोगे (kitṇo ākhrī bhāv doge) joins words with their own lessons: kitṇo, "how much" (CDIAL 3167); ākhrī, "final", from Arabic ākhir, "last", through Persian; bhāv, "price" (CDIAL 9475); and doge, "will you give", a future of the verb CDIAL lists as Marwari deṇo under Sanskrit dadāti, "gives" (CDIAL 6141).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: all four words — then open the model, repair only the word that changed, and rewrite that word alone

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.12 Retrieve give and final

Recall the five-word shopping payoff. Write it: the word for cheap, then the total question

Your turn

Hear each word out of its line and give its meaning. The three cards say दो, लो, आखरी. Read it: the three cards

Write it: all three from sound

Then rebuild the closing question from them and say it once at speaking pace.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.13 Payoff — close the bargain and pay

Recall the three-turn bargaining payoff. Write it: the words for money, price, and goods

Your turn

Two turns, and they only work in this order.

1. Hear both lines and say which one the buyer says and which one ends the exchange.
2. Produce both from meaning cues, straight after the three turns of Chapter 28.
3. Read it: both printed lines, then point to the two words that mean give and take
4. Write it: both from dictation, without a model

Pass each skill separately. A five-turn purchase now runs end to end. Nothing here understands a number: the amount a seller actually names is still untaught, and so is refusing the final price and walking away.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

29.14 Close the writing loop for ◌े, ◌ो and ◌ी

Recall the closing payoff. Write it: the words for paternal grandmother, maternal grandmother, and cart

Your turn

Write it: the three marks on their own from spoken cues — above the headstroke, after the stem, and reaching above the line; then add ख from its breath cue

Write it: लो, दो, ले, आखरी, and both lines of this chapter from dictation — in this chapter a mark rather than a letter often carries the meaning, so check every mark before you check any letter

Before you move on

Chapter 30

Bring It Over: The Food Counter's Own Word

Modes: voice (6) eyes (1) Hands-free start: the first of 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can order any of the seven food words this book has taught, and tell the five asking words apart by the job each one does.
> The asking word a food counter needs arrives by ear, joins a food noun in the shortest complete sentence this track writes, and the five asking words taught so far are then separated by job in four separately scored skills.

30.1 Hear lāvo — bring it

> Recall the closing payoff and the three-word transport payoff.
> Write it: the words for bus and make it

What to know first

> lāvo — bring it

Two beats, and the fourth asking word in this track. Say them in the order you met them: dikhāvo, karo, lo, do, lāvo. Every one ends the same way.

lāvo is the one a food counter needs. You do not ask for tea to be shown to you; you ask for it to be brought. The source prints it with a food word, which is exactly where the next lesson puts it.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL gives no Marwari row for lāvo, "bring". It lists Hindi lānā, "to bring", under Sanskrit labhate, "takes", in forms it explains as crossed with dadāti, "gives" (CDIAL 10948). The match is through Hindi.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

30.2 लावो — bring it, on the page

Say bring it, then write wind and show it.

What to know first

ला + वो → लावो — lāvo — bring it

Three signs, none new. Its ending वो is the same one that closes दिखावो. Write लो and लावो one under the other: same first letter, and everything after it is what separates taking from bringing.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL gives no Marwari row for लावो (lāvo), "bring". It lists Hindi lānā, "to bring", under Sanskrit labhate, "takes", in forms it explains as crossed with dadāti, "gives" (CDIAL 10948). The match is through Hindi.

Your turn

Look at the pair, cover it, wait five seconds, and write both from their meanings: first take it, then bring it.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

30.3 Hear chāy lāvo — bring tea

Recall the seven-word food payoff and say the request from Chapter 26. Write it: the words for the sweet crumbled wheat dessert, tea, and bring it

What to know first

chāy lāvo — bring tea

Two words. The food comes first and the asking word last, the same order you already use in ye kapṛā dikhāvo, with the pointing word left out because you are not choosing between cups in front of you.

Any of the seven food words fits the first slot. Say the line three times, with chāy, then roṭī, then dāl, and notice that nothing else in it moves.

The word, taken apart

chāy lāvo joins two words with their own lessons: chāy, "tea", usually traced to Persian chāy, from Chinese chá; and lāvo, "bring", which CDIAL matches only through Hindi lānā, "to bring", under Sanskrit labhate, "takes" (CDIAL 10948).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

30.4 चाय लावो। — the order on the page

Write it: ट, then the words for flatbread and hard wheat rolls

What to know first

चाय । लावो।

Two written words and a stop. Write it: the same line twice more, replacing चाय with रोटी and then with बाटी

Only the first word changes, and you have written all three of those words before.

The word, taken apart

चाय लावो (chāy lāvo) joins two words with their own lessons: chāy, "tea", usually traced to Persian chāy, from Chinese chá; and lāvo, "bring", which CDIAL matches only through Hindi lānā, "to bring", under Sanskrit labhate, "takes" (CDIAL 10948).

Your turn

Read it: the line once, then cover it for ten seconds

Write it: the line; then the two variants from memory — check that लावो is identical in all three

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

30.5 Retrieve bring it against the other four

Write it: the words for very and a little

Then say which one makes a description stronger.

Your turn

Five asking words are now in play. Hear them shuffled and give each meaning. The five cards say दिखावो, करो, लो, दो, लावो. Read it: the five cards

Write it: all five from sound, then the tea order

Say which of the five the tea order uses.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

30.6 Payoff — five asking words, five jobs

Recall the three-counter request payoff. Write it: the request itself

Your turn

All five end in the same sound and none of them is interchangeable.

1. Hear all five shuffled and name each one's job.
2. Produce all five from their jobs alone, without the sounds.
3. Read it: five cards, then match each to one line you already know
4. Write it: all five from dictation, then the tea order, the counter-offer, and the closing question that asks for a final price

Pass each skill separately. Five ways to ask is not five ways to be understood: refusing, thanking somebody for doing it, and asking again more softly are all still untaught.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

30.7 Close the writing loop for ल, व and च

Recall the five-word asking payoff. Write it: the words for child and wind

Your turn

Write it: five single signs from sound cues, ल, व, च, छ, ख, and mark which two carry the breath

Two of those five are breathed partners of the two before them. Say all five.

Write it: लावो, लो, दिखावो, चाय लावो।, and पाछे मिलसू from dictation — repair only the missed sign and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 31

One Exchange, Three Counters

Modes: 🚗 voice (6) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 6 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can run one five-turn counter exchange over the shopping, transport, and food words this book has already taught, changing nothing but the noun.
> Each of the three noun sets is run through the exchange in turn, the five least-drilled signs are retrieved alone, and the whole five-turn exchange then passes separately in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

31.1 The shopping map, inside the exchange

> Recall all three shopping payoffs in the order they were earned: three words, five words, seven words.

Your turn

Take the seven shopping words one at a time. For each one, say its meaning, then put it into the request from Chapter 26 and the price question from Chapter 27. Two of the seven do not fit a request slot at all: name them and say why.

Write it: all seven from dictation, then the two lines you built with the word that fits them best

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

31.2 The transport map, inside the exchange

> Recall both transport payoffs and say lentils. Write it: the total question

Your turn

Take the five transport words one at a time. Say each meaning, then price it with the question from Chapter 27 and answer with the counter-offer from Chapter 28. A fare is bargained exactly like a price, which is why no new line is needed here.

Write it: all five from dictation, then the price question with the word you would actually use standing at a roadside

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

31.3 The food map, inside the ordering line

> Recall all three food payoffs in the order they were earned. Write it: ट and य

Your turn

Take the seven food words one at a time. Say each meaning, then order it with the line from Chapter 30 and price it with the question from Chapter 27. Only the first word of the order changes; the asking word never does.

Write it: all seven from dictation, then three complete orders — the one you would ask for first, the one you would ask for last, and the drink

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6.

31.4 Five signs, on their own

> Recall the six-word weather payoff. Write it: the words for weather, heat, and cold

Your turn

Some signs in this track have been read a hundred times inside words and asked for on their own only once. This lesson asks for them alone, which is the only way to know whether they were learned.

Write it: each from a spoken cue, with nothing else on the line — ख, ट, श, ड़, ौ, ग, ड, ु, ई

Write it: one word that carries each — आखरी, रोटी, रिक्शा, थोड़ु, मौसम, गर्मी, ठंडी, दुकान, घी; repair only the missed sign and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Source: Unicode Devanagari chart.

31.5 Payoff — one exchange, three counters

Recall the five payoffs of this slice in order. Write it: the word for clarified butter

Your turn

Five turns, and the only thing that changes between counters is the noun.

1. Hear the five turns shuffled and put them in order, twice: once with a shopping noun, once with a transport noun.
2. Produce the whole exchange from meaning cues at a food stall, using the ordering line in place of the first turn.
3. Read it: all five printed turns, then say who speaks each
4. Write it: the whole exchange from dictation, without a model

Pass each skill separately. This is one function taught once and reused over three noun sets, not three exchanges learned three times. It still stops where numbers begin: no amount a seller names can yet be understood, and refusing the final price and leaving is untaught.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

31.6 Close the writing loop for ख

Recall the five-turn exchange payoff. Write it: the words for vegetables and clarified butter

Your turn

Write it: ख and क from breath cues alone, with nothing else on the line

Write it: four words from dictation, marking which of the two each one uses — दिखावो, आखरी, करो, कितणो

Two take the breath and two do not.

Write it: every word this slice added, from meaning cues rather than sounds — ये, लो, दो, लावो, घणो, थोड़ु, and the five turns of the exchange; repair only what was missed and rewrite that alone

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

Chapter 32

Counting To Five, And The One New Sign

Modes: voice (9) eyes (4) pen (1) Hands-free start: none of the 14 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can hear, say, read, and write the numbers one to five, after learning only ए.
> One new letter is isolated, then five numbers are built on signs the hand already had, and all five pass separately in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

32.1 ए — the mark, standing on its own

Write vegetables, then final, then पाछे मिलसू. Point at the stroke above the head-line in each one.

Script — the standing vowel

Stroke order after Saurmandal, 'Devanagari stroke order.svg', panels 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 5 August 2023
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ए is written, stroke by stroke

Since chapter 7 the hand has made ◌े — a short stroke hung above the head-line, riding on a consonant. It never stands by itself, because a mark is what a vowel looks like when a consonant is already carrying it.

ए — e — the same vowel with no consonant under it

A vowel that begins a word has nobody to ride on, so Devanagari gives it a letter of its own. Chapter 2 isolated आ for आभार and chapter 6 isolated ई for the same reason. ए is the third standing vowel this book has needed, and the first number is what needs it.

Your turn

Trace ए three times, then write ◌े beside it and say which of the two needs a consonant. Finish with क, which the next lesson puts to the right of ए.

Before you move on

This is the only sign the whole run of numbers adds.
Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

32.2 Hear ek — one

Say final, say the final-price question, say bring it. Write it: the letter from the last lesson

What to know first

ek — one

One beat, and the vowel is the one whose letter the hand made a moment ago.

A seller has been naming amounts since chapter 27 and this book has been unable to hear a single one of them. That stops here. ek is the first of twelve number words this slice teaches.

ek also does work inside numbers far larger than itself. Marwari counts down to a round number as readily as up from one: the dictionary records ekuṇcālīs for thirty-nine — one short of forty. Learn ek and a piece of thirty-nine comes with it.

The word, taken apart

ek is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from eka, "one". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 2462); the match is through Hindi ek and Gujarati ek. CDIAL traces it through a form with a doubled k, ēkka*, which it explains either as emphasis or as a Middle Indo-Aryan loan from Sanskrit.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

32.3 एक — one on the page

Recall the three-word food payoff, write the word for final, and write ए.

What to know first

ए + क → एक — ek — one

Nothing joins and nothing changes shape. The standing vowel keeps its own head -line stroke, क keeps its, and the two run together under one line.

The word, taken apart

एक (ek) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from eka, "one". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 2462); the match is through Hindi ek and Gujarati ek. CDIAL traces it through a form with a doubled k, ēkka*, which it explains either as emphasis or as a Middle Indo-Aryan loan from Sanskrit.

Your turn

Look at एक, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Check that the vowel letter, not the mark, is standing on the left.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

32.4 Hear do — two

Run the five-turn counter exchange in your head, say the final-price payoff, then say one.

What to know first

do — two

Chapter 29 taught do as an asking word: hand it over. This is the same sound and it will be the same two signs, with a second job.

Nothing marks which one is meant except where it stands. Before a thing, do counts it. After a thing, in a request, do asks for it. A learner who has met both hears the difference from the shape of the sentence, not from the word.

Rajasthani also prints बे (be) for two, alongside do. Both are in use; this book counts with do and names be so a printed page holding it is not a surprise.

The word, taken apart

do is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dva, "two". CDIAL lists Marwari do under it (CDIAL 6648). English two is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

32.5 दो — two on the page

Say flatbread, say the bring request, then say two.

What to know first

द + ो → दो — do — two

The hand made this word in chapter 29. What is new is on the meaning side only: one written form, two jobs.

That is worth stating plainly, because it is why a page of Marwari can look as though it contains no numbers at all. A reader counting occurrences of दो across this book finds seventeen of them, and every one is the asking word. The number had never been taught.

The word, taken apart

दो (do) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dva, "two". CDIAL lists Marwari do under it (CDIAL 6648). English two is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Write it: एक and दो one under the other; then पाणी दो। underneath, and mark which दो counts

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

32.6 Hear tīn — three

Recall the five-word asking payoff, say water, then count as far as this book has taken you.

What to know first

tīn — three

The vowel is long, and it is the same long vowel the ear learned in pāṇī in chapter 4. Hold it. A short one turns the number into something else.

Count aloud: ek, do, tīn. Three words in, and two of them arrived with no new sign for the hand at all.

The word, taken apart

tīn is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from trīṇi, "three". CDIAL lists Marwari tīn under it (CDIAL 5994). English three is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

32.7 तीन — three on the page

Say the final-price question. Write flatbread and put a finger on its retroflex ट. Then write one and two.

What to know first

त + ी + न → तीन — tīn — three

The त here is the dental one, made with the tongue against the teeth — not the ट of रोटी, which is made further back. The two look different on the page and sound different in the mouth, and three uses the front one.

The word, taken apart

तीन (tīn) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from trīṇi, "three". CDIAL lists Marwari tīn under it (CDIAL 5994). English three is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at तीन, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write ट beside त and say which one three needs.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

32.8 Hear chār — four

Say the hard wheat roll, say child, then count to three.

What to know first

chār — four

Say it and listen for the breath. There is no puff of air on the opening consonant. That plain ch is the one बच्चा doubles.

Hold on to that, because the next chapter opens six with the same consonant carrying a puff. In Marwari, four and six begin a breath apart.

Count: ek, do, tīn, chār.

The word, taken apart

chār is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from catvāri, "four". CDIAL lists Old Marwari cyāri under it (CDIAL 4655). Hindi and Gujarati have cār, as Marwadi does.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

32.9 चार — four on the page

Write the hard wheat roll, write the final-price question, then write three.

What to know first

च + ा + र → चार — chār — four

र was the first sign this book ever asked the hand to make, in chapter 1, on the way to राम. Thirty-one chapters later it closes the fourth number. Every sign in चार is older than the market this number is for.

The word, taken apart

चार (chār) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from catvāri, "four". CDIAL lists Old Marwari cyāri under it (CDIAL 4655). Hindi and Gujarati have cār, as Marwadi does.

Your turn

Look at चार, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write एक, दो, तीन, चार as a column and read the column back upward.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

32.10 Hear pāṅch — five

Recall the five-word food payoff and the four-skill final-price payoff, answer yes respectfully, then say four.

What to know first

pāṅch — five

The vowel is nasal: the air goes out through the nose as well as the mouth. The ear met that in हां सा in chapter 3, and five is the first number to use it.

Four and five also close and open on the same consonant. chār begins with the plain ch; pāṅch ends with it. Say them back to back and hear the sound move from the front of one word to the back of the other.

Count the whole set: ek, do, tīn, chār, pāṅch.

The word, taken apart

pāṅch is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pañca, "five". CDIAL lists Marwari pā̃c under it (CDIAL 7655). English five is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

32.11 पांच — five on the page

Write the respectful yes, write four, say the bring-it word, and recall the five-word food payoff.

What to know first

प + ◌ा + ◌ं + च → पांच — pāṅch — five

The dot above the head-line is the anusvara from chapter 3. It sits over हां and it sits over पां for the same reason: the vowel under it is nasal.

That is the whole cost of the first five numbers — one letter, ए, and one mark the hand had already been making since the third chapter.

The word, taken apart

पांच (pāṅch) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pañca, "five". CDIAL lists Marwari pā̃c under it (CDIAL 7655). English five is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at पांच, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Check the dot. Then write चार beneath it and mark the च in both.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

32.12 The five, taken apart

Run the five-turn counter exchange and ask the price question aloud. Write it: the bring-it word, then ए

Your turn

A run learned forwards is not yet a set of five words. Break it:

1. Hear one number on its own and say what it is. Then another, out of order.
2. Count backwards from five.
3. Read it: the five printed shuffled, then say each
4. Write it: तीन, पांच, एक, चार, दो from dictation, in that order

Write it: once more, only the one that missed

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

32.13 Payoff — counting to five

Say the crumbled wheat sweet, and say the bring request. Write it: the one letter this chapter added

Your turn

Four skills, scored separately.

1. Listening. Hear five numbers named singly and out of order. Write it: which was said each time, in figures of your own language
2. Speaking. Count one to five, then five to one, without a model.

3. Read it: the five printed in Devanagari, shuffled, then say each
4. Writing. Write it: all five from dictation, shuffled, with no model in view

Pass each one separately. A learner who can recite forwards and fails the shuffle has learned a rhyme, not five words.

This is the first amount the book can hear a seller name. What it still cannot do is hear anything above five, and a Rajasthani market prices very little at five or under.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

32.14 Close the writing loop for ए, क and च

Recall the counting payoff and the five-word asking payoff.
Write it: the word for the crumbled wheat sweet

Your turn

Write it: three single signs from sound cues — ए, क, च; then the mark ◌े beside ए

Say which of the two can stand at the front of a word.

Write it: एक, दो, तीन, चार, पांच from dictation, shuffled — repair only the missed sign and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Chapter 33

Six To Ten

Modes: voice (9) eyes (4) Hands-free start: the first 3 of 13 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can hear, say, read, and write every number from one to ten, in any order.
> Five more numbers arrive with no new sign at all, and the whole run of ten is then scored shuffled in each of the four skills.

33.1 Hear chha — six

Recall the counting payoff, say tea, then say four.

- Recall: chār from the last chapter, and its plain ch, the one with no puff of air

What to know first

chha — six

Listen for the breath again. chār moves nothing. chha pushes a puff of air out with the consonant.

That single difference is the whole of it. The tongue does the same thing in both words; the lungs do not. Marwari keeps that contrast everywhere, and here it separates two numbers that sit next to each other on a price ticket.

The same number is also printed chhe, with a vowel mark after the consonant. Both are in use; count with the bare form for now and read the other when a page prints it.

The word, taken apart

chha is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It goes back to Sanskrit ṣaṣ, "six": CDIAL lists Marwari cha under a variant it reconstructs, kṣaṭ* (CDIAL 12803).

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

33.2 छ — six on the page

Write it: य, then ए, then the word for four

What to know first

छ — chha — six

One sign, made in chapter 9, and nothing added to it.

The other printed spelling is छे, and it is worth a moment. That is छ with the mark of the letter chapter 32 taught — the same vowel, riding on a consonant instead of standing alone. It is also, exactly, the second syllable of पाछे. A chunk the hand has been writing since chapter 9 turns out to be a number.

The word, taken apart

छ (chha) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It goes back to Sanskrit ṣaṣ, "six": CDIAL lists Marwari cha under a variant it reconstructs, kṣaṭ* (CDIAL 12803).

Your turn

Write it: छ, then छे beneath it, then ए beside both

Say which of the three stands alone and which two need something under them.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

33.3 Hear sāt — seven

Give the greeting this book opened with, then say six and three.

- Recall: tīn and its long vowel, two chapters back

What to know first

sāt — seven

The first syllable is sā. That is the respect particle at the end of राम-राम सा, the first thing this book ever taught. The sound has been in the ear since page one; only its job here is new.

Seven closes on the dental t of tīn, not the retroflex one. Front of the mouth at both ends.

The word, taken apart

sāt is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from sapta, "seven". CDIAL lists Marwari sāt under it (CDIAL 13139). English seven is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

33.4 सात — seven on the page

Write tea, then write six.

What to know first

सा + त → सात — sāt — seven

सा was the second word-piece this book asked the hand to build, in chapter

1. Seven is that piece with a dental त after it, and nothing else.

The word, taken apart

सात (sāt) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from sapta, "seven". CDIAL lists Marwari sāt under it (CDIAL 13139). English seven is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at सात, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write तीन under it and mark the त in both.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

33.5 Hear āṭh — eight

Recall the seven-word food payoff, offer formal thanks, then say seven.

- Recall: chār and pāñch, and which of the two carries a nasal

What to know first

āṭh — eight

It opens on the long ā of आभार, standing on its own with no consonant in front of it. Of the ten numbers this slice teaches, eight is the only one that does that.

The closing consonant is retroflex: the tongue curls back, as in ठंडी. Do not close it at the teeth, or seven and eight begin to sound alike.

The word, taken apart

āṭh is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from aṣṭā, "eight". CDIAL lists Marwari āṭh under it (CDIAL 941). English eight is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

33.6 आठ — eight on the page

Write formal thanks, then write seven.

What to know first

आ + ठ → आठ — āṭh — eight

Two letters, both of them years old in this book's own timeline: आ from chapter 2 and ठ from chapter 17. Nothing is joined, nothing is marked.

Compare सात and आठ side by side. Seven takes the vowel as a mark on a consonant; eight takes the same vowel as a letter, because there is no consonant for it to sit on.

The word, taken apart

आठ (āṭh) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from aṣṭā, "eight". CDIAL lists Marwari āṭh under it (CDIAL 941). English eight is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at आठ, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write सात above it and circle the long ā in each.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

33.7 Hear no — nine

Say this one, say very, then say eight.

- Recall: ek and the letter ए you had to learn to write it

What to know first

no — nine

One consonant, one long vowel, and it rhymes with do. Two and nine are the only numbers in this run that short.

This is not the English word no. Marwadi has not yet given this book any word for refusing at all, which is a real gap and not a spelling accident: a learner who mishears no as a refusal will walk away from a fair price.

The word, taken apart

no is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nava, "nine". CDIAL lists Old Marwari nova under it (CDIAL 6984). English nine is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

33.8 नो — nine on the page

Write this one, then write eight.

What to know first

न + ो → नो — no — nine

Write दो and नो one under the other. The mark on the right is the same in both. Only the letter carrying it changes, and with it the number.

The word, taken apart

नो (no) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nava, "nine". CDIAL lists Old Marwari nova under it (CDIAL 6984). English nine is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at नो, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write दो beside it and read the pair aloud without looking.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

33.9 Hear das — ten

Say show it to me, say five, then say nine.

- Recall: chha and the puff of air that separates it from chār

What to know first

das — ten

Short vowel this time, closed off at once by s. Nothing is held.

das is the first number in this book that a Rajasthani market is likely to say out loud. Almost nothing on a stall is priced under ten, which is why a course that stopped at five could ask the price four different ways and still not understand the answer.

The comparative dictionary of the Indo-Aryan languages lists this form for Marwari by name, under the Sanskrit word for ten.

The word, taken apart

das is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from daśa, "ten". CDIAL lists Marwari das under it (CDIAL 6227). English ten is the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

33.10 दस — ten on the page

Write ख, then write nine.

What to know first

द + स → दस — das — ten

Bare consonants. No mark rides above the line and none hangs below it, because the vowel between them is the short a that every Devanagari consonant carries without being told.

The द is two's; the स is seven's. Ten is written out of pieces the hand already made for other numbers.

The word, taken apart

दस (das) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from daśa, "ten". CDIAL lists Marwari das under it (CDIAL 6227). English ten is the same ancient word.

Your turn

Look at दस, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write दो beside it and say what the mark on the second one does to the vowel.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

33.11 Ten words, shuffled

Write it: the show-request word

Recall the counting payoff from the last chapter. Write it: ए

Your turn

Two runs of five are still two runs until they are mixed.

1. Hear ten numbers named singly, drawn from across the whole set, and say each.

2. Count backwards from ten to one.
3. Read it: आठ, तीन, दस, छ, एक, नो printed in that order, then say each
4. Write it: सात, पांच, नो, दो, दस from dictation

Then say which pairs share a sign: two and nine, seven and ten, four and five.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

33.12 Payoff — counting to ten

Recall the five-number payoff. Write it: the letter that made it possible

Your turn

Four skills, scored separately.

1. Listening. Hear ten numbers named singly and out of order. Write it: each in figures of your own language
2. Speaking. Count one to ten, then ten to one, with no model.
3. Read it: all ten printed in Devanagari, shuffled, then say each
4. Writing. Write it: all ten from dictation, shuffled, with no model in view

Pass each one separately.

Look back at what the hand had to learn for this: one letter, ए. Every other sign in all ten words was already in the book. A reader who felt the numbers were going to be a wall of new writing has the evidence in front of them that they were not.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

33.13 Close the writing loop for छ, ठ and स

Recall the ten-number payoff and say the show request. Write it: the word for market

Your turn

Write it: three single signs from sound cues — छ, ठ, स; then च beside छ, and mark which of the two carries the breath

Write it: छ, सात, आठ, नो, दस from dictation — repair only the missed sign and rewrite its word once

Before you move on

Chapter 34

Twenty, A Hundred, And A Price With A Figure In It

Modes: voice (7) eyes (4) Hands-free start: the first of 11 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can understand the amount a seller names and answer it with a figure of my own.
> The round amounts a stall names are taught, the price question of chapter 27 finally gets an answer, and an old verb takes a figure to become a counter-offer.

34.1 Hear bīs — twenty

Recall the ten-number payoff. Write it: the show request

Then say ten.

- Recall: chār and pāṅch, two chapters back, and the च they share

What to know first

bīs — twenty

Long ī, then the same closing s as das. Marwari marks its tens with that s: das, bīs.

Twenty arrives before the numbers between ten and twenty, and that is not an accident of ordering. Marwari builds nineteen by subtraction — ughaṇīs, one short of twenty — the same way the dictionary records ekuṇcālīs, one short of forty, for thirty-nine. A language that counts down to its round numbers has to be taught the round number first. Teaching the teens before twenty would print twenty in bold in a lesson that had not taught it.

The word, taken apart

bīs is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from viṃśati, "twenty". CDIAL lists Old Marwari bīsa under it (CDIAL 11616).

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

34.2 बीस — twenty on the page

Recall the four-skill show payoff, then write ten.

What to know first

ब + ी + स → बीस — bīs — twenty

Every piece is second-hand. ब came in with बस, the bus. ी came in with पाणी. स closes दस as well.

Write दस and बीस one under the other and look at the last sign of each.

The word, taken apart

बीस (bīs) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from viṃśati, "twenty". CDIAL lists Old Marwari bīsa under it (CDIAL 11616).

Your turn

Look at बीस, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write दस and तीन beneath and mark the long ी where it appears.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

34.3 Hear so — a hundred

Say how much, say twenty, then say nine.

- Recall: chha and sāt, two chapters back, and where each closes

What to know first

so — a hundred

One consonant and one long vowel. The largest number this book teaches is the shortest word in it.

Say do, no, so. Two, nine, a hundred: all three are one consonant plus the same long o, and nothing but that consonant tells them apart. At a noisy counter this is where a price gets misheard, so it is worth drilling the three together rather than in the order they were taught.

The word, taken apart

so is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from śata, "hundred". CDIAL lists Old Marwari sau under it (CDIAL 12278). English hundred holds a cousin of the same ancient word.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

34.4 सो — a hundred on the page

Say how much, then write twenty.

What to know first

स + ो → सो — so — a hundred

Now write the three short ones in a column: दो, नो, सो. The mark on the right never changes. The letter on the left is the entire difference between two, nine and a hundred.

That column is worth keeping. It is the one place in this book where a single mistaken stroke changes a price by a factor of fifty.

The word, taken apart

सो (so) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from śata, "hundred". CDIAL lists Old Marwari sau under it (CDIAL 12278). English hundred holds a cousin of the same ancient word.

Your turn

Write दो, नो, सो from dictation, given out of order, three times over. Then read your own column back and say each amount.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

34.5 Hear the answer — bīs.

Write it: the words for how much

Then say a hundred and twenty.

- Recall: āṭh and no, two chapters back, and which of the two opens on a standing vowel

What to know first

ye kitṇe kū hai? — how much is this?

bīs. — twenty.

Chapter 27 taught the question. The answer had no words in it, so a learner who asked got a sound back and nothing else.

The answer turn is one word long. A seller names the figure and stops; there is no verb, no unit, no sentence. That is what makes it hearable — the whole of it is a number, and this book now has twelve of them.

Hear the same question answered das, bīs, so in turn and say which is dearest.

The word, taken apart

In the question and its answer, the new piece is bīs, "twenty", which CDIAL lists as Old Marwari bīsa under Sanskrit viṃśati, "twenty" (CDIAL 11616). The question words have their own lessons: kitṇe from kiyatta*, "how great" (CDIAL 3167), and hai, "is" (CDIAL 1031).

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

34.6 ये कितणे कू है? — बीस।

Say the price question. Write it: the words for ten and a hundred

What to know first

ये कितणे कू है? — बीस।

The question was writable in chapter 27. The answer became writable two lessons ago. Putting them on one line adds no sign at all.

Note the danda after the answer. A price is a complete turn even at one word long, and Devanagari closes it the same way it closes a sentence.

The word, taken apart

In the question and its answer, the new piece is बीस (bīs), "twenty", which CDIAL lists as Old Marwari bīsa under Sanskrit viṃśati, "twenty" (CDIAL 11616). The question words have their own lessons: kitṇe from kiyatta*, "how great" (CDIAL 3167), and hai, "is" (CDIAL 1031).

Your turn

Write it: the question and answer as two lines; then the answer line three more times, with दस, बीस and सो in turn, and read each pair aloud

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

34.7 Hear das karo — make it ten

Write it: the price question

Say make it, then say five.

- Recall: das, and the two bare consonants it is written with

What to know first

das karo. — make it ten.

Chapter 28 taught thoṛu sasto karo — make it a bit cheaper. That is a wish. It names no figure, so the seller decides what a bit means.

Put a number where thoṛu sasto stood and the same verb becomes an offer. The buyer names the price now.

Hear the pair run end to end: the seller says bīs, the buyer says das karo. This is the first exchange in the book where both sides have said an amount.

The word, taken apart

das karo joins two inherited words with their own lessons: das, "ten", which CDIAL lists as Marwari das under Sanskrit daśa (CDIAL 6227), and karo, "make", from Sanskrit karoti, "does" (CDIAL 2814).

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

34.8 दस करो। — make it ten

Write it: the price answer, then the word for twenty on its own

What to know first

दस + करो। → दस करो। — das karo. — make it ten

Nothing new for the hand. करो came in with the bargaining request, दस came in two chapters ago, and the number goes in front.

Swap the figure and the offer changes: पांच करो।, बीस करो।. The verb never moves.

The word, taken apart

दस करो (das karo) joins two inherited words with their own lessons: das, "ten", which CDIAL lists as Marwari das under Sanskrit daśa (CDIAL 6227), and karo, "make", from Sanskrit karoti, "does" (CDIAL 2814).

Your turn

Write it: दस करो। from a cover; then the same line twice more with पांच and बीस in the number slot, and read all three aloud as offers against a seller's सो।

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

34.9 The three round amounts

Ask how much altogether, hear twenty, and offer ten.

Your turn

1. Hear दस, बीस, सो in any order and say each.
2. Say which two share a closing sign, and which two share a vowel mark.
3. Write the three-way column दो, नो, सो and read it back.
4. Write दस, बीस, सो from dictation, given out of order.

Then run four counter-offers: hear a price, halve it, and say the offer.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

34.10 Payoff — a price, understood and answered

Write it: the total question and the make-it word

Then recall the ten-number payoff.

Your turn

Three turns, scored in four skills.

1. Listening. Hear the price question answered with a figure, ten times over with different figures. Write it: each amount
2. Speaking. Ask the price, hear a figure, and answer with a counter-offer that names a lower one.
3. Read it: six printed exchanges, then say, for each, what the seller asked and what the buyer offered
4. Writing. Write it: a whole three-turn exchange from dictation, with no model

Pass each separately.

This is what the numbers were for. Chapters 26 to 31 built a five-turn counter exchange in which the buyer could ask a price four different ways and understand no answer to any of them. The turn that was missing was one word long.

Still untaught: any figure between ten and twenty, and any way of refusing an offer and walking away.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

34.11 Close the writing loop for ब, स and ो

> Recall the numbered-price payoff, then recall the four-skill price payoff from chapter 27 and say what the second one could not do.

Your turn

Write two single signs and one mark from sound cues: ब, स, ो.

Then write दो, नो, सो as a column, given out of order, and finish with बीस and दस करो। from dictation. Repair only the missed sign and rewrite its word once.

Before you move on

Chapter 35

The Ten Digit Signs

Modes: 🚗 voice (6) ✓ pen (4) 🚗 Hands-free start: none of the 10 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can read a price written in Devanagari figures and write one from dictation.
> Ten digit signs arrive three at a time, each set cashed against the words it writes, and the four that a Latin eye reads wrongly are drilled apart from the six that it guesses correctly.

35.1 ० १ २ — the first three digits

> Recall the numbered-price payoff, then write ten, twenty and a hundred in words.

Script — the first three figures

Everything this chapter has written so far has been a number in words. A Rajasthani stall does not label anything in words. It writes figures, and Devanagari has its own ten.

> ० — zero १ — one २ — two

Look at where the ink sits. Each of these hangs from a stroke along the top, the same head-line that carries क and न and every other letter in this book. That is the quickest way to tell a Devanagari digit from a Latin one on a mixed sign.

Your turn

Trace ०, १, २ three times each. Say the Marwadi word for the second and third as you write them.

Before you move on

Sources: Unicode Devanagari chart; Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

35.2 १० — reading ten off a ticket

Say very. Write it: the price question with its answer

- Recall: bīs, and why twenty had to be taught before the numbers under it

Your turn

१० — das — ten

The three signs from the last lesson already spell three amounts this book knows.

1. Read it: १, २ and १० aloud as ek, do and das
2. Write it: each of the three in words, underneath its figure
3. Cover: the figures
4. Write it: the figures again, from the words
5. Hear das. Point to: १० rather than दस

Reading a figure and reading a word are two different skills, and a stall gives the learner the figure.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

35.3 ३ ४ ५ — three digits, two of them traps

Write very, write three in words, then write the digit for one.

Script — three more figures

३ — three ४ — four ५ — five

Take them one at a time and set each beside the Latin figure a reader of this book already knows.

३ gives little trouble. ४ and ५ give a great deal: a reader who glances at ४ sees an eight, and a reader who glances at ५ sees a four. Neither guess is right, and both are wrong in the direction that matters at a counter.

Read them slowly for now. Speed on these two is worth nothing.

Your turn

Trace ३, ४, ५ three times each, saying tīn, chār, pāṅch as you go. Then write ४ and ५ side by side and say aloud which is which without looking at this page.

Before you move on

Sources: Unicode Devanagari chart; Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

35.4 ३ ४ ५ against their words

Say the too-expensive answer, and say an offer of five aloud.
Write it: an offer of ten

- Recall: so, and the two other words that rhyme with it

Your turn

Run each digit in both directions. Reading only one way is how a lookalike survives practice.

1. Read it: ३, ५, ४, १, १० aloud, in that order
2. Write it: the word under each figure — तीन, पांच, चार, एक, दस

3. Now go the other way: hear chār and pāṅch. Write it: the FIGURE, not the word

4. Write it: ४ and ५ from dictation, five times, given out of order

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

35.5 ६ ७ ८ — the last two traps

Write the too-expensive answer, then write the digits for four and five.

Script — the last three of the traps

६ — six ७ — seven ८ — eight

६ is close enough to its Latin cousin that a reader guesses it correctly. The other two are not.

७ carries a hook that pulls the eye towards a nine. ८ is closed and round and looks more like a letter than a figure. Both stand next to ६ here on purpose: a trap is easiest to learn beside something safe.

Your turn

Trace ६, ७, ८ three times each, saying chha, sāt, āṭh as you go. Then cover the models and write ७ and ८ from the words alone.

Before you move on

Sources: Unicode Devanagari chart; Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

35.6 ८ and २० — one figure, then two

Write it: the price question with its answer, then the digits for six and seven

- Recall: the danda that closes a one-word price, two chapters back

Your turn

८ — āṭh — eight

२० — bīs — twenty

२० is not a two and a zero read one after the other. It is one amount, and its name is a word with no two and no ten inside it.

1. Read it: ६, ७, ८ aloud, then १० and २०
2. Write it: the word under each of the five
3. Hear sāt, chha, bīs. Write it: the FIGURE each time
4. Write it: २० and ८ from dictation, given out of order

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

35.7 ९ — the tenth digit

Say a little, then write the digits for seven and eight.

Script — the tenth figure

९ — nine — no

Like ३ and ६, this one a Latin eye can very nearly guess, and unlike ७ the guess is right.

With ९ the set is closed. Ten digit signs, taught across four lessons, and the eye can now read any figure a stall prints as far as the words go.

Write ९ and नो side by side. The figure and the word for nine share nothing at all — which is the whole reason the figures had to be taught separately.

Your turn

Trace ९ three times. Then write the whole run ० १ २ ३ ४ ५ ६ ७ ८ ९ once, slowly, saying the Marwadi word for each from one onward.

Before you move on

Sources: Unicode Devanagari chart; Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

35.8 १, २०, १०० — one figure, two, three

Write it: the word for a little, then an offer of five

- Recall: ४ and ५, and which Latin figures each is mistaken for

Your turn

१ — no २० — bīs १०० — so

Three tickets, one to three figures long, and the words behind them run the other way: the longest ticket carries the shortest word.

1. Read it: the three aloud, then read them again shuffled
2. Write it: each amount in words, beneath its figures
3. Hear so, no, bīs. Write it: the FIGURES each time
4. Read it: six mixed tickets — ५, १००, ७, २०, ३, १ — then say each amount without pausing on the trap digits

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Unicode Devanagari chart.

35.9 Payoff — the printed price

Recall the numbered-price payoff, then say the make-it word.

Your turn

Four skills, scored separately.

1. Listening. Hear twelve amounts named. Write it: each as a Devanagari figure
2. Reading aloud. Read it: twelve printed tickets aloud as Marwadi words, including every one of ४, ५, ७ and ८
3. Read it: the labels on a stall of six goods, then say which is dearest and which is cheapest
4. Writing. Write it: all ten digits from dictation, out of order, then १०, २० and १००

Pass each separately. A learner who reads the safe digits fluently and stalls on the four traps has not passed; those four are the ones a ticket will punish.

Before you move on

35.10 Close the writing loop for ४, ५, ७ and ८

Recall the ticket payoff. Write it: the make-it word and an offer of twenty

Your turn

Write it: four single figures from spoken cues, given out of order, twice through — ४, ५, ७, ८

Write it: the word beside each — चार, पांच, सात, आठ; repair only the missed figure and write its pair once more

Before you move on

Chapter 36

One Exchange, Two Figures

Modes: 🚗 voice (7) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can run a six-turn counter exchange in which both sides name an amount, at a shop, a food stall, and a rickshaw.
> The twelve numbers and ten figures are retrieved at a distance, run over the shopping, food, and transport words in turn, and the five-turn exchange of chapter 31 is then re-run with the seller's figure and the buyer's offer in it.

36.1 The whole count, at a distance

> Say the bargaining request, and recall the five-number payoff from four chapters back. Write it: ৭

- Recall: ৬ and ৫, and which Latin figure each is mistaken for

Your turn

Everything, shuffled, with no chapter to give the answer away.

1. Hear twelve amounts named singly and out of order; say each back.
2. Read it: twelve printed figures, then say each as a word
3. Write it: six amounts from dictation in words and six in figures, the choice named only as you write

4. Say the three that rhyme, the two that end in the tens स, and the four figures a Latin eye reads wrongly.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

36.2 The shopping map, with prices on it

Write it: the bargaining request

Then recall the seven-word shopping payoff.

Your turn

Take the seven shopping words one at a time. For each one:

1. Ask its price with the question from chapter 27.
2. Hear a figure back and say the amount aloud.
3. Offer a lower figure with करो।
4. Write it: the seller's amount as a Devanagari figure, and your own as a word

The word भाव has meant price since chapter 18 and could not be answered until now. Say what changed.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

36.3 The food map, ordered and paid for

Recall the seven-word food payoff. Write it: the bring request and the word that carries it

- Recall: दस करो।, and the chapter-28 request it replaced

Your turn

Take the seven food words one at a time.

1. Order it with लावो।
2. Ask what it costs and hear a figure between ek and das.
3. Say the amount, then hand over the money with the chapter-30 turn.
4. Write it: the amount twice, once as a word and once as a figure

A stall prices tea at pāṅch and a plate at das. This is where the first five numbers stop being a recitation.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

36.4 The transport map, with a fare on it

Recall the five-word transport payoff and the four-skill bargaining payoff. Write it: the word for bus

- Recall: १०० and सो, and which of the two is longer

Your turn

Take the five transport words one at a time.

1. Ask the fare with the price question.
2. Hear a figure — a rickshaw across a town centre asks bīs rather than pāṅch.
3. Offer a lower one with करो।, and say the amount aloud twice so the driver hears the same figure you meant.
4. Write it: both figures, the asked and the offered

Say why this exchange has to be finished before the journey and not after it.

Before you move on

Source: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

36.5 The five least-drilled signs

Write it: the price question and the word for very

Then recall the ticket payoff.

Your turn

Write it: five signs, alone, from spoken cues and with no word around them — ए, ४, ५, ७, ८

Then put each back to work once. ए opens एक and its mark rides over the second spelling of six; the four figures write four of this slice's twelve amounts. Write it: those six things — check each sign against the model only after writing it

Before you move on

Sources: Unicode Devanagari chart; Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

36.6 Payoff — one exchange, with an amount in it

Run the five-turn counter exchange from chapter 31, and say the take-it word. Write it: the paying turn, then ए

Your turn

Six turns now, and two of them are numbers.

1. ये कपड़ा दिखावो। — show me this cloth
2. ये कितणे कू है? — how much is this?
3. बीस। — twenty
4. ये घणो महंगो है। — this is very expensive

5. दस करो। — make it ten
6. पैसा ले लो। — take the money

Run it in four separately scored skills, over the shopping words, the food words and the transport words in turn, changing nothing but the noun and the two figures.

Turn 3 is what chapter 31 could not hear and turn 5 is what it could not say. Everything else on this list has been in the book since chapter 30.

Before you move on

Sources: Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 6; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 10.

36.7 Close the numeral slice

Recall the six-turn payoff. Write it: the take-it word, and the bargaining request it now shares a chapter with

Your turn

Write it: everything this slice added, from dictation, with no model in view — then repair only what missed

1. The letter: ए, and the mark े beside it.
2. The twelve words, shuffled, from एक to सो.
3. The ten figures, shuffled, from ० to ९.
4. The two turns: बीस। and दस करो।

Say what the whole slice cost the hand: one letter and ten figures, against twelve numbers and a bargaining turn that finally has a figure in it.

Chapter 37

Eleven to Fifteen

Modes: voice (6) eyes (5) pen (1) Hands-free start: none of the 12 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say and write eleven to fifteen in Marwadi, and name the one of them that does not rhyme with the rest.
> The five teens heard singly out of order, read printed, written from dictation, and sorted by the ending that four of them share.

37.1 इ — the fourth standing vowel

Say the line that closes a bargain — paisā le lo — and write the ि mark on any consonant you like.

Script — the mark, standing on its own

How it is written — 2 strokes · 1 pen lift · 5 movements

Stroke order after Saurmandal, 'Devanagari 𑀇 stroke order.svg', panels 1–2, Wikimedia Commons, 5 August 2023
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How इ is written, stroke by stroke

इ — i — the vowel with no consonant under it

Since chapter 7 the hand has made ि, the hook that leans in front of the consonant it is read after. A vowel that opens a word has nothing to lean on, so Devanagari gives it a letter that stands on the line by itself.

आ was isolated in chapter 2, ई in chapter 6, ए in chapter 32 for the first number. इ is the fourth, and eleven is what needs it.

Your turn

Trace इ three times. Write ि beside it and say which of the two can begin a word on its own. Then look at ई and mark the one stroke that separates the two standing letters.

Before you move on

This is the first of the four signs the teens will ask for.
Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

37.2 Hear igyārā — eleven

- Write it: इ from memory, the letter the last lesson stood up — R1
- Recall: run the numbered price exchange once, seller's figure and all — R3
- Write it: पैसा ले लो from memory — R4

What to know first

igyārā — eleven

The count so far stopped at das, ten, and jumped to bīs, twenty. This is the first of the nine words that fill the gap.

Say it in three beats: i-gyā-rā. The middle beat carries a gy cluster that has to stay one sound, not two — the tongue is already at the palate for the y while the g is still closing.

The word, taken apart

igyārā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ekādaśa, "eleven". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 2485); the match is through Hindi igārah and Gujarati agyār. It is eka, "one", and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

37.3 इग्यारा — eleven on the page

- Recall: say igyārā aloud before you look at it — R1

What to know first

इ + ग्या + रा → इग्यारा — igyārā — eleven

Three pieces, and only the first is new. ग्या is ग with its upright stem cut away and या joined on behind it — the same virama ् you have been writing since chapter 4, doing the job it exists for: two consonants, one breath, no vowel between them.

रा is chapter 1's र with the ा you have written more often than any other mark in this book.

The word, taken apart

इग्यारा (igyārā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ekādaśa, "eleven". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 2485); the match is through Hindi igārah and Gujarati agyār. It is eka, "one", and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Copy इग्यारा once while looking. Then write the three pieces apart — इ, ग्या, रा — and point at the stem that ग gave up.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

37.4 Hear bārā — twelve

- Write it: इग्यारा from memory — R1
- Write it: the figures ०, १ and २ from memory — R3
- Recall: say do, "give", and say which of its two jobs this is — R4

What to know first

bārā — twelve

Two is do. Twelve is bārā, and there is no do in it — the b is what is left of an older word for two that Marwari kept only inside the teens. English does the same thing with two and twelve, where the tw- survives and the rest does not.

The ending -ārā is the one igyārā had. From here to nineteen you will hear it again and again: the teens are a set that rhymes.

The word, taken apart

bārā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dvādaśa, "twelve". CDIAL lists Old Marwari bārā under it (CDIAL 6658). It is dva, "two", and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

37.5 बारा — twelve on the page

- Recall: say bārā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: write दो — R4

What to know first

बा + रा → बारा — bārā — twelve

Two pieces, no new sign, and both halves take the same ◌ा. ब came in with bīs; र has been in the hand since the first greeting.

Written beside दो, the point the ear made is visible: twelve and two share one letter and nothing else.

The word, taken apart

बारा (bārā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dvādaśa, "twelve". CDIAL lists Old Marwari bārā under it (CDIAL 6658). It is dva, "two", and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Look at बारा, cover it, wait five seconds, write it. Then write इग्यारा under it and ring the रा that ends both.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

37.6 Hear terā — thirteen

- Write it: बारा from memory — R1
- Write it: इ from memory, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: run the six-turn numbered exchange once — R2
- Write it: the figures ३, ४ and ५ from memory — R3
- Recall: say ākhrī — R4

What to know first

terā — thirteen

Three is tīn. Thirteen is terā: the t stays, the long ī flattens to e, and the teens ending arrives. Two beats, both short of effort — te-rā.

You have now heard the pattern three times, and it is the pattern rather than the words that is worth holding: a consonant off the small number, then -ārā or -erā.

The word, taken apart

terā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It goes back to Sanskrit trayodaśa, "thirteen": CDIAL lists Marwari terā under a variant it reconstructs, trayēdaśa* (CDIAL 6001). It is "three" and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

37.7 तेरा — thirteen on the page

- Recall: say terā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: say igyārā, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: write आखरी — R4

What to know first

ते + रा → तेरा — terā — thirteen

The े above त is the mark chapter 7 taught and chapter 32 stood up as the letter ए. Here it is doing its ordinary job again, riding on a consonant.

The word, taken apart

तेरा (terā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It goes back to Sanskrit trayodaśa, "thirteen": CDIAL lists Marwari terā under a variant it reconstructs, trayēdaśa* (CDIAL 6001). It is "three" and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Write तेरा from memory after five seconds covered. Then write बारा and इग्यारा beneath it and read the three down the page, ending in रा each time.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

37.8 Hear caudā — fourteen

- Write it: तेरा from memory — R1
- Write it: इग्यारा from memory, five lessons back — R2
- Write it: the figures ६, ७ and ८ from memory — R3
- Recall: ask kitṇo ākhrī bhāv doge? — R4

What to know first

caudā — fourteen

Four is chār. Fourteen keeps the ch and then does something none of the others do: it ends -dā, not -rā.

That is worth marking rather than smoothing over. Three teens in a row have rhymed and the fourth breaks the rhyme, so this is the one in the set most likely to be misremembered as chaurā. It is not.

The au is the diphthong of mausam, the weather word from chapter 16 — the mouth already knows it.

The word, taken apart

caudā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from caturdaśa, "fourteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4605); the match is through Hindi caudah and Gujarati cauda. It is catur, "four", and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

37.9 चौदा — fourteen on the page

- Recall: say caudā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: say bārā, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: write कितणो आखरी भाव दोगे? — R4

What to know first

चौ + दा → चौदा — caudā — fourteen

The ौ is the mark मौसम taught, and द has been in the hand since do. Nothing here is new; what is new is the pairing.

The word, taken apart

चौदा (caudā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from caturdaśa, "fourteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4605); the match is through Hindi caudah and Gujarati cauda. It is catur, "four", and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Write चौदा from memory after five seconds. Then write तेरा beside it and ring the two different last letters — र and द — so the eye records the break the ear heard.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

37.10 Hear pandarā — fifteen

Write these out:

- चौदा from memory — R1
- तेरा from memory, five lessons back — R2
- the figure ९ from memory — R3
- बारा from memory — R2

What to know first

pandarā — fifteen

Five is pāṅch. Fifteen keeps the p and the nasal, and the -arā rhyme is back after fourteen broke it.

Three beats: pan-da-rā. The nasal in the middle is the same one already in pāṅch — the sound the anusvara writes.

The word, taken apart

pandarā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pañcadaśa, "fifteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7662); the match is through Hindi pandrā. It is pañca, "five", and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

37.11 पंदरा — fifteen on the page

- Recall: say pandarā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: write चौदा, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: run the final-price exchange once, all four turns — R4
- Recall: say terā — R2

What to know first

पं + द + रा → पंदरा — pandarā — fifteen

The dot over प is the anusvara from chapter 3, the one हां needed. There it nasalised a vowel; here it stands for a full n before द. Same mark, and the letter after it decides what it sounds like.

The word, taken apart

पंदरा (pandarā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pañcadaśa, "fifteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7662); the match is through Hindi pandrā. It is pañca, "five", and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Write पंदरा from memory after five seconds. Then write हां beside it and say what the same dot is doing in each.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

37.12 Eleven to fifteen, heard and written

- Write it: पंदरा from memory — R1
- Write it: इ from memory, the letter five lessons back stood up — R2
- Read it: a printed ticket, then say the figure on it aloud — R3

Your turn

Five words, shuffled, with the chapter no longer giving the answer away.

1. Hear the five named singly and out of order; say each back.
2. Read it: the five printed, then say each aloud
3. Write it: three of them from dictation, the choice named only as you write
4. Say the four that end -रा and the one that does not, and say what its last letter is instead.

Before you move on

Chapter 38

Sixteen to Nineteen, Counting Down

Modes: voice (5) eyes (4) pen (3) Hands-free start: none of the 12 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say and write sixteen to nineteen in Marwadi, count one to twenty straight through, and say why nineteen is built on twenty rather than on nine.
> One to twenty run four ways, with the four new signs written against the numbers that needed them, and the subtractive nineteen named and explained.

38.1 ૐ — the letter Hindi does not have

- Recall: say igyārā, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: say lāvo, the bring-request verb — R4
- Recall: say caudā — R2

Script — a second l

How it is written — 3 strokes · 2 pen lifts · 3 movements

Stroke order after Hela Nomad, 'U0933.json' (Devanagari 33 stroke data), strokes 1–3, Indic Script Explorer, accessed 24 August 2026
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ळ is written, stroke by stroke

ळ — ḷa — the retroflex l

ल has been in the hand since chapter 7. ळ is a second l made with the tongue curled back to the roof of the mouth, and it is a real difference in Marwari, not a spelling variant.

It is worth knowing whose letter this is. Standard Hindi has no ळ; Marwari, Marathi, Gujarati, Rajasthani more widely and the southern languages all do. A page with ळ on it is announcing that it is not Hindi.

Sixteen is the number that needs it.

Your turn

Trace ळ three times. Write ल beside it and say which one curls the tongue back. Say both aloud twice, listening for the difference rather than looking for it.

Before you move on

The second of the four signs the teens ask for.
Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

38.2 Hear soḷā — sixteen

- Write it: ळ from memory — R1
- Recall: say terā, five lessons back — R2
- Write it: लावो from memory — R4
- Write it: चौदा from memory — R2

What to know first

soḷā — sixteen

Six is chha. Sixteen is soḷā, and the two share nothing you can hear — the teens have worn their small numbers down further here than anywhere else in the set.

What they do share is the retroflex ḷ you have just written. Curl the tongue back for it: so-ḷā, not so-lā. This is where the new letter earns its lesson.

The word, taken apart

soḷā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ṣoḍaśa, "sixteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 12812); the match is through Gujarati soḷ. Gujarati, like Marwadi, says the l curled back.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

38.3 सोळा — sixteen on the page

- Recall: say soḷā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: write चौदा, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: say chāy lāvo — R4
- Recall: say pandarā — R2

What to know first

सो + ळा → सोळा — soḷā — sixteen

सो is already a word in this book: a hundred. Sixteen is that syllable with ळा after it — which is why the retroflex letter had to come first.

Write सो and सोळा one above the other. Two signs apart, a hundred and sixteen.

The word, taken apart

सोळा (soḷā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ṣoḍaśa, "sixteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 12812); the match is through Gujarati soḷ. Gujarati, like Marwadi, says the l curled back.

Your turn

Copy सोळा once while looking. Write सो above it and ल below it, then say which of the three lines is the hundred and which letter is the one Hindi does not have.

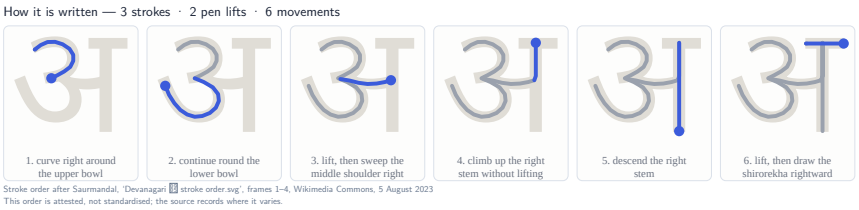

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

38.4 अ — the vowel that has no mark

- Recall: write सोळा — R1
- Recall: write पंदरा, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: write चाय लावो — R4

Script — the vowel with no mark at all

How अ is written, stroke by stroke

अ — a — the short vowel every bare consonant already says

Every other vowel in this book arrived twice: as a mark and as a standing letter. अ is different, and the difference is the point of the lesson. Its mark is nothing at all — a consonant written plain, क, is already read ka. That is why you have written this vowel a thousand times without ever seeing it.

When a word begins on that sound there is no consonant to hide inside, so the letter has to appear. आ, isolated in chapter 2, is its long partner: the same shape with one upright added.

Eighteen is what needs it.

Your turn

Trace अ three times. Write आ beside it and mark the one stroke that makes the vowel long. Then write क and say what vowel is already in it.

Before you move on

The third of the four signs.
Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

38.5 Hear satarā — seventeen

- Write it: अ from memory — R1
- Recall: say pandarā, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: run the five requests in a row — R4

What to know first

satarā — seventeen

Seven is sāt. Seventeen is satarā, and this is the clearest one in the whole set: सात is still visible inside it, with only its long vowel shortened before the -arā ending arrives.

If you have been listening for the shape rather than learning the words, this is the one that proves the shape works.

The word, taken apart

satarā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from saptadaśa, "seventeen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 13146); the match is through Hindi sattrah and Gujarati sattar. It is sapta, "seven", and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

38.6 सतरा — seventeen on the page

- Recall: say satarā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: write ळ — R2
- Recall: run the exchange dikhāvo — karo — lo — do — lāvo once — R4

What to know first

स + त + रा → सतरा — satarā — seventeen

Write सात and then सतरा underneath it. The difference is one mark: the ◌ा of seven is gone, and रा is added.

That is the whole spelling, and it is the tidiest evidence in the set that the teens are built rather than learned.

The word, taken apart

सतरा (satarā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from saptadaśa, "seventeen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 13146); the match is through Hindi sattrah and Gujarati sattar. It is sapta, "seven", and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Write सात, then cover it and write सतरा from memory. Compare them letter by letter and name the single mark that differs. Then write सोळा above both and read the three down the page.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

38.7 Hear aṭhārā — eighteen

- Write it: सतरा from memory — R1
- Recall: say soḷā, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: run the six-turn numbered exchange once — R3

What to know first

aṭhārā — eighteen

Eight is āṭh. Eighteen is aṭhārā: the same two sounds, with the length moved from the front of the word to the middle of it.

Say them back to back — āṭh, aṭhārā — and hear the long vowel change places. Eighteen is the second of the two teens that begin on a vowel, which is why the letter came before it.

The word, taken apart

aṭhārā is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from aṣṭādaśa, "eighteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 946); the match is through Hindi aṭhārah. It is aṣṭā, "eight", and daśa, "ten".

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

38.8 अठारा — eighteen on the page

- Recall: say aṭhārā before you look at it — R1
- Recall: write अ, four lessons back — R2
- Recall: write सोळा — R2

What to know first

अ + ठा + रा → अठारा — aṭhārā — eighteen

Here is the standing अ doing the one thing it exists for. Write आठ and अठारा one above the other:

- आठ opens on the long आ;
- अठारा opens on the short अ, and moves the length onto ठा.

Two letters that differ by one stroke, at the front of two numbers ten apart. This is the pair most worth writing twice.

The word, taken apart

अठारा (aṭhārā) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from aṣṭādaśa, "eighteen". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 946); the match is through Hindi aṭhārah. It is aṣṭā, "eight", and daśa, "ten".

Your turn

Write आठ, cover it, write अठारा from memory, then uncover and compare the first letter of each. Say which is long and which is short.

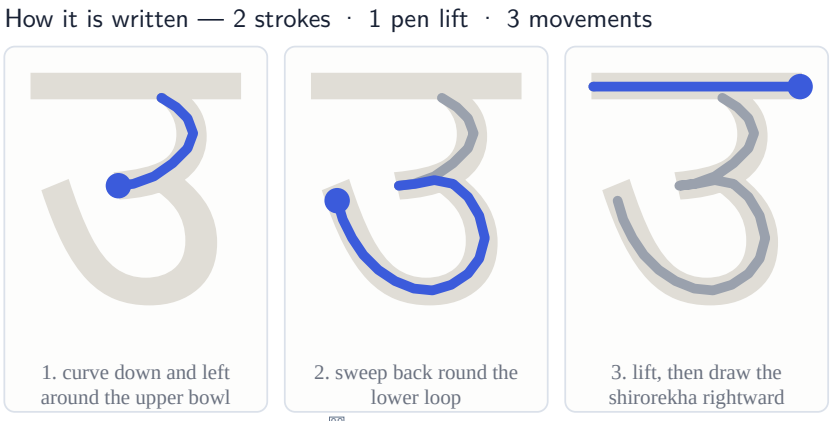

Before you move on

38.9 उ — the last standing vowel

- Recall: write अठारा — R1
- Recall: write ळ, and say which language does not have it — R2
- Recall: write अ — R2
- Recall: write इ — R3

Script — the fifth standing vowel

Stroke order after Saurmandal, 'Devanagari 𑌅 stroke order.svg', panels 1–2, Wikimedia Commons, 5 August 2023
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How उ is written, stroke by stroke

उ — u — the vowel that hangs under a consonant, standing up

Since chapter 13 the hand has hooked ु beneath a letter, and since chapter 6 the longer ू. Neither can begin a word.

उ is the fifth vowel this book has had to stand up — after आ, ई, ए and अ — and it is the last one the numbers ask for. Nineteen needs it, and nineteen is the last of the teens.

Your turn

Trace उ three times. Write ु under a consonant beside it and say which of the two can open a word. Then write the five standing vowels in a row — अ आ इ ई and उ — and say each aloud.

Before you move on

The fourth and last of the signs the teens ask for.

38.10 Hear ughaṇīs — nineteen

- Write it: उ from memory — R1
- Recall: say satarā, five lessons back — R2
- Recall: say igyārā — R3

What to know first

ughaṇīs — nineteen

Every other teen has been the small number plus an ending. This one is not.

Nine is no, and there is no no in ughaṇīs. What is in it is -ṇīs, which is bīs, twenty, worn down — and ugha-, which means one short of. So nineteen in Marwari is not "nine-and-ten". It is one less than twenty, and it is built on the number above it.

That is why twenty was taught before the teens rather than after them. A course that counted straight up would have printed bīs inside nineteen before it had taught bīs. The language counts down here, so the book did too.

Turner records the same habit further up: ekuṇcālīs, one short of forty, for thirty-nine.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi unīs, "nineteen", under Sanskrit ūnaviṃśati, "nineteen", literally "twenty less one" (CDIAL 2411). It gives no Marwari form there, and the gh of ughaṇīs is not explained by that entry, so that part of its history is not settled.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Turner, A Comparative Dictionary of the Indo-Aryan Languages.

38.11 उघणीस — nineteen on the page

- Recall: say ughaṇīs before you look at it — R1
- Recall: say aṭhārā, four lessons back — R2
- Recall: write सतरा — R2
- Recall: write इग्यारा — R3

What to know first

उ + घ + णी + स → उघणीस — ughaṇīs — nineteen

Four pieces and no new sign: उ from the last lesson, घ from chapter 10, the retroflex ण from chapter 4, and स from the first page of the book.

Write बीस under it. The ीस at the end of nineteen is the ीस of twenty, with a retroflex ण in front of it instead of ब. What the ear was told, the page shows.

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi unīs, "nineteen", under Sanskrit ūnaviṃśati, "nineteen", literally "twenty less one" (CDIAL 2411). It gives no Marwari form there, and the gh of उघणीस (ughaṇīs) is not explained by that entry, so that part of its history is not settled.

Your turn

Copy उघणीस once while looking, then write बीस beneath it and ring the ीस in both. Finish by writing अठारा above the pair, so eighteen, nineteen and twenty stand in a column.

Before you move on

Source: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani.

38.12 One to twenty, and the number that counts backwards

- Write it: उघणीस from memory — R1
- Write it: अठारा from memory, four lessons back — R2

- Recall: run the five-turn counter exchange, with no figures in it — R4

Your turn

The count is complete for the first time. Run it four ways.

1. Say one to twenty straight through, out loud, once slowly and once fast.
2. Hear six of the twenty named out of order; say each back and say the one above it.
3. Write it: four of the nine teens from dictation
4. Write it: the four signs this run of numbers added — इ, ळ, अ, उ — and beside each, the number that needed it

Then answer aloud: which of the twenty is not built on a smaller number, and what is it built on instead?

Before you move on

Chapter 39

Saying No

Modes: voice (5) eyes (1) Hands-free start: the first of 6 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can refuse an offer in Marwadi and leave a bargain open, which the market chapters could not do.
> The refusal and the walk-away run in all four skills, against the counter-offer the market chapters had no answer to.

39.1 Hear konī — no

- Recall: say हां सा, the respectful yes — the answer this book has had since chapter 3 and never given a partner
- Write it: अठारा from memory — R2
- Write it: बारा from memory — R3

What to know first

konī — no, not

Chapter 3 taught हां सा and stopped there. Every chapter since — the market, the food stall, the rickshaw — has given you ways to ask, to offer and to agree, and no way at all to decline. A course that can name a price and cannot refuse one has only half a bargain in it.

Konī is the word. Two beats, both light: ko-nī.

It is worth knowing that this word is one of the things that makes Marwari Marwari. Hindi says nahĩ̃; a Swadesh word list collected for Marwari gives konī for "not". Say konī in Rajasthan and you are not speaking Hindi with an accent.

Keep your pencil down: the spelling is the next lesson's, and it needs no sign you have not already made.

The word, taken apart

The origin of konī is not settled. CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it. It lists Marwari na, "not", under Sanskrit na (CDIAL 6906), but nothing that explains the ko- of konī.

Before you move on

Sources: SEL India, Swadesh Word List — Marwari Language, entry 16; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

39.2 कोनी — no, on the page

- Recall: say konī before you look at it — R1
- Recall: write ए, the letter the first number needed — R4
- Recall: write उ — R2
- Recall: say terā — R3

What to know first

को + नी → कोनी — konī — no

Two pieces, four signs, and not one of them is new. क and ो you have written since chapter 5; न since chapter 5; ी since chapter 4.

That is worth saying plainly, because it means this word cost the hand nothing and was missing anyway. The gap was never a writing problem.

The word, taken apart

The origin of कोनी (konī) is not settled. CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it. It lists Marwari na, "not", under Sanskrit na (CDIAL 6906), but nothing that explains the ko- of कोनी (konī).

Your turn

Copy कोनी once while looking. Then write हां सा above it and कोनी below, so the yes and the no sit one over the other on the page for the first time in this book.

Before you move on

Sources: SEL India, Swadesh Word List — Marwari Language, entry 16; Unicode Devanagari chart.

39.3 दस करो। — कोनी।

- Write it: कोनी from memory — R1
- Recall: say ughaṇīs, five lessons back, and say what it is built on — R2
- Write it: तेरा from memory — R3
- Recall: say ek — R4

Your turn

Until now the counter-offer had no answer but agreement. Now it has two.

> — ये कितणे कू है? — Ye kitṇe kū hai? — How much is this? — बीस। — Bīs. — Twenty. — दस करो। — Das karo. — Make it ten. — कोनी। — Konī. — No.

Run it three times, changing only the two numbers, and use the teens you have just learned for at least one of them: satarā, pandarā, ughaṇīs.

Then run it with the roles swapped, so you are the one who says कोनी.

Before you move on

Sources: SEL India, Swadesh Word List — Marwari Language, entry 16; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

39.4 Refuse, and leave

- Write it: उघणीस from memory, five lessons back — R2

- Write it: एक from memory, the first number this book taught — R4
- Recall: say caudā — R3

What to know first

A refusal in a bazaar is rarely the last word. It is followed by leaving — and the leaving line is one this book taught in chapter 7 and has not needed until now:

> — दस करो। — Das karo. — Make it ten. — कोनी। — Konī. — No. — पाछे मिलसू। — Pāchhe milsū. — We'll meet later.

Pāchhe milsū was learned as a goodbye. In a market it is also a move: it says the bargain is not over, only paused, and it is what leaves the door open for the seller to call you back with a better number.

Your turn

Four skills, one exchange.

1. Listen. Hear a seller name a figure and an offer refused; say what the two numbers were.
2. Speak. Run the exchange twice, once refusing and once agreeing, so the two branches sit side by side.
3. Read it: the three-turn refusal printed, then say the walk-away line aloud without looking
4. Write it: कोनी। and पाछे मिलसू। as two lines, and above them the figure you were offered, in words

Before you move on

Sources: SEL India, Swadesh Word List — Marwari Language, entry 16; Marwari Pathshala, Lesson 9.

39.5 Close the writing loop for इ, ळ, अ and उ

- Recall: run the refusal and the walk-away once, from the lesson just before this — R1
- Recall: say do, two, and say which of its two meanings this is — R4
- Recall: say konī
- Write it: कोनी from memory — R1
- Write it: चौदा from memory — R3

Your turn

Four signs arrived in the last three chapters, each riding behind one number. None of them is closed until it can be written with no chapter to prompt it.

1. Write it: इ, ळ, अ and उ in a row from dictation, shuffled
2. Write it: beside each, the number that needed it — and only that number
3. Write it: कोनी and पाछे मिलसू, which needed no new sign at all
4. Say which of the four signs is not a vowel, and which language does not have it.

Before you move on

Sources: Omniglot, Numbers in Rajasthani; Unicode Devanagari chart.

39.6 Refuse and leave, from cold

- Recall: say the one-word refusal, with nothing on the page
- Recall: say the line you leave on, the one that was a goodbye first

You'll want to know: the walk-away is the move, not the exit

The three-turn shape you built has not changed. What changes is the number, and a bargain you can only run at one price is not one you can run:

> — पंदरा करो। — Pandrā karo. — Make it fifteen. — कोनी। — Konī. — No. — पाछे मिलसू। — Pāchhe milsū. — We'll meet later.

पाछे मिलसू is doing the same work it did the first time: it says the bargain is paused rather than finished, and it is what lets the seller call you back. Said as a real goodbye it ends the conversation; said here it keeps it alive. One line, two jobs, and the market decides which.

Your turn

The same four skills, on a figure you have not rehearsed.

1. Listen. Hear an offer and a refusal; say the figure that was named.
2. Speak. Run the three turns with your own number in the first line.
3. Read it: the refusal printed above, then say the walk-away without looking
4. Write it: कोनी। and पाछे मिलसू। from the sound alone, with the page covered

Before you move on

Which of the two lines refuses, and which leaves? (कोनी। refuses; पाछे मिलसू। leaves.) What does the leaving line do that merely walking off does not? (It keeps the bargain open — the seller can still call you back.) And where did you first meet it? (As a goodbye, long before any bargaining.)

Chapter 40

Reading — Signs, a Counter, and the Whole Bargain

Modes: eyes (3) Hands-free start: none of the 3 lessons.

By the end of this chapter: I can read Marwadi off a signboard and off a counter, and follow a whole bargain on the page without translating it word by word.

The market exchange the track has practised out loud since chapter 13, read in order on the page for the first time, with no new word in it.

40.1 (reading) — six words off a signboard

You have written all six of these. Not one is new.

What is new is that nobody is going to say them first.

Read this

चाय रोटी कपड़ा रिक्शा पैसा भाव

Read down the list once. Do not sound out each sign — look at the whole word and let it arrive.
Again. Notice which came at once and which you had to assemble.
Both are fine; the difference is what practice removes.

What to know first

Every one of these is a word you would actually meet painted on something — a stall, a cart, a board above a counter.

Writing a word and reading it are not the same skill. Writing gives you all the time you want and the letters in order. A signboard gives you one look, and the word has to arrive whole.

That is why six is enough for one sitting.

Your turn

- Say it: the six words down the list, once, without stopping

Twice through:

Before you move on

How many of the six were new? (None.)
What was new? (Nobody said them first. You read them.)

40.2 (reading) — six lines off a counter

The last lesson gave you single words. These give each word something to stand on.

Still nothing new — the market lines you already say, on the page.

Read this

ये कितणे कू है? ये घणो महंगो है। दस करो। कोनी। पैसा ले लो। पाछे मिलसू।

Read it: the six notices down once, without stopping
Read it: the six notices again, and this time hear whose line each one is Three belong to you and three to the person behind the counter.

What to know first

कोनी। One word, and it is a whole turn in the conversation. A notice does not have to be long to be complete.

Read in order, these six are not six notices at all — they are one bargain, from the first question to the walk-away. You have practised every one of them out loud; this is the first time you have seen them written down in the order they actually happen.

That order is the thing to carry away. A market exchange has a shape, and knowing the shape is most of reading it.

Your turn

- Say it: the six lines, once, in order, without stopping

Twice through:

Before you move on

How many of the six lines were new? (None.)
What did reading them in order show you? (They are one bargain, not six notices.)

40.3 (reading) — the whole bargain

Six words, then six lines. Now the whole thing, start to finish.

It is longer than anything you have read. Nothing in it is new.

Read this

ये कपड़ा दिखावो। ये कितणे कू है? बीस। ये घणो महंगो है। दस करो।
कोनी। पंदरा करो। ठीक। पैसा ले लो। पाछे मिलसू।

Read it: the passage through once without stopping; do not translate as you go
Read it: the passage again, and watch the number move
It moves बीस, दस, पंदरा. That is the whole negotiation, and it is carried by three words you learned as counting.

What to know first

कोनी is the hinge. Before it, the price is falling because you pushed. After it, the price settles because they pushed back.

Notice what the passage never says. Nobody explains that पंदरा is between दस and बीस — the bargain assumes you know, and you do.

This is the first time the book has asked you to hold a whole exchange at once, and the reason it can is that every line was paid for, one chapter at a time.

Your turn

- Say it: the whole exchange aloud, once, without stopping

Twice through:

Before you move on

How many words in that exchange were new? (None.)
Which word turned it around? (कोनी.)

Chapter 41

Writing — My Own Line

Modes: ↙ pen (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: none (1 lesson).

> By the end of this chapter: I can write one line about myself from a closed supply of known words, with nothing to copy, drawing the top line across the whole word.
> Complete MW-W02-mharo-khud-ro-line: one line chosen rather than copied, with the head-line checked before anything else.

41.1 My own line — the first writing with no model

You have read signs and notices. Now write one.

Everything you have written so far had something to reach for. This does not.

Writing — controlled composition

Write one line about yourself, choosing the words yourself from a supply that is closed: only what this book has taught you.

One thing to decide deliberately before you start. The letters hang from a line drawn across the top, and that line belongs to the word, not to each letter. Draw the bodies first and the top line last, running it across the whole word.

Write the line. Then read it back and check that top line before you check anything else — one long stroke, not a row of short ones.

Before you move on

Does the top line belong to a letter or to a word? (To the word.) And what did you have to choose here that the earlier lessons chose for you? (The words.)

Chapter 42

Writing — With A Clock

Modes: ↙ pen (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: none (1 lesson).

> By the end of this chapter: I can complete the A1 writing paper's two tasks inside its published twenty minutes, filling every form field and keeping the message between thirty and forty words.
> Complete MW-W03-ghadi-saathe: seven minutes for the form and thirteen for the message, then count the words and check the form for blanks before mistakes.

42.1 The same writing, with a clock

You wrote your own line with as long as you liked.

A task you can only do untimed is not yet a task you can do.

Writing — timed production

What this track's contract publishes. The A1 writing paper runs 20 minutes and holds two tasks:

- a practical form asking for six to eight completed fields, worth 40 of the paper's 100 points;
- a message for a named reader and a stated purpose, 30 to 40 words, worth the other 60.

Those numbers are read out of `task-shapes/a1.json`, the file the assessment contract points at. They are not invented here.

Read the split before you write a word: the message is worth more than the form and is the shorter of the two. Time spent perfecting a field is time taken from the part that scores.

Seven minutes for the form, starting now. Fill every field. A blank field scores nothing and cannot be argued with.

Now the message: thirteen minutes, thirty to forty words.

Stop when the time is up, even mid-word. An unfinished paper is information; an untimed one is not.

Before you move on

Count the words in your message. Under thirty and the task is half done; well past forty and you spent time the paper did not give you.

Then check the form for blanks before mistakes. A field with a wrong answer can still earn something; a field left empty cannot.

Chapter 43

The Letter That Ends Ram

Modes: 👁 eyes (2) ✓ pen (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: none of the 3 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can write the letter ma, and find it at the end of the first word of this book.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 43: I can write the letter ma, and find it at the end of the first word of this book.

43.1 म (ma) — the letter that ends राम

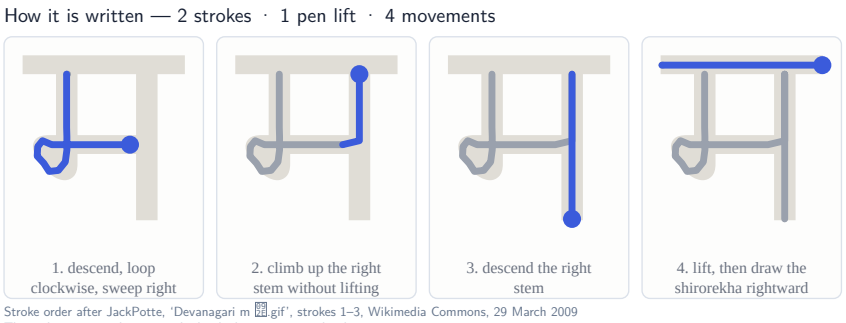

> Before the new one: write अ and उ once each, and name them.
> Now say राम (rām), "Ram". You have read it for a long time. This lesson takes one letter out of it and puts it in your hand.

Script you'll notice: म

म — ma, the sound m.

It ends राम (rām), the name in the greeting राम-राम सा, the first words in this book. The first chapter built राम from र, ◌ा and म, and gave र and ◌ा lessons of their own. म gets its own lesson now.

Writing: म

How म is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. start here: descend the left stem, curl left and clockwise around the lower loop, and continue right through the crossbar without lifting
- 2. without lifting, climb up the right stem to the headline
- 3. descend the right stem top-to-bottom
- 4. lift, then draw the shirorekha left-to-right — and only now lift

Pen lifts: 1.

The source shows three movements; most native writers draw म in two strokes (80% of HP Labs India's native-writer samples). This path keeps every movement in order and direction, and lifts only before the headline.

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: JackPotte, 'Devanagari m म.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 29 March 2009.

Your turn

- Look: at राम and point at म inside it
- Trace it: म three times, saying m as you finish each one
- Write it: उ, then म, from memory
- Read it: राम aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — म? (ma, m.) Which word did it come from? (राम, rām, "Ram".)

43.2 (one letter) — From the letter to the word — a first pass

Say राम (rām), then write the letter it gave you.

Your turn

letter	name	the word it came from
म	ma	राम rām

- Write it: each letter in the table from memory, then check it
- Say it: the word each one came from
- Read it: each word in the table aloud, and point at its letter

Before you move on

Which word did each letter come from? (म from राम.)

43.3 (one letter) — From the word back to the letter — a second pass

Write म without looking, then say the word it came from.

Your turn

letter	name	the word it came from
म	ma	राम rām

- Say it: each word in the table, then write the letter it gave you without looking
- Write it: each letter once more, slowly, larger than it is printed

Before you move on

Say each word in the table once more, and name the letter you took from it.

Chapter 44

Foot, Head, Hair, Tooth, Throat

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a foot, the head, hair, a tooth and the throat.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 44: I can say a foot, the head, hair, a tooth and the throat.

44.1 पग (pag) — a foot

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for nineteen, then the Marwadi for no.

You'll want to know: पग

पग — pag — "a foot".

The word, taken apart

पग (pag) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from padga, "afoot; footsoldier". CDIAL lists Old Marwari paga under it (CDIAL 7766). It is built on pad, "foot", the same ancient word as English foot.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pag
- Say it: pag, once more
- Say it: say pag
- Recall: say the Marwadi for nineteen, then the Marwadi for no, then say pag again

Before you move on

What does पग mean? ("A foot".) Say it once more.

44.2 माथो (māṭho) — the head

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for no, then the Marwadi for a foot.

You'll want to know: माथो

माथो — māṭho — "the head".

The word, taken apart

माथो (māṭho) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from masta, "head". CDIAL lists Marwari māṭho under it (CDIAL 9926). Sanskrit also had mastaka, "head, skull".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: māṭho
- Say it: māṭho, once more
- Say it: say māṭho

- Recall: say the Marwadi for no, then the Marwadi for a foot, then say māthо again

Before you move on

What does माथो mean? ("The head".) Say it once more.

44.3 बाळ (bāḷ) — hair

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a foot, then the Marwadi for the head.

You'll want to know: बाळ

बाळ — bāḷ — "hair".

The word, taken apart

बाळ (bāḷ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vāla, "hair of tail, tail, hair". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 11572); the match is through Hindi bāl and Gujarati vāḷ. Marwadi, like Gujarati, says the l curled back.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bāḷ
- Say it: bāḷ, once more
- Say it: say bāḷ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a foot, then the Marwadi for the head, then say bāḷ again

Before you move on

What does बाळ mean? ("Hair".) Say it once more.

44.4 दांत (dānt) — a tooth

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the head, then the Marwadi for hair.

You'll want to know: दांत

दांत — dānt — "a tooth".

The word, taken apart

दांत (dānt) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from danta, "tooth". CDIAL lists Marwari dā̃t under it (CDIAL 6152). English tooth and Latin dens are the same ancient word.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: dānt
- Say it: dānt, once more
- Say it: say dānt
- Recall: say the Marwadi for the head, then the Marwadi for hair, then say dānt again

Before you move on

What does दांत mean? ("A tooth".) Say it once more.

44.5 गळो (gaḷo) — the throat

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for hair, then the Marwadi for a tooth.

You'll want to know: गळो

गळो — gaḷo — "the throat".

The word, taken apart

गळो (gaḷo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from gala, "throat, neck". CDIAL lists Marwari gaḷo under it (CDIAL 4070).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: gaḷo
- Say it: gaḷo, once more
- Say it: say gaḷo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for hair, then the Marwadi for a tooth, then say gaḷo again

Before you move on

What does गळो mean? ("The throat".) Say it once more.

45.1 पेट (peṭ) — the stomach

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a tooth, then the Marwadi for the throat.

You'll want to know: पेट

पेट — peṭ — "the stomach".

The word, taken apart

पेट (peṭ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from peṭṭa*, "belly", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari peṭa under it (CDIAL 8376). CDIAL notes that the word may be the same as one for "basket".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: peṭ
- Say it: peṭ, once more
- Say it: say peṭ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a tooth, then the Marwadi for the throat, then say peṭ again

Chapter 67

Game, Letter, Tree, Leaf, Hill

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a game, a letter, a tree, a leaf and a hill, a mountain.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 67: I can say a game, a letter, a tree, a leaf and a hill, a mountain.

67.1 खेल (khel) — a game

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for an answer, then the Marwadi for a word.

You'll want to know: खेल

खेल — khel — "a game".

The word, taken apart

खेल (khel) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from khel*, "play", or from khell*, forms CDIAL reconstructs from their descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari khelaï under khel* (CDIAL 3918). It is the noun of the verb khelṇo, "to play". CDIAL says that if Sanskrit krīḍati, "plays", is of non-Aryan origin, these forms may share its source.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khel
- Say it: khel, once more
- Say it: say khel
- Recall: say the Marwadi for an answer, then the Marwadi for a word, then say khel again

Before you move on

What does खेल mean? ("A game".) Say it once more.

67.2 चिट्ठी (chiṭṭhī) — a letter (post)

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a word, then the Marwadi for a game.

You'll want to know: चिट्ठी

चिट्ठी — chiṭṭhī — "a letter (post)".

The word, taken apart

चिट्ठी (chiṭṭhī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ciṣṭa*, "message", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4832); the match is through Hindi ciṭṭhī and Gujarati ciṭṭhī. CDIAL compares Avestan činasti, "teaches, makes known".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chiṭṭhī
- Say it: chiṭṭhī, once more
- Say it: say chiṭṭhī

- Recall: say the Marwadi for a word, then the Marwadi for a game, then say chiṭṭhī again

Before you move on

What does चिट्ठी mean? ("A letter (post)".) Say it once more.

67.3 रूंख (rū̃kh) — a tree

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a game, then the Marwadi for a letter.

You'll want to know: रूंख

रूंख — rū̃kh — "a tree".

The word, taken apart

रूंख (rū̃kh) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from rukṣa*, "tree", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 10757); the match is through Hindi rūkh and Gujarati rūkh. CDIAL sets it beside Sanskrit vṛkṣa, "tree".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: rū̃kh
- Say it: rū̃kh, once more
- Say it: say rū̃kh
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a game, then the Marwadi for a letter, then say rū̃kh again

Before you move on

What does रूंख mean? ("A tree".) Say it once more.

67.4 पत्तो (patto) — a leaf

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a letter, then the Marwadi for a tree.

You'll want to know: पत्तो

पत्तो — patto — "a leaf".

The word, taken apart

पत्तो (patto) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pattra, "wing-feather; leaf". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7733); the match is through Hindi pattā. It is built on the root pat, "to fly".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: patto
- Say it: patto, once more
- Say it: say patto
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a letter, then the Marwadi for a tree, then say patto again

Before you move on

What does पत्तो mean? ("A leaf".) Say it once more.

67.5 डूंगर (ḍū̃gar) — a hill, a mountain

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a tree, then the Marwadi for a leaf.

You'll want to know: डूंगर

डूंगर — ḍū̃gar — "a hill, a mountain".

The word, taken apart

डूंगर (ḍū̃gar) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ḍuṅga*, "hill", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 5423); the match is through Hindi ḍū̃gar and Gujarati ḍũgar. CDIAL sets it in a large group of reconstructed words for "hill" headed ṭakka*, and explains the -r as an added suffix. CDIAL takes the variety of these forms as a sign of a non-Aryan, perhaps Munda, source.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ḍū̃gar
- Say it: ḍū̃gar, once more
- Say it: say ḍū̃gar
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a tree, then the Marwadi for a leaf, then say ḍū̃gar again

Before you move on

What does डूंगर mean? ("A hill, a mountain".) Say it once more.

Chapter 68

Forest, River, Stone, Sand, Field

Modes: 🚗 voice (5) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a forest, a river, a stone, sand and a field.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 68: I can say a forest, a river, a stone, sand and a field.

68.1 जंगळ (jaṅgaḷ) — a forest

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a leaf, then the Marwadi for a hill.

You'll want to know: जंगळ

जंगळ — jaṅgaḷ — "a forest".

The word, taken apart

जंगळ (jaṅgaḷ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from jāṅgala, "arid, sparingly grown with trees". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 5177); the match is through Hindi jaṅgal. CDIAL notes evidence for a non-Aryan origin. The sense moved from "dry, open country" to "forest".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: jaṅgaḷ
- Say it: jaṅgaḷ, once more
- Say it: say jaṅgaḷ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a leaf, then the Marwadi for a hill, then say jaṅgaḷ again

Before you move on

What does जंगळ mean? ("A forest".) Say it once more.

68.2 नदी (nadī) — a river

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a hill, then the Marwadi for a forest.

You'll want to know: नदी

नदी — nadī — "a river".

The word, taken apart

नदी (nadī) is Sanskrit nadī, "river", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 6943).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nadī
- Say it: nadī, once more
- Say it: say nadī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a hill, then the Marwadi for a forest, then say nadī again

Before you move on

What does नदी mean? ("A river".) Say it once more.

68.3 भाटो (bhāṭo) — a stone

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a forest, then the Marwadi for a river.

You'll want to know: भाटो

भाटो — bhāṭo — "a stone".

The word, taken apart

The origin of भाटो (bhāṭo) is not settled. CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bhāṭo
- Say it: bhāṭo, once more
- Say it: say bhāṭo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a forest, then the Marwadi for a river, then say bhāṭo again

Before you move on

What does भाटो mean? ("A stone".) Say it once more.

68.4 रेत (ret) — sand

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a river, then the Marwadi for a stone.

You'll want to know: रेत

रेत — ret — "sand".

The word, taken apart

रेत (ret) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from retra, "perfumed powder". CDIAL lists Old Marwari reta under it (CDIAL 10816). CDIAL thinks a Munda source for the Sanskrit word scarcely likely.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ret
- Say it: ret, once more
- Say it: say ret
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a river, then the Marwadi for a stone, then say ret again

Before you move on

What does रेत mean? ("Sand".) Say it once more.

68.5 खेत (khet) — a field

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a stone, then the Marwadi for sand.

You'll want to know: खेत

खेत — khet — "a field".

The word, taken apart

खेत (khet) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kṣetra, "land". CDIAL lists Marwari khet under it (CDIAL 3735).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khet
- Say it: khet, once more
- Say it: say khet
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a stone, then the Marwadi for sand, then say khet again

Before you move on

What does खेत mean? ("A field".) Say it once more.

Chapter 69

Star, Sun, Moon, Sea, Fire

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a star, the sun, the moon, the sea and fire.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 69: I can say a star, the sun, the moon, the sea and fire.

69.1 तारो (tāro) — a star

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for sand, then the Marwadi for a field.

You'll want to know: तारो

तारो — tāro — "a star".

The word, taken apart

तारो (tāro) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. CDIAL lists Hindi tārā and Gujarati tāro, "star", under tāraka, "belonging to the stars", a form beside Sanskrit tārā, "fixed star" (CDIAL 5798); it gives no Marwari form there. English star is a distant cousin.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: tāro
- Say it: tāro, once more
- Say it: say tāro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for sand, then the Marwadi for a field, then say tāro again

Before you move on

What does तारो mean? ("A star".) Say it once more.

69.2 सूरज (sūraj) — the sun

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a field, then the Marwadi for a star.

You'll want to know: सूरज

सूरज — sūraj — "the sun".

The word, taken apart

सूरज (sūraj) is usually traced to Sanskrit sūrya, "sun". CDIAL lists the Sanskrit word (CDIAL 13574) but no Marwari or Hindi form of it, so the exact path is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: sūraj
- Say it: sūraj, once more
- Say it: say sūraj
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a field, then the Marwadi for a star, then say sūraj again

Before you move on

What does सूरज mean? ("The sun".) Say it once more.

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a star, then the Marwadi for the sun.

You'll want to know: चांद

चांद — chā̃d — "the moon".

The word, taken apart

चांद (chā̃d) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from candra, "shining; moon". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4661); the match is through Hindi cā̃d and Gujarati cā̃d.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chā̃d
- Say it: chā̃d, once more
- Say it: say chā̃d
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a star, then the Marwadi for the sun, then say chā̃d again

Before you move on

What does चांद mean? ("The moon".) Say it once more.

69.4 समंदर (samandar) — the sea

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the sun, then the Marwadi for the moon.

You'll want to know: समंदर

समंदर — samandar — "the sea".

The word, taken apart

समंदर (samandar) goes back to Sanskrit samudra, "sea", with an added nasal, like the Old Awadhi samuṃda that CDIAL lists under it (CDIAL 13236). CDIAL gives no Marwari form.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: samandar
- Say it: samandar, once more
- Say it: say samandar
- Recall: say the Marwadi for the sun, then the Marwadi for the moon, then say samandar again

Before you move on

What does समंदर mean? ("The sea".) Say it once more.

69.5 आग (āg) — fire

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the moon, then the Marwadi for the sea.

You'll want to know: आग

आग — āg — "fire".

The word, taken apart

आग (āg) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from agni, "fire". CDIAL lists Old Marwari āgi under it (CDIAL 55). Latin ignis, "fire", is the same ancient word.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: āg
- Say it: āg, once more
- Say it: say āg
- Recall: say the Marwadi for the moon, then the Marwadi for the sea, then say āg again

Before you move on

What does आग mean? ("Fire".) Say it once more.

Chapter 70

Sky, Dog, Cat, Cow, Buffalo

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say the sky, a dog, a cat, a cow and a buffalo.

70.1 आभो (ābho) — the sky

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the sea, then the Marwadi for fire.

You'll want to know: आभो

आभो — ābho — "the sky".

The word, taken apart

आभो (ābho) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from abhra, "cloud, rainy weather". CDIAL lists Old Marwari ābhai under it (CDIAL 549). The Old Marwari row means "in the sky"; Gujarati ābh means "sky, clouds".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ābho
- Say it: ābho, once more
- Say it: say ābho
- Recall: say the Marwadi for the sea, then the Marwadi for fire, then say ābho again

What does आभो mean? ("The sky".) Say it once more.

70.2 कुत्तो (kutto) — a dog

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for fire, then the Marwadi for the sky.

You'll want to know: कुत्तो

कुत्तो — kutto — "a dog".

The word, taken apart

कुत्तो (kutto) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kutta*, "dog", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Marwari kuto under it (CDIAL 3275). CDIAL thinks the word imitates a call to a dog.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kutto
- Say it: kutto, once more
- Say it: say kutto

70.4 गाय (gāy) — a cow

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a dog, then the Marwadi for a cat.

You'll want to know: गाय

गाय — gāy — "a cow".

The word, taken apart

गाय (gāy) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from gāvī, "cow". CDIAL lists Old Marwari gāi under it (CDIAL 4147). It is a form of Sanskrit go, "cow", the same ancient word as English cow.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: gāy
- Say it: gāy, once more
- Say it: say gāy
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a dog, then the Marwadi for a cat, then say gāy again

71.2 भेड़ (bheṛ) — a sheep

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a buffalo, then the Marwadi for a goat.

You'll want to know: भेड़

भेड़ — bheṛ — "a sheep".

The word, taken apart

भेड़ (bheṛ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bheḍra, "ram". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9606); the match is through Hindi bheṛ. CDIAL takes the Sanskrit word itself from an Austroasiatic language.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bheṛ
- Say it: bheṛ, once more
- Say it: say bheṛ

- Recall: say the Marwadi for a buffalo, then the Marwadi for a goat, then say bheṛ again

Before you move on

What does भेड़ mean? ("A sheep".) Say it once more.

71.3 चिड़ी (chiṛī) — a sparrow, a small bird

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a goat, then the Marwadi for a sheep.

You'll want to know: चिड़ी

चिड़ी — chiṛī — "a sparrow, a small bird".

The word, taken apart

चिड़ी (chiṛī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from caṭaka, "sparrow". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4571); the match is through Hindi ciṛī. CDIAL calls the word imitative and lists ciṛī under a variant it reconstructs, ciṭaka*.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chiṛī
- Say it: chiṛī, once more
- Say it: say chiṛī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a goat, then the Marwadi for a sheep, then say chiṛī again

Before you move on

71.4 नाहर (nāhar) — a lion, a tiger

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a sheep, then the Marwadi for a sparrow.

You'll want to know: नाहर

नाहर — nāhar — "a lion, a tiger".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi nāhar, "tiger", under two reconstructions, nakhadara*, "tearing with the claws" (CDIAL 6919), and nakharin*, "having claws" (CDIAL 6921). Both are built on Sanskrit nakha, "claw"; which one is the source is not settled, and CDIAL gives no Marwari form.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nāhar
- Say it: nāhar, once more
- Say it: say nāhar
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a sheep, then the Marwadi for a sparrow, then say nāhar again

बांदरो — bə̃dro — "a monkey".

The word, taken apart

बांदरो (bə̃dro) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vānara, "monkey". CDIAL lists Marwari bə̃dro under it (CDIAL 11515).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bā̃dro
- Say it: bā̃dro, once more
- Say it: say bā̃dro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a lion, then the Marwadi for an elephant, then say bā̃dro again

Before you move on

What does बांदरो mean? ("A monkey".) Say it once more.

72.2 सांप (sā̃p) — a snake

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for an elephant, then the Marwadi for a monkey.

You'll want to know: सांप

सांप — sā̃p — "a snake".

The word, taken apart

सांप (sā̃p) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from sarpa, "snake". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 13271); the match is through Hindi sā̃p and Gujarati sāp. It is built on the root sṛp, "to creep".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: sā̃p
- Say it: sā̃p, once more
- Say it: say sā̃p

- Recall: say the Marwadi for an elephant, then the Marwadi for a monkey, then say sā̃p again

Before you move on

What does सांप mean? ("A snake".) Say it once more.

72.3 मोर (mor) — a peacock

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a monkey, then the Marwadi for a snake.

You'll want to know: मोर

मोर — mor — "a peacock".

The word, taken apart

मोर (mor) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mayūra, "peacock", through a shorter form CDIAL reconstructs, mōra*, under which it lists the Old Marwari feminine moraḍī and Hindi and Gujarati mor (CDIAL 9865). CDIAL records proposals that the Sanskrit word came from Dravidian or from Austroasiatic.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mor
- Say it: mor, once more
- Say it: say mor
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a monkey, then the Marwadi for a snake, then say mor again

Before you move on

What does मोर mean? ("A peacock".) Say it once more.

72.4 बड़ो (baṛo) — big

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a snake, then the Marwadi for a peacock.

You'll want to know: बड़ो

बड़ो — baṛo — "big".

The word, taken apart

बड़ो (baṛo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vaḍra, "big". CDIAL lists Marwari baṛo under it (CDIAL 11225). CDIAL thinks a link with Sanskrit vṛddha, "grown", scarcely likely.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: baṛo
- Say it: baṛo, once more
- Say it: say baṛo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a snake, then the Marwadi for a peacock, then say baṛo again

Before you move on

What does बड़ो mean? ("Big".) Say it once more.

72.5 छोटो (chhoṭo) — small

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a peacock, then the Marwadi for big.

You'll want to know: छोटो

छोटो — chhoṭo — "small".

The word, taken apart

छोटो (chhoṭo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from choṭṭa*, "small", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 5071); the match is through Hindi choṭā and Gujarati choṭũ.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chhoṭo
- Say it: chhoṭo, once more
- Say it: say chhoṭo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a peacock, then the Marwadi for big, then say chhoṭo again

Before you move on

What does छोटो mean? ("Small".) Say it once more.

Chapter 73

> By the end of this chapter: I can say new, old, good, bad and long, tall.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 73: I can say new, old, good, bad and long, tall.

73.1 नुवो (nuvo) — new

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for big, then the Marwadi for small.

You'll want to know: नुवो

नुवो — nuvo — "new".

The word, taken apart

नुवो (nuvo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nava, "new, young". CDIAL lists Marwari navo under it (CDIAL 6983). English new is the same ancient word.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nuvo
- Say it: nuvo, once more
- Say it: say nuvo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for big, then the Marwadi for small, then say nuvo again

Before you move on

What does नुवो mean? ("New".) Say it once more.

73.2 जूनो (jūno) — old

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for small, then the Marwadi for new.

You'll want to know: जूनो

जूनो — jūno — "old".

The word, taken apart

जूनो (jūno) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from jūrṇa, "old, decayed". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 5260); the match is through Hindi jūnā and Gujarati jūnũ.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: jūno
- Say it: jūno, once more
- Say it: say jūno

- Recall: say the Marwadi for small, then the Marwadi for new, then say jūno again

Before you move on

What does जूनो mean? ("Old".) Say it once more.

73.3 आछो (āchho) — good

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for new, then the Marwadi for old.

You'll want to know: आछो

आछो — āchho — "good".

The word, taken apart

आछो (āchho) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from accha, "clear, transparent". CDIAL lists Old Marwari āchyo under it (CDIAL 142). CDIAL calls the further history of the Sanskrit word unclear.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: āchho
- Say it: āchho, once more
- Say it: say āchho
- Recall: say the Marwadi for new, then the Marwadi for old, then say āchho again

Before you move on

What does आछो mean? ("Good".) Say it once more.

73.4 माड़ो (māṛo) — bad

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for old, then the Marwadi for good.

You'll want to know: माड़ो

माड़ो — māṛo — "bad".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL gives no Marwari row for माड़ो (māṛo), but it lists Sindhi māṛo, "thin, wicked", and Punjabi māṛā, "thin, weak, bad", under māḍa*, one of a large group of reconstructed words it heads maṭṭa*, "defective" (CDIAL 9723). māṛo matches these in shape and sense, so it probably belongs to the same group, though CDIAL does not say so for Marwari.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: māṛo
- Say it: māṛo, once more
- Say it: say māṛo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for old, then the Marwadi for good, then say māṛo again

Before you move on

What does माड़ो mean? ("Bad".) Say it once more.

73.5 लांबो (lā̃bo) — long, tall

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for good, then the Marwadi for bad.

You'll want to know: लांबो

लांबो — lā̃bo — "long, tall".

The word, taken apart

लांबो (lā̃bo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from lamba, "pendent; long". CDIAL lists Old Marwari lāṃbaü under it (CDIAL 10951).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: lā̃bo
- Say it: lā̃bo, once more
- Say it: say lā̃bo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for good, then the Marwadi for bad, then say lā̃bo again

Before you move on

What does लांबो mean? ("Long, tall".) Say it once more.

Chapter 74

Hot, Cold, Fast, Easy, Difficult

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say hot, cold, fast, easy and difficult.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 74: I can say hot, cold, fast, easy and difficult.

74.1 गरम (garam) — hot

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for bad, then the Marwadi for long.

You'll want to know: गरम

गरम — garam — "hot".

The word, taken apart

गरम (garam) is a loan, usually traced to Persian garm, "warm, hot".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: garam

- Say it: garam, once more
- Say it: say garam
- Recall: say the Marwadi for bad, then the Marwadi for long, then say garam again

Before you move on

What does गरम mean? ("Hot".) Say it once more.

74.2 ठंडो (ṭhaṇḍo) — cold

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for long, then the Marwadi for hot.

You'll want to know: ठंडो

ठंडो — ṭhaṇḍo — "cold".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi ṭhaṇḍā, "cold", under a reconstructed ṭhaṇḍha*, which it sets under Sanskrit stabdha, "stiff, solidified", tracing the sense from "firm" through "sluggish" to "cold" (CDIAL 13676); it gives no Marwari form. DEDR compares Dravidian words for "cool", such as Tamil taṇ (DEDR 3045).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ṭhaṇḍo
- Say it: ṭhaṇḍo, once more
- Say it: say ṭhaṇḍo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for long, then the Marwadi for hot, then say ṭhaṇḍo again

Before you move on

What does ठंडो mean? ("Cold".) Say it once more.

74.3 तेज (tej) — fast

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for hot, then the Marwadi for cold.

You'll want to know: तेज

तेज — tej — "fast".

The word, taken apart

तेज (tej) is a loan, usually traced to Persian tēz, "sharp, swift". Marwadi says the z as j.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: tej
- Say it: tej, once more
- Say it: say tej
- Recall: say the Marwadi for hot, then the Marwadi for cold, then say tej again

Before you move on

What does तेज mean? ("Fast".) Say it once more.

74.4 सोरो (soro) — easy

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for cold, then the Marwadi for fast.

You'll want to know: सोरो

सोरो — soro — "easy".

The word, taken apart

The origin of सोरो (soro) is not settled; CDIAL has no entry for it. A likely relative is Hindi suhelā and Gujarati sahelũ, "easy", which CDIAL lists under Sanskrit sukha, "easy, pleasant" (CDIAL 13451), but that entry does not explain the r of सोरो (soro).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: soro
- Say it: soro, once more
- Say it: say soro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for cold, then the Marwadi for fast, then say soro again

Before you move on

What does सोरो mean? ("Easy".) Say it once more.

74.5 दोरो (doro) — difficult

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for fast, then the Marwadi for easy.

You'll want to know: दोरो

दोरो — doro — "difficult".

The word, taken apart

The origin of दोरो (doro) is not settled; CDIAL has no entry for it. A likely relative is Hindi duhelā and Gujarati dohelũ, "difficult", which CDIAL lists under Sanskrit duḥkha, "difficulty, pain" (CDIAL 6375), but that entry does not explain the r of दोरो (doro).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: doro
- Say it: doro, once more
- Say it: say doro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for fast, then the Marwadi for easy, then say doro again

Before you move on

What does दोरो mean? ("Difficult".) Say it once more.

Chapter 75

Low, Empty, Poor, Dirty, Fat

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say low, empty, poor, dirty and fat, thick.

75.1 नीचो (nīcho) — low

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for easy, then the Marwadi for difficult.

You'll want to know: नीचो

नीचो — nīcho — "low".

The word, taken apart

नीचो (nīcho) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nīca, "low". CDIAL lists Old Marwari nīcaï under it (CDIAL 7540). The Old Marwari row means "below".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nīcho
- Say it: nīcho, once more
- Say it: say nīcho
- Recall: say the Marwadi for easy, then the Marwadi for difficult, then say nīcho again

Before you move on

What does नीचो mean? ("Low".) Say it once more.

75.2 खाली (khālī) — empty

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for difficult, then the Marwadi for low.

You'll want to know: खाली

खाली — khālī — "empty".

The word, taken apart

खाली (khālī) is a loan from Arabic ḫālī, "empty, vacant", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ḫ-l-w (Lane).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khālī
- Say it: khālī, once more
- Say it: say khālī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for difficult, then the Marwadi for low, then say khālī again

Before you move on

What does खाली mean? ("Empty".) Say it once more.

75.3 गरीब (garīb) — poor

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for low, then the Marwadi for empty.

You'll want to know: गरीब

गरीब — garīb — "poor".

The word, taken apart

गरीब (garīb) is a loan from Arabic ġarīb, "a stranger", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ġ-r-b (Lane). The sense moved from "stranger, far from home" to "poor".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: garīb
- Say it: garīb, once more
- Say it: say garīb
- Recall: say the Marwadi for low, then the Marwadi for empty, then say garīb again

Before you move on

What does गरीब mean? ("Poor".) Say it once more.

75.4 मैलो (mailo) — dirty

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for empty, then the Marwadi for poor.

You'll want to know: मैलो

मैलो — mailo — "dirty".

The word, taken apart

मैलो (mailo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from malin*, "dirty", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari mailā under it (CDIAL 9904). It is built on Sanskrit mala, "dirt".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mailo
- Say it: mailo, once more
- Say it: say mailo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for empty, then the Marwadi for poor, then say mailo again

Before you move on

What does मैलो mean? ("Dirty".) Say it once more.

75.5 मोटो (moṭo) — fat, thick

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for poor, then the Marwadi for dirty.

You'll want to know: मोटो

मोटो — moṭo — "fat, thick".

The word, taken apart

मोटो (moṭo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mōṭṭa*, a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants, and CDIAL lists Old Marwari moṭaü under it (CDIAL 10187). mōṭṭa* is one of a large group of reconstructed forms CDIAL heads muṭṭa*, "defective"; how the sense "fat, big" fits that group is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: moṭo
- Say it: moṭo, once more
- Say it: say moṭo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for poor, then the Marwadi for dirty, then say moṭo again

Before you move on

What does मोटो mean? ("Fat, thick".) Say it once more.

Chapter 76

76.1 पतळो (patḷo) — thin

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for dirty, then the Marwadi for fat.

You'll want to know: पतळो

पतळो — patḷo — "thin".

The word, taken apart

पतळो (patḷo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pattrala, "leafy; leaf-like, thin". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7736); the match is through Hindi patlā and Gujarati pātḷũ.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: patḷo
- Say it: patḷo, once more
- Say it: say patḷo

Day, Night, Morning, Month, Year

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a day, night, morning, a month and a year.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 78: I can say a day, night, morning, a month and a year.

78.1 दिन (din) — a day

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for brown, then the Marwadi for sweet.

You'll want to know: दिन

दिन — din — "a day".

The word, taken apart

दिन (din) is Sanskrit dina, "day". CDIAL lists Hindi and Gujarati din under it and thinks the Gujarati and Marathi forms were taken back from Sanskrit (CDIAL 6328); it gives no Marwari form.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: din
- Say it: din, once more
- Say it: say din
- Recall: say the Marwadi for brown, then the Marwadi for sweet, then say din again

Before you move on

What does दिन mean? ("A day".) Say it once more.

78.2 रात (rāt) — night

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for sweet, then the Marwadi for a day.

You'll want to know: रात

रात — rāt — "night".

The word, taken apart

रात (rāt) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from rātrī, "night". CDIAL lists Old Marwari rāti under it (CDIAL 10702).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: rāt
- Say it: rāt, once more
- Say it: say rāt
- Recall: say the Marwadi for sweet, then the Marwadi for a day, then say rāt again

Before you move on

What does रात mean? (“Night”.) Say it once more.

78.3 सवेरो (savero) — morning

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a day, then the Marwadi for night.

You’ll want to know: सवेरो

सवेरो — savero — “morning”.

The word, taken apart

सवेरो (savero) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from savela*, “in time, early”, a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 13291); the match is through Hindi sawerā and Gujarati saverā. It is built on sa-, “with”, and velā, “time”.

What you’ve built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: savero
- Say it: savero, once more
- Say it: say savero
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a day, then the Marwadi for night, then say savero again

Before you move on

What does सवेरो mean? (“Morning”.) Say it once more.

78.4 महीनो (mahīno) — a month

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for night, then the Marwadi for morning.

You'll want to know: महीनो

महीनो — mahīno — "a month".

The word, taken apart

महीनो (mahīno) is a loan, usually traced to Persian māhīna, "monthly". It is built on Persian māh, "moon, month".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mahīno
- Say it: mahīno, once more
- Say it: say mahīno
- Recall: say the Marwadi for night, then the Marwadi for morning, then say mahīno again

Before you move on

What does महीनो mean? ("A month".) Say it once more.

78.5 बरस (baras) — a year

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for morning, then the Marwadi for a month.

You'll want to know: बरस

बरस — baras — "a year".

The word, taken apart

बरस (baras) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from varṣa, "rain; year". CDIAL lists Old Marwari barasa under it (CDIAL 11392). The sense moved from "rain, the rainy season" to "year".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: baras
- Say it: baras, once more
- Say it: say baras
- Recall: say the Marwadi for morning, then the Marwadi for a month, then say baras again

Before you move on

What does बरस mean? ("A year".) Say it once more.

Chapter 79

Hour, Minute, Today, Yesterday, Now

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say an hour, a minute, today, yesterday and now.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 79: I can say an hour, a minute, today, yesterday and now.

79.1 घंटो (ghaṇṭo) — an hour

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a month, then the Marwadi for a year.

You'll want to know: घंटो

घंटो — ghaṇṭo — "an hour".

The word, taken apart

घंटो (ghaṇṭo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghaṇṭā, "bell". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4421); the match is through Hindi ghaṇṭā. The bell that struck the hours gave its name to the hour.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ghaṇṭo
- Say it: ghaṇṭo, once more
- Say it: say ghaṇṭo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a month, then the Marwadi for a year, then say ghaṇṭo again

Before you move on

What does घंटो mean? ("An hour".) Say it once more.

79.2 मिनट (minaṭ) — a minute

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a year, then the Marwadi for an hour.

You'll want to know: मिनट

मिनट — minaṭ — "a minute".

The word, taken apart

मिनट (minaṭ) is a loan from English minute.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: minaṭ
- Say it: minaṭ, once more
- Say it: say minaṭ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a year, then the Marwadi for an hour, then say minaṭ again

Before you move on

What does मिनट mean? ("A minute".) Say it once more.

79.3 आज (āj) — today

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for an hour, then the Marwadi for a minute.

You'll want to know: आज

आज — āj — "today".

The word, taken apart

आज (āj) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from adya, "today". CDIAL lists Old Marwari ājі under it (CDIAL 242).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: āj
- Say it: āj, once more
- Say it: say āj
- Recall: say the Marwadi for an hour, then the Marwadi for a minute, then say āj again

Before you move on

What does आज mean? ("Today".) Say it once more.

79.4 काल (kāl) — yesterday; tomorrow

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a minute, then the Marwadi for today.

You'll want to know: काल

काल — kāl — "yesterday; tomorrow".

The word, taken apart

काल (kāl) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kālya, "timely; at dawn". CDIAL lists Old Marwari kālī under it (CDIAL 3104). Sanskrit kalya already meant "at dawn, tomorrow"; the Old Marwari row means "tomorrow". It is built on kāla, "time".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kāl
- Say it: kāl, once more
- Say it: say kāl
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a minute, then the Marwadi for today, then say kāl again

Before you move on

What does काल mean? ("Yesterday; tomorrow".) Say it once more.

79.5 अबार (abār) — now

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for today, then the Marwadi for yesterday; tomorrow.

You'll want to know: अबार

अबार — abār — "now".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL has no entry for अबार (abār), so its history is not settled. Its first part looks like Hindi ab, "now", which CDIAL lists under Sanskrit evam eva, "exactly so", crossed with the pronoun stem a- (CDIAL 2528), where Old Marwari has hiva, "now". The rest of अबार (abār) is not explained there.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: abār
- Say it: abār, once more
- Say it: say abār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for today, then the Marwadi for yesterday; tomorrow, then say abār again

Before you move on

What does अबार mean? ("Now".) Say it once more.

Chapter 80

Always, Sometimes, Quickly, Delay, Before

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

By the end of this chapter: I can say always, sometimes, ever, quickly, a delay and before.

Complete the last lesson of chapter 80: I can say always, sometimes, ever, quickly, a delay and before.

80.1 हमेसा (hamesā) — always

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for yesterday; tomorrow, then the Marwadi for now.

You'll want to know: हमेसा

हमेसा — hamesā — "always".

The word, taken apart

हमेसा (hamesā) is a loan, usually traced to Persian hamēša, "always".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: hamesā
- Say it: hamesā, once more
- Say it: say hamesā
- Recall: say the Marwadi for yesterday; tomorrow, then the Marwadi for now, then say hamesā again

Before you move on

What does हमेसा mean? ("Always".) Say it once more.

80.2 कदी (kadī) — sometimes, ever

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for now, then the Marwadi for always.

You'll want to know: कदी

कदी — kadī — "sometimes, ever".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL has no entry for कदी (kadī), so its history is not settled. Its k- is the old question stem: CDIAL lists Hindi kabhī, "ever", under Sanskrit evam eva, "exactly so", crossed with the stem ka- (CDIAL 2528), but nothing with the shape of कदी (kadī).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kadī
- Say it: kadī, once more
- Say it: say kadī

- Recall: say the Marwadi for now, then the Marwadi for always, then say kadī again

Before you move on

What does कदी mean? ("Sometimes, ever".) Say it once more.

80.3 जल्दी (jaldī) — quickly

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for always, then the Marwadi for sometimes.

You'll want to know: जल्दी

जल्दी — jaldī — "quickly".

The word, taken apart

जल्दी (jaldī) is a loan, usually traced to Persian jald, "quick". Persian jald is itself of Arabic origin; Marwadi added the ending -ī.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: jaldī
- Say it: jaldī, once more
- Say it: say jaldī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for always, then the Marwadi for sometimes, then say jaldī again

Before you move on

What does जल्दी mean? ("Quickly".) Say it once more.

80.4 देर (der) — a delay; late

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for sometimes, then the Marwadi for quickly.

You'll want to know: देर

देर — der — "a delay; late".

The word, taken apart

देर (der) is a loan, usually traced to Persian dēr, "late; a long time".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: der
- Say it: der, once more
- Say it: say der
- Recall: say the Marwadi for sometimes, then the Marwadi for quickly, then say der again

Before you move on

What does देर mean? ("A delay; late".) Say it once more.

80.5 पैलां (pailã̃) — before

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for quickly, then the Marwadi for a delay; late.

You'll want to know: पैलां

पैलां — pailã̃ — "before".

The word, taken apart

पैलां (pailā̃) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from prathilla*, "first", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants beside prathila*. CDIAL lists Old Marwari pahalo under it (CDIAL 8652). पैलां (pailā̃), "before", is a form of the word for "first", built on Sanskrit prathama, "first".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pailā̃
- Say it: pailā̃, once more
- Say it: say pailā̃
- Recall: say the Marwadi for quickly, then the Marwadi for a delay; late, then say pailā̃ again

Before you move on

What does पैलां mean? ("Before".) Say it once more.

Chapter 81

Far, Near, Inside, Outside, Below

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say far, near, inside, outside and below, down.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 81: I can say far, near, inside, outside and below, down.

81.1 दूर (dūr) — far

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a delay; late, then the Marwadi for before.

You'll want to know: दूर

दूर — dūr — "far".

The word, taken apart

दूर (dūr) is Sanskrit dūra, "distant", with only its final vowel lost (CDIAL 6495). CDIAL lists Hindi and Gujarati dūr under it and gives no Marwari form.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: dūr
- Say it: dūr, once more
- Say it: say dūr
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a delay; late, then the Marwadi for before, then say dūr again

Before you move on

What does दूर mean? ("Far".) Say it once more.

81.2 नजीक (najīk) — near

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for before, then the Marwadi for far.

You'll want to know: नजीक

नजीक — najīk — "near".

The word, taken apart

नजीक (najīk) is a loan, usually traced to Persian nazdīk, "near". Marwadi says the z as j and drops the d.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: najīk
- Say it: najīk, once more
- Say it: say najīk
- Recall: say the Marwadi for before, then the Marwadi for far, then say najīk again

Before you move on

What does नजीक mean? ("Near".) Say it once more.

81.3 मांय (mə̃y) — inside

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for far, then the Marwadi for near.

You'll want to know: मांय

मांय — mə̃y — "inside".

The word, taken apart

मांय (mə̃y) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from madhya, "middle". CDIAL lists Old Marwari māhī under it (CDIAL 9804). The Old Marwari row is the postposition "in, into"; मांय (mə̃y) matches it closely, with a y where Old Marwari has h.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mə̃y
- Say it: mə̃y, once more
- Say it: say mə̃y
- Recall: say the Marwadi for far, then the Marwadi for near, then say mə̃y again

Before you move on

What does मांय mean? ("Inside".) Say it once more.

81.4 बारै (bārai) — outside

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for near, then the Marwadi for inside.

You'll want to know: बारै

बारै — bārai — "outside".

The word, taken apart

बारै (bārai) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bāhira*, "external", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari bāhari under it (CDIAL 9226). It is built on Sanskrit bahis, "outside".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bārai
- Say it: bārai, once more
- Say it: say bārai
- Recall: say the Marwadi for near, then the Marwadi for inside, then say bārai again

Before you move on

What does बारै mean? ("Outside".) Say it once more.

81.5 नीचे (nīche) — below, down

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for inside, then the Marwadi for outside.

You'll want to know: नीचे

नीचे — nīche — "below, down".

The word, taken apart

नीचे (nīche) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nīca, "low". CDIAL lists Old Marwari nīcaï under it (CDIAL 7540). नीचे (nīche) is the adverb of nīcho, "low"; the Old Marwari row means "below".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nīche
- Say it: nīche, once more
- Say it: say nīche
- Recall: say the Marwadi for inside, then the Marwadi for outside, then say nīche again

Before you move on

What does नीचे mean? ("Below, down".) Say it once more.

Chapter 82

Here, There, Road, Lane, Station

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say here, there, a road, a lane and a station.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 82: I can say here, there, a road, a lane and a station.

82.1 अठै (aṭhai) — here

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for outside, then the Marwadi for below.

You'll want to know: अठै

अठै — aṭhai — "here".

The word, taken apart

The origin of अठै (aṭhai) is not settled; CDIAL has no entry for it. A likely relative is Sanskrit atra, "here", under which CDIAL lists Gujarati atre (CDIAL 228), but that entry does not explain the ṭh of अठै (aṭhai).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: aṭhai
- Say it: aṭhai, once more
- Say it: say aṭhai
- Recall: say the Marwadi for outside, then the Marwadi for below, then say aṭhai again

Before you move on

What does अठै mean? ("Here".) Say it once more.

82.2 बठै (baṭhai) — there

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for below, then the Marwadi for here.

You'll want to know: बठै

बठै — baṭhai — "there".

The word, taken apart

The origin of बठै (baṭhai) is not settled. CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it; it pairs with aṭhai, "here", whose history is not settled either.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: baṭhai
- Say it: baṭhai, once more
- Say it: say baṭhai
- Recall: say the Marwadi for below, then the Marwadi for here, then say baṭhai again

Before you move on

What does बठै mean? ("There".) Say it once more.

82.3 सड़क (saṛak) — a road

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for here, then the Marwadi for there.

You'll want to know: सड़क

सड़क — saṛak — "a road".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL gives two accounts of सड़क (saṛak). It first lists the Hindi word under Sanskrit sṛti, "road, path" (CDIAL 13577), then in its addenda under śaṭati, "goes" (CDIAL 12269), so the source is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: saṛak
- Say it: saṛak, once more
- Say it: say saṛak
- Recall: say the Marwadi for here, then the Marwadi for there, then say saṛak again

Before you move on

What does सड़क mean? ("A road".) Say it once more.

82.4 गळी (gaḷī) — a lane

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for there, then the Marwadi for a road.

You'll want to know: गळी

गळी — gaḷī — "a lane".

The word, taken apart

गळी (gaḷī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from galī*, "defile, lane", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4085); the match is through Hindi galī. Marwadi, like Gujarati, says the l curled back.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: gaḷī
- Say it: gaḷī, once more
- Say it: say gaḷī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for there, then the Marwadi for a road, then say gaḷī again

Before you move on

What does गळी mean? ("A lane".) Say it once more.

82.5 टेसण (ṭesaṇ) — a station

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a road, then the Marwadi for a lane.

You'll want to know: टेसण

टेसण — ṭesaṇ — "a station".

The word, taken apart

टेसण (ṭesaṇ) is a loan from English station. Marwadi drops the first s and ends the word in ṇ.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ṭesaṇ
- Say it: ṭesaṇ, once more
- Say it: say ṭesaṇ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a road, then the Marwadi for a lane, then say ṭesaṇ again

Before you move on

What does टेसण mean? ("A station".) Say it once more.

83.1 पुल (pul) — a bridge

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a lane, then the Marwadi for a station.

You'll want to know: पुल

पुल — pul — "a bridge".

The word, taken apart

पुल (pul) is a loan, usually traced to Persian pul, "bridge".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pul
- Say it: pul, once more
- Say it: say pul
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a lane, then the Marwadi for a station, then say pul again

Before you move on

What does पुल mean? ("A bridge".) Say it once more.

83.2 होटल (hoṭal) — a hotel

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a station, then the Marwadi for a bridge.

You'll want to know: होटल

होटल — hoṭal — "a hotel".

The word, taken apart

होटल (hoṭal) is a loan from English hotel.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Recall: say the Marwadi for a station, then the Marwadi for a bridge, then say hoṭal again

Before you move on

What does होटल mean? ("A hotel".) Say it once more.

83.3 पुलिस (pulis) — the police

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a bridge, then the Marwadi for a hotel.

You'll want to know: पुलिस

पुलिस — pulis — "the police".

The word, taken apart

पुलिस (pulis) is a loan from English police.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pulis
- Say it: pulis, once more
- Say it: say pulis
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a bridge, then the Marwadi for a hotel, then say pulis again

Before you move on

What does पुलिस mean? ("The police".) Say it once more.

83.4 नाव (nāv) — a boat

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a hotel, then the Marwadi for the police.

You'll want to know: नाव

नाव — nāv — "a boat".

The word, taken apart

नाव (nāv) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from nāvā, "boat". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7081); the match is through Gujarati nāv. English navy goes back, through Latin navis, to the same ancient word.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nāv
- Say it: nāv, once more
- Say it: say nāv

Chapter 90

Midday, Evening, In the early morning, Dawn, Day after tomorrow

Modes: 🚗 voice (5) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

By the end of this chapter: I can say midday, the evening, in the early morning, dawn and the day after tomorrow.

Complete the last lesson of chapter 90: I can say midday, the evening, in the early morning, dawn and the day after tomorrow.

90.1 दोपार (dopār) — midday, the afternoon

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a matter; talk, then the Marwadi for a language.

Read it: ये कपड़ा दिखावो। ये कितणे कू है? without stopping

You'll want to know: दोपार

दोपार — dopār — "midday, the afternoon".

The word, taken apart

दोपार (dopār) is usually explained as do, "two", and pahar, "a watch of about three hours", which CDIAL lists as Old Marwari pahara under Sanskrit prahara, "a watch" (CDIAL 8900). CDIAL asks whether the Sanskrit word is itself a reshaping of Persian pahra, "watch". It has no entry for दोपार (dopār).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: dopār
- Say it: dopār, once more
- Say it: say dopār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a matter; talk, then the Marwadi for a language, then say dopār again

Before you move on

What does दोपार mean? ("Midday, the afternoon".) Say it once more.

90.2 आथण (āthaṇ) — the evening

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a language, then the Marwadi for midday.

You'll want to know: आथण

आथण — āthaṇ — "the evening".

The word, taken apart

आथण (āthaṇ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from astamayana, "setting of the sun". CDIAL lists Old Marwari āthaṇa under it (CDIAL 975). It is built on astam eti, "goes home", said of the sun.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: āthaṇ
- Say it: āthaṇ, once more
- Say it: say āthaṇ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a language, then the Marwadi for midday, then say āthaṇ again

Before you move on

What does आथण mean? ("The evening".) Say it once more.

90.3 दिनूगै (dinūgai) — in the early morning

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for midday, then the Marwadi for the evening.

You'll want to know: दिनूगै

दिनूगै — dinūgai — "in the early morning".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL has no entry for दिनूगै (dinūgai), so its history is not settled. It seems to be din, "day" (CDIAL 6328), with a form of the verb CDIAL lists as Old Marwari ūgaï, "rises, appears", under udgāti*, "rises" (CDIAL 1954): the time when the day comes up.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: dinūgai
- Say it: dinūgai, once more
- Say it: say dinūgai

- Recall: say the Marwadi for midday, then the Marwadi for the evening, then say dinūgai again

Before you move on

What does दिनूगै mean? ("In the early morning".) Say it once more.

90.4 परभात (parbhāt) — dawn

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the evening, then the Marwadi for in the early morning.

You'll want to know: परभात

परभात — parbhāt — "dawn".

The word, taken apart

परभात (parbhāt) is a semi-tatsama: Sanskrit prabhāta, "shone forth; daybreak", borrowed after the old sound changes had run their course and then lightly reshaped (CDIAL 8707). Marwadi splits the pr with a vowel. The inherited line shows in Prakrit pahāya, "dawn", which CDIAL lists under it.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: parbhāt
- Say it: parbhāt, once more
- Say it: say parbhāt
- Recall: say the Marwadi for the evening, then the Marwadi for in the early morning, then say parbhāt again

Before you move on

What does परभात mean? ("Dawn".) Say it once more.

90.5 परसूं (parsũ̃) — the day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for in the early morning, then the Marwadi for dawn.

You'll want to know: परसूं

परसूं — parsũ̃ — "the day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday".

The word, taken apart

परसूं (parsũ̃) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from paraśvas, "the day after tomorrow". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7799j); the match is through Hindi parsũ̃. It is built on para, "beyond", and śvas, "tomorrow"; like Hindi, Marwadi uses it for both directions in time.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: parsũ̃
- Say it: parsũ̃, once more
- Say it: say parsũ̃
- Recall: say the Marwadi for in the early morning, then the Marwadi for dawn, then say parsũ̃ again

Before you move on

What does परसूं mean? ("The day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday".) Say it once more.

91.1 पछै (pachhai) — afternoons, later

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for dawn, then the Marwadi for the day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday.

You'll want to know: पछै

पछै — pachhai — "afternoons, later".

The word, taken apart

पछै (pachhai) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from paśca*, "hinder part", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari pāchaï under it (CDIAL 7990). CDIAL says this form was drawn from Sanskrit paścāt, "behind, afterwards".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pachhai
- Say it: pachhai, once more
- Say it: say pachhai
- Recall: say the Marwadi for dawn, then the Marwadi for the day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday, then say pachhai again

Before you move on

What does पछै mean? ("Afterwards, later".) Say it once more.

91.2 सोमवार (somvār) — Monday

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday, then the Marwadi for afterwards.

You'll want to know: सोमवार

सोमवार — somvār — "Monday".

The word, taken apart

सोमवार (somvār) is a Sanskrit compound, a tatsama: soma, "the moon" (CDIAL 13608), and vāra, "day of the week", whose inherited Old Marwari form is bāra, "turn, time" (CDIAL 11547).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: somvār
- Say it: somvār, once more
- Say it: say somvār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for the day after tomorrow; the day before yesterday, then the Marwadi for afterwards, then say somvār again

Before you move on

What does सोमवार mean? ("Monday".) Say it once more.

91.3 मंगळवार (maṅgaḷvār) — Tuesday

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for afterwards, then the Marwadi for Monday.

You'll want to know: मंगळवार

मंगळवार — maṅgaḷvār — "Tuesday".

The word, taken apart

मंगळवार (maṅgaḷvār) is a Sanskrit compound: maṅgala, "the planet Mars" (CDIAL 9706), and vāra, "day of the week" (CDIAL 11547). Marwadi says the l curled back.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: maṅgaḷvār
- Say it: maṅgaḷvār, once more
- Say it: say maṅgaḷvār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for afterwards, then the Marwadi for Monday, then say maṅgaḷvār again

Before you move on

What does मंगळवार mean? ("Tuesday".) Say it once more.

91.4 गुरुवार (guruvār) — Thursday

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for Monday, then the Marwadi for Tuesday.

You'll want to know: गुरुवार

गुरुवार — guruvār — "Thursday".

The word, taken apart

गुरुवार (guruvār) is a Sanskrit compound, a tatsama: guru, "heavy", also the name of the planet Jupiter (CDIAL 4209), and vāra, "day of the week" (CDIAL 11547).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: guruvār
- Say it: guruvār, once more
- Say it: say guruvār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for Monday, then the Marwadi for Tuesday, then say guruvār again

Before you move on

What does गुरुवार mean? ("Thursday".) Say it once more.

91.5 सुकरवार (sukarvār) — Friday

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for Tuesday, then the Marwadi for Thursday.

You'll want to know: सुकरवार

सुकरवार — sukarvār — "Friday".

The word, taken apart

सुकरवार (sukarvār) is a Sanskrit compound, lightly reshaped, a semi-tatsama: śukra, "bright", also the planet Venus (CDIAL 12506), and vāra, "day of the week" (CDIAL 11547). Marwadi says the ś as s and splits the kr with a vowel.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: sukarvār
- Say it: sukarvār, once more
- Say it: say sukarvār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for Tuesday, then the Marwadi for Thursday, then say sukarvār again

Before you move on

What does सुकरवार mean? ("Friday".) Say it once more.

Chapter 100

Gate, Gateway, Mansion, Fair, Weekly market

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

By the end of this chapter: I can say a gate, a gateway, a mansion, a fair and a weekly market.

Complete the last lesson of chapter 100: I can say a gate, a gateway, a mansion, a fair and a weekly market.

100.1 दरवाजो (darvājo) — a gate, a doorway

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a stepwell, then the Marwadi for a pond, a lake.

You'll want to know: दरवाजो

दरवाजो — darvājo — "a gate, a doorway".

The word, taken apart

दरवाजो (darvājo) is a loan, usually traced to Persian darvāza, "gate, door". Marwadi says the z as j. The Persian word is a cousin of English door.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: darvājo
- Say it: darvājo, once more
- Say it: say darvājo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a stepwell, then the Marwadi for a pond, a lake, then say darvājo again

Before you move on

What does दरवाजो mean? ("A gate, a doorway".) Say it once more.

100.2 पोळ (poḷ) — a gateway

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a pond, a lake, then the Marwadi for a gate.

You'll want to know: पोळ

पोळ — poḷ — "a gateway".

The word, taken apart

पोळ (poḷ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pratolī, "gate of town or fort". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 8633); the match is through Hindi pol and Gujarati poḷ.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: poḷ
- Say it: poḷ, once more
- Say it: say poḷ

- Recall: say the Marwadi for a pond, a lake, then the Marwadi for a gate, then say poḷ again

Before you move on

What does पोळ mean? ("A gateway".) Say it once more.

100.3 हवेली (havelī) — a mansion

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a gate, then the Marwadi for a gateway.

You'll want to know: हवेली

हवेली — havelī — "a mansion".

The word, taken apart

हवेली (havelī) is a loan, usually traced to Persian havēlī, "mansion". Persian took it from Arabic ḥawālī, "surroundings" (Lane, root ḥ-w-l).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: havelī
- Say it: havelī, once more
- Say it: say havelī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a gate, then the Marwadi for a gateway, then say havelī again

Before you move on

What does हवेली mean? ("A mansion".) Say it once more.

100.4 मेळो (meḷo) — a fair

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a gateway, then the Marwadi for a mansion.

You'll want to know: मेळो

मेळो — meḷo — "a fair".

The word, taken apart

मेळो (meḷo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mela, "meeting". CDIAL lists Marwari meḷo under it, though in the sense "embrace"; the sense "fair" matches Hindi melā and Gujarati meḷo there (CDIAL 10331). It is built on the root mil, "to meet".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: meḷo
- Say it: meḷo, once more
- Say it: say meḷo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a gateway, then the Marwadi for a mansion, then say meḷo again

Before you move on

What does मेळो mean? ("A fair".) Say it once more.

100.5 हाट (hāṭ) — a weekly market

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a mansion, then the Marwadi for a fair.

You'll want to know: हाट

हाट — hāṭ — "a weekly market".

The word, taken apart

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: hāṭ
- Say it: hāṭ, once more
- Say it: say hāṭ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a mansion, then the Marwadi for a fair, then say hāṭ again

Before you move on

What does हाट mean? ("A weekly market".) Say it once more.

Chapter 101

This, Like this, Like that, Which, Who

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say this, like this, like that, which and who.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 101: I can say this, like this, like that, which and who.

101.1 यो (yo) — this

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a fair, then the Marwadi for a weekly market.

You'll want to know: यो

यो — yo — "this".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL lists Hindi yah, "this", under Sanskrit eṣa, "this" (CDIAL 2530). It gives no Marwari form, so the exact path to यो (yo) is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: yo
- Say it: yo, once more
- Say it: say yo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a fair, then the Marwadi for a weekly market, then say yo again

Before you move on

What does यो mean? ("This".) Say it once more.

101.2 इसो (iso) — like this, such

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a weekly market, then the Marwadi for this.

You'll want to know: इसो

इसो — iso — "like this, such".

The word, taken apart

इसो (iso) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from īdṛśa, "such, like this". CDIAL lists Old Marwari iso under it (CDIAL 1611).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: iso
- Say it: iso, once more
- Say it: say iso
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a weekly market, then the Marwadi for this, then say iso again

Before you move on

What does इसो mean? ("Like this, such".) Say it once more.

101.3 उसो (uso) — like that

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for this, then the Marwadi for like this.

You'll want to know: उसो

उसो — uso — "like that".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL has no entry for उसो (uso), so its history is not settled. It pairs with iso, "like this", which CDIAL lists under Sanskrit īdṛśa, "such" (CDIAL 1611).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: uso
- Say it: uso, once more
- Say it: say uso
- Recall: say the Marwadi for this, then the Marwadi for like this, then say uso again

Before you move on

What does उसो mean? ("Like that".) Say it once more.

101.4 किसो (kiso) — which, what kind of

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for like this, then the Marwadi for like that.

You'll want to know: किसो

किसो — kiso — "which, what kind of".

The word, taken apart

किसो (kiso) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kīdṛśa, "of what kind". CDIAL lists Old Marwari kiso under it (CDIAL 3197).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kiso
- Say it: kiso, once more
- Say it: say kiso
- Recall: say the Marwadi for like this, then the Marwadi for like that, then say kiso again

Before you move on

What does किसो mean? ("Which, what kind of".) Say it once more.

101.5 कुण (kuṇ) — who

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for like that, then the Marwadi for which.

You'll want to know: कुण

कुण — kuṇ — "who".

The word, taken apart

कुण (kuṇ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kaḥ punar, “who”. CDIAL lists Old Marwari kuṇa under it (CDIAL 2575). It is built on kaḥ, “who”, and punar, “again”.

What you’ve built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kuṇ
- Say it: kuṇ, once more
- Say it: say kuṇ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for like that, then the Marwadi for which, then say kuṇ again

Before you move on

What does कुण mean? (“Who”.) Say it once more.

Chapter 102

All, Another, Our own, Someone, Each

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say all, another, our own, someone and each.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 102: I can say all, another, our own, someone and each.

102.1 सगळा (sagḷā) — all, everyone

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for which, then the Marwadi for who.

You'll want to know: सगळा

सगळा — sagḷā — "all, everyone".

The word, taken apart

सगळा (sagḷā) is usually linked with Sanskrit sakala, "whole", under which CDIAL lists Old Gujarati sayala, "all" (CDIAL 13066). CDIAL gives no Marwari form, and that entry does not explain the g and ḷ of सगळा (sagḷā), so the link is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: sagḷā
- Say it: sagḷā, once more
- Say it: say sagḷā
- Recall: say the Marwadi for which, then the Marwadi for who, then say sagḷā again

Before you move on

What does सगळा mean? ("All, everyone".) Say it once more.

102.2 दूजो (dūjo) — another, the second

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for who, then the Marwadi for all.

You'll want to know: दूजो

दूजो — dūjo — "another, the second".

The word, taken apart

दूजो (dūjo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dutīya*, "second", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6402); the match is through Hindi dūjā and Gujarati dujũ. CDIAL sets it beside Sanskrit dvitīya, "second".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: dūjo
- Say it: dūjo, once more
- Say it: say dūjo

- Recall: say the Marwadi for who, then the Marwadi for all, then say dūjo again

Before you move on

What does दूजो mean? ("Another, the second".) Say it once more.

102.3 आपणो (āpṇo) — our own, one's own

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for all, then the Marwadi for another.

You'll want to know: आपणो

आपणो — āpṇo — "our own, one's own".

The word, taken apart

आपणो (āpṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ātmanaka*, "own", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari āpaṇau under it (CDIAL 1135). CDIAL reconstructs ātmanaka* from Sanskrit ātman, "self".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: āpṇo
- Say it: āpṇo, once more
- Say it: say āpṇo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for all, then the Marwadi for another, then say āpṇo again

Before you move on

What does आपणो mean? ("Our own, one's own".) Say it once more.

102.4 कोई (koī) — someone, any

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for another, then the Marwadi for our own.

You'll want to know: कोई

कोई — koī — "someone, any".

The word, taken apart

कोई (koī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kaścid, "some one, anyone". CDIAL lists Old Marwari koi under it (CDIAL 2967). CDIAL notes that it partly ran together with ko'pi, "whoever".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: koī
- Say it: koī, once more
- Say it: say koī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for another, then the Marwadi for our own, then say koī again

Before you move on

What does कोई mean? ("Someone, any".) Say it once more.

102.5 हरेक (harek) — each, every

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for our own, then the Marwadi for someone.

You'll want to know: हरेक

हरेक — harek — "each, every".

The word, taken apart

हरेक (harek) joins har, "every", usually traced to Persian har, with ek, "one", from Sanskrit eka (CDIAL 2462).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: harek
- Say it: harek, once more
- Say it: say harek
- Recall: say the Marwadi for our own, then the Marwadi for someone, then say harek again

Before you move on

What does हरेक mean? ("Each, every".) Say it once more.

Chapter 103

To bathe, To cook, To make, To break, To join

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say to bathe, to cook, to make, to break and to join.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 103: I can say to bathe, to cook, to make, to break and to join.

103.1 न्हावणो (nhāvṇo) — to bathe

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for someone, then the Marwadi for each.

You'll want to know: न्हावणो

न्हावणो — nhāvṇo — "to bathe".

The word, taken apart

न्हावणो (nhāvṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from snāti, "bathes". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 13786); the match is through Hindi nhānā.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: nhāvṇo
- Say it: nhāvṇo, once more
- Say it: say nhāvṇo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for someone, then the Marwadi for each, then say nhāvṇo again

Before you move on

What does न्हावणो mean? ("To bathe".) Say it once more.

103.2 पकावणो (pakāvṇo) — to cook

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for each, then the Marwadi for to bathe.

You'll want to know: पकावणो

पकावणो — pakāvṇo — "to cook".

The word, taken apart

पकावणो (pakāvṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pakva, "cooked, ripe". CDIAL lists Old Marwari pākaï under it (CDIAL 7621). The Old Marwari row means "becomes ripe"; पकावणो (pakāvṇo) is its causing form, "make cooked". The root is pac, "to cook".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pakāvṇo
- Say it: pakāvṇo, once more
- Say it: say pakāvṇo

- Recall: say the Marwadi for each, then the Marwadi for to bathe, then say pakāvṇo again

Before you move on

What does पकावणो mean? ("To cook".) Say it once more.

103.3 बणावणो (baṇāvṇo) — to make

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to bathe, then the Marwadi for to cook.

You'll want to know: बणावणो

बणावणो — baṇāvṇo — "to make".

The word, taken apart

CDIAL gives no Marwari row for बणावणो (baṇāvṇo), "to make". It lists Old Awadhi banāvaï, "makes", and Hindi bannā, "to be made", under Sanskrit vanati, "desires, gains, makes ready" (CDIAL 11260), and notes a rival account from Sanskrit varṇayati, "describes". The match is through those languages.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: baṇāvṇo
- Say it: baṇāvṇo, once more
- Say it: say baṇāvṇo

मांगणो — māṅgṇo — "to ask for".

The word, taken apart

मांगणो (māṅgṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from mārgati, "seeks, requests". CDIAL lists Old Marwari māgaï under it (CDIAL 10074).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: māṅgṇo
- Say it: māṅgṇo, once more
- Say it: say māṅgṇo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to uncover, then the Marwadi for to call, then say māṅgṇo again

Before you move on

What does मांगणो mean? ("To ask for".) Say it once more.

104.5 जोवणो (jovṇo) — to look, to look for

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to call, then the Marwadi for to ask for.

You'll want to know: जोवणो

जोवणो — jovṇo — "to look, to look for".

The word, taken apart

जोवणो (jovṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dyotate, "shines; makes clear". CDIAL lists Old Marwari jovaï under it (CDIAL 6612). The Old Marwari row means "watches"; CDIAL sets the verb beside Sanskrit jyotate, "shines".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: jovṇo
- Say it: jovṇo, once more
- Say it: say jovṇo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to call, then the Marwadi for to ask for, then say jovṇo again

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to look, then the Marwadi for to stay.

You'll want to know: बांचणो

बांचणो — bā̃chṇo — "to read".

The word, taken apart

बांचणो (bā̃chṇo) is usually linked with Sanskrit vācayati, "causes to say, reads", which CDIAL follows into Prakrit vāyēi, "reads" (CDIAL 11471), but not into Marwari or Hindi. That entry does not explain the nasal and the ch of बांचणो (bā̃chṇo), so the link is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bā̃chṇo
- Say it: bā̃chṇo, once more
- Say it: say bā̃chṇo

You'll want to know: गेरणो

गेरणो — gerṇo — "to drop".

The word, taken apart

गेरणो (gerṇo) is probably a causing form, "make fall", of girati*, "drips, falls", a form CDIAL reconstructs. CDIAL lists Old Marwari giraï, "falls", under it, with Old Hindi gernā, "to throw", and Gujarati geravvũ, causing forms with the same e as गेरणो (gerṇo) (CDIAL 4159).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: gerṇo
- Say it: gerṇo, once more
- Say it: say gerṇo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to push, then the Marwadi for to lift, then say gerṇo again

Before you move on

What does गेरणो mean? ("To drop".) Say it once more.

106.4 बाळणो (bāḷṇo) — to burn

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to lift, then the Marwadi for to drop.

You'll want to know: बाळणो

बाळणो — bāḷṇo — "to burn".

The word, taken apart

बाळणो (bāḷṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from dvālayati*, "kindles", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 6671); the match is through Hindi bālnā and Gujarati bāḷvũ. CDIAL sets it beside Sanskrit jvālayati, "kindles". Its plain partner dvalati*, "burns", has Old Marwari balaï (CDIAL 6654).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

115.3 पूंजी (pū̃jī) — capital, savings

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for land, then the Marwadi for property.

You'll want to know: पूंजी

पूंजी — pū̃jī — "capital, savings".

The word, taken apart

पूंजी (pū̃jī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from puñja, "heap, quantity". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 8251); the match is through Hindi pū̃jī. The sense moved from "heap" to "store of money". CDIAL thinks the further history of the Sanskrit word doubtful.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pū̃jī
- Say it: pū̃jī, once more
- Say it: say pū̃jī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for land, then the Marwadi for property, then say pū̃jī again

Before you move on

What does पूंजी mean? ("Capital, savings".) Say it once more.

115.4 कमाई (kamāī) — earnings

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for property, then the Marwadi for capital.

You'll want to know: कमाई

कमाई — kamāī — "earnings".

The word, taken apart

कमाई (kamāī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from karmāpayati*, "works, earns", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 2897); the match is through Hindi kamānā and Gujarati kamāvũ. कमाई (kamāī) is the noun of the verb "to earn"; CDIAL builds that verb on Sanskrit karman, "work".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kamāī
- Say it: kamāī, once more
- Say it: say kamāī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for property, then the Marwadi for capital, then say kamāī again

Before you move on

What does कमाई mean? ("Earnings".) Say it once more.

115.5 नौकरी (naukrī) — a job

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for capital, then the Marwadi for earnings.

You'll want to know: नौकरी

नौकरी — naukrī — "a job".

The word, taken apart

नौकरी (naukrī) is a loan, usually traced to Persian naukar, "servant". Persian took naukar from Mongolic nökör, "companion"; Marwadi added the ending -ī, so "the work of a servant".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: naukrī
- Say it: naukrī, once more
- Say it: say naukrī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for capital, then the Marwadi for earnings, then say naukrī again

Before you move on

116.1 गुण (guṇ) — a virtue, a good quality

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for earnings, then the Marwadi for a job.

You'll want to know: गुण

गुण — guṇ — "a virtue, a good quality".

The word, taken apart

गुण (guṇ) is Sanskrit guṇa, "strand of a cord; quality", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 4190). The inherited form is Hindi gun, "rope"; गुण (guṇ) keeps the Sanskrit sense "quality".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: guṇ
- Say it: guṇ, once more
- Say it: say guṇ

What does गुण mean? ("A virtue, a good quality".) Say it once more.

116.2 अकल (akal) — good sense, intelligence

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a job, then the Marwadi for a virtue.

You'll want to know: अकल

अकल — akal — "good sense, intelligence".

The word, taken apart

अकल (akal) is a loan from Arabic ʿaql, "reason, intelligence", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ʿ-q-l (Lane). Marwadi splits the final consonants with a vowel.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: akal
- Say it: akal, once more
- Say it: say akal

- Recall: say the Marwadi for a job, then the Marwadi for a virtue, then say akal again

Before you move on

What does अकल mean? ("Good sense, intelligence".) Say it once more.

116.3 ग्यान (gyān) — knowledge

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a virtue, then the Marwadi for good sense.

You'll want to know: ग्यान

ग्यान — gyān — "knowledge".

The word, taken apart

ग्यान (gyān) is a semi-tatsama: Sanskrit jñāna, "knowledge", borrowed after the old sound changes had run their course and then lightly reshaped (CDIAL 5281). Marwadi says the jñ as gy.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: gyān
- Say it: gyān, once more
- Say it: say gyān
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a virtue, then the Marwadi for good sense, then say gyān again

Before you move on

What does ग्यान mean? ("Knowledge".) Say it once more.

हक — hak — "a right".

The word, taken apart

हक (hak) is a loan from Arabic ḥaqq, "truth, a right", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ḥ-q-q (Lane).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: hak
- Say it: hak, once more
- Say it: say hak
- Recall: say the Marwadi for good sense, then the Marwadi for knowledge, then say hak again

Before you move on

What does हक mean? ("A right".) Say it once more.

116.5 मौको (mauko) — a chance

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for knowledge, then the Marwadi for a right.

You'll want to know: मौको

मौको — mauko — "a chance".

The word, taken apart

मौको (mauko) is a loan from Arabic mawqiᶜ, "place, occasion", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is w-q-ᶜ (Lane). Persian says it mauqa, "occasion"; the sense moved to "chance".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mauko
- Say it: mauko, once more
- Say it: say mauko
- Recall: say the Marwadi for knowledge, then the Marwadi for a right, then say mauko again

Before you move on

What does मौको mean? ("A chance".) Say it once more.

Chapter 117

Why, Reason, For, Because of, Because

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say why, a reason, for, because of and because.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 117: I can say why, a reason, for, because of and because.

117.1 क्यूं (kyū̃) — why

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a right, then the Marwadi for a chance.

You'll want to know: क्यूं

क्यूं — kyū̃ — "why".

The word, taken apart

क्यूं (kyū̃) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kim, "what, why". CDIAL lists Old Marwari kyu under it (CDIAL 3164). Its k- is the old question stem.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kyũ̃
- Say it: kyũ̃, once more
- Say it: say kyũ̃
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a right, then the Marwadi for a chance, then say kyũ̃ again

Before you move on

What does क्यूं mean? ("Why".) Say it once more.

117.2 कारण (kāraṇ) — a reason

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a chance, then the Marwadi for why.

You'll want to know: कारण

कारण — kāraṇ — "a reason".

The word, taken apart

कारण (kāraṇ) is Sanskrit kāraṇa, "cause", taken over whole as a learned loan, a tatsama (CDIAL 3057). CDIAL also lists Gujarati kāraṇ and Hindi kāran, "reason", under it.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kāraṇ
- Say it: kāraṇ, once more
- Say it: say kāraṇ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a chance, then the Marwadi for why, then say kāraṇ again

Before you move on

What does कारण mean? ("A reason".) Say it once more.

117.3 वास्तै (vāstai) — for, for the sake of

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for why, then the Marwadi for a reason.

You'll want to know: वास्तै

वास्तै — vāstai — "for, for the sake of".

The word, taken apart

वास्तै (vāstai) is a loan from Arabic wāsiṭa, "means, intermediary", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is w-s-ṭ (Lane). Hindi and Urdu vāste, "for the sake of", grew from its oblique form; Marwadi ends it in -ai.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: vāstai
- Say it: vāstai, once more
- Say it: say vāstai
- Recall: say the Marwadi for why, then the Marwadi for a reason, then say vāstai again

117.4 खातर (khātar) — because of, for

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a reason, then the Marwadi for for.

You'll want to know: खातर

खातर — khātar — "because of, for".

The word, taken apart

खातर (khātar) is a loan from Arabic ḫāṭir, "mind; sake", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ḫ-ṭ-r (Lane). Persian uses it in ba xāṭir, "for the sake of".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khātar
- Say it: khātar, once more
- Say it: say khātar
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a reason, then the Marwadi for for, then say khātar again

Before you move on

What does खातर mean? ("Because of, for".) Say it once more.

117.5 क्यूंकै (kyū̃kai) — because

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for for, then the Marwadi for because of.

You'll want to know: क्यूंकै

क्यूंकै — kyū̃kai — "because".

The word, taken apart

क्यूंकै (kyū̃kai) joins kyū̃, "why", which CDIAL lists as Old Marwari kyu under Sanskrit kim, "what" (CDIAL 3164), with kai, "that". CDIAL takes the similar Hindi ki, "that", from Persian (CDIAL 3164), but gives no Marwari form of it, so that part is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kyū̃kai
- Say it: kyū̃kai, once more
- Say it: say kyū̃kai
- Recall: say the Marwadi for for, then the Marwadi for because of, then say kyū̃kai again

Before you move on

What does क्यूंकै mean? ("Because".) Say it once more.

126.1 कोयलो (koylo) — coal

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for matches, then the Marwadi for wood.

You'll want to know: कोयलो

कोयलो — koylo — "coal".

The word, taken apart

कोयलो (koylo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kokila, "lighted coal, charcoal". CDIAL lists Marwari koilo under it (CDIAL 3484). CDIAL takes the Sanskrit word from Middle Indo-Aryan kōila, itself from Proto-Munda.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: koylo
- Say it: koylo, once more
- Say it: say koylo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for matches, then the Marwadi for wood, then say koylo again

You'll want to know: छाणो

छाणो — chhāṇo — "a dung cake".

The word, taken apart

छाणो (chhāṇo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from chakana*, "dung", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4952); the match is through Gujarati chāṇ. CDIAL sets it beside śakana*, "dung".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chhāṇo
- Say it: chhāṇo, once more
- Say it: say chhāṇo

- Recall: say the Marwadi for wood, then the Marwadi for coal, then say chhāṇo again

126.3 बोरो (boro) — a sack

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for coal, then the Marwadi for a dung cake.

You'll want to know: बोरो

बोरो — boro — "a sack".

The word, taken apart

बोरो (boro) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bora*, "sacking, sack", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9320); the match is through Hindi borā. CDIAL thinks it first meant cloth of goat's hair, and asks whether it goes back to Sanskrit bakura, a goatskin bag.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: boro
- Say it: boro, once more
- Say it: say boro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for coal, then the Marwadi for a dung cake, then say boro again

Before you move on

What does बोरो mean? ("A sack".) Say it once more.

126.4 रस्सी (rassī) — a rope

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a dung cake, then the Marwadi for a sack.

You'll want to know: रस्सी

रस्सी — rassī — "a rope".

The word, taken apart

रस्सी (rassī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from raśmi, "rope, bridle, ray of light". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 10648); the match is through Hindi rassī and Gujarati rasī. CDIAL marks the doubled ss forms as taken from Punjabi.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: rassī
- Say it: rassī, once more
- Say it: say rassī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a dung cake, then the Marwadi for a sack, then say rassī again

Before you move on

What does रस्सी mean? ("A rope".) Say it once more.

126.5 खूंटी (khū̃ṭī) — a peg

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a sack, then the Marwadi for a rope.

You'll want to know: खूंटी

खूंटी — khū̃ṭī — "a peg".

The word, taken apart

खूंटी (khū̃ṭī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from khuṭṭa*, "peg, post", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Marwari khuṭī under it (CDIAL 3893).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khū̃ṭī
- Say it: khū̃ṭī, once more
- Say it: say khū̃ṭī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a sack, then the Marwadi for a rope, then say khū̃ṭī again

Before you move on

What does खूंटी mean? ("A peg".) Say it once more.

127.1 खीलो (khīlo) — a nail

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a rope, then the Marwadi for a peg.

You'll want to know: खीलो

खीलो — khīlo — "a nail".

The word, taken apart

खीलो (khīlo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kīla, "stake, peg". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 3202); the match is through Gujarati khīlo. CDIAL notes that the k/kh variation points to a non-Aryan source.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khīlo
- Say it: khīlo, once more
- Say it: say khīlo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a rope, then the Marwadi for a peg, then say khīlo again

Before you move on

What does खीलो mean? ("A nail".) Say it once more.

127.2 हथोड़ो (hathoṛo) — a hammer

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a peg, then the Marwadi for a nail.

You'll want to know: हथोड़ो

हथोड़ो — hathoṛo — "a hammer".

The word, taken apart

हथोड़ो (hathoṛo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from hastakūṭa*, "hand hammer", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 14028); the match is through Hindi hathauṛā and Gujarati hathoṛo. It is built on hasta, "hand", and kūṭa, "hammer".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: hathoṛo
- Say it: hathoṛo, once more
- Say it: say hathoṛo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a peg, then the Marwadi for a nail, then say hathoṛo again

Before you move on

What does हथोड़ो mean? (“A hammer”.) Say it once more.

127.3 कुल्हाड़ी (kulhāṛī) — an axe

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a nail, then the Marwadi for a hammer.

You’ll want to know: कुल्हाड़ी

The word, taken apart

कुल्हाड़ी (kulhāṛī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kuṭhāra, “axe”. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 3244); the match is through Hindi kulhāṛī. CDIAL thinks the Sanskrit word itself probably came from Dravidian.

What you’ve built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kulhāṛī
- Say it: kulhāṛī, once more
- Say it: say kulhāṛī

- Recall: say the Marwadi for a nail, then the Marwadi for a hammer, then say kulhāṛī again

Before you move on

What does कुल्हाड़ी mean? ("An axe".) Say it once more.

127.4 हळ (haḷ) — a plough

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a hammer, then the Marwadi for an axe.

You'll want to know: हळ

हळ — haḷ — "a plough".

The word, taken apart

हळ (haḷ) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from hala, "plough". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 14000); the match is through Hindi hal and Gujarati haḷ. Marwadi, like Gujarati, says the l curled back.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: haḷ
- Say it: haḷ, once more
- Say it: say haḷ
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a hammer, then the Marwadi for an axe, then say haḷ again

Before you move on

What does हळ mean? ("A plough".) Say it once more.

127.5 बैलगाड़ी (bailgāṛī) — a bullock cart

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for an axe, then the Marwadi for a plough.

You'll want to know: बैलगाड़ी

बैलगाड़ी — bailgāṛī — "a bullock cart".

The word, taken apart

बैलगाड़ी (bailgāṛī) is an ox cart: bail, "ox", which CDIAL lists as Hindi bail under balilla*, "ox" (CDIAL 9175), and gāṛī, "cart", from gāḍḍa* (CDIAL 4116).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bailgāṛī
- Say it: bailgāṛī, once more
- Say it: say bailgāṛī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for an axe, then the Marwadi for a plough, then say bailgāṛī again

Before you move on

What does बैलगाड़ी mean? ("A bullock cart".) Say it once more.

Chapter 128

Turban, Long skirt, Woman's wrap, Bodice, Long coat

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a turban, a long skirt, a woman's wrap, a bodice and a long coat.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 128: I can say a turban, a long skirt, a woman's wrap, a bodice and a long coat.

128.1 पगड़ी (pagṛī) — a turban

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a plough, then the Marwadi for a bullock cart.

You'll want to know: पगड़ी

पगड़ी — pagṛī — "a turban".

The word, taken apart

पगड़ी (pagṛī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from paggā*, "headdress", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 7644); the match is through Hindi pagṛī. CDIAL thinks a source in Sanskrit pragraha scarcely likely, and explains the ṛ as an added suffix.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pagṛī
- Say it: pagṛī, once more
- Say it: say pagṛī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a plough, then the Marwadi for a bullock cart, then say pagṛī again

Before you move on

What does पगड़ी mean? ("A turban".) Say it once more.

128.2 घाघरो (ghāghro) — a long skirt

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a bullock cart, then the Marwadi for a turban.

You'll want to know: घाघरो

घाघरो — ghāghro — "a long skirt".

The word, taken apart

घाघरो (ghāghro) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ghargharī, "girdle of small bells". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4444); the match is through Hindi ghāghrā and Gujarati ghāghro.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ghāghro
- Say it: ghāghro, once more
- Say it: say ghāghro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a bullock cart, then the Marwadi for a turban, then say ghāghro again

Before you move on

What does घाघरो mean? ("A long skirt".) Say it once more.

128.3 लूगड़ो (lūgṛo) — a woman's wrap

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a turban, then the Marwadi for a long skirt.

You'll want to know: लूगड़ो

लूगड़ो — lūgṛo — "a woman's wrap".

The word, taken apart

लूगड़ो (lūgṛo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from lugga*, "defective", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. In this large group of "defective" words, Hindi lugṛā means "rag" and Gujarati lugṛũ "clothes", and CDIAL's additions give a Rajasthani lūgṛī, "scarf, a woman's coloured wrap" (CDIAL 11072). How the senses connect is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: lūgṛo
- Say it: lūgṛo, once more

- Say it: say lūgṛo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a turban, then the Marwadi for a long skirt, then say lūgṛo again

Before you move on

What does लूगड़ो mean? ("A woman's wrap".) Say it once more.

128.4 कांचळी (kā̃chaḷī) — a bodice

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a long skirt, then the Marwadi for a woman's wrap.

You'll want to know: कांचळी

कांचळी — kā̃chaḷī — "a bodice".

The word, taken apart

कांचळी (kā̃chaḷī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kañculī, "bodice". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 2627); the match is through Gujarati kā̃cḷī. Its base word, kañcu*, "snake's skin; bodice", does have Old Marwari kaṃcū, "bodice" (CDIAL 2626).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kā̃chaḷī
- Say it: kā̃chaḷī, once more
- Say it: say kā̃chaḷī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a long skirt, then the Marwadi for a woman's wrap, then say kā̃chaḷī again

Before you move on

What does कांचळी mean? ("A bodice".) Say it once more.

128.5 अंगरखी (aṅgarkhī) — a long coat

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a woman's wrap, then the Marwadi for a bodice.

You'll want to know: अंगरखी

अंगरखी — aṅgarkhī — "a long coat".

The word, taken apart

अंगरखी (aṅgarkhī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from aṅgarakṣa*, "garment", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 120); the match is through Hindi ãgarkhī and Gujarati ãgarkhī. It is built on aṅga, "body", and rakṣa, "guard".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: aṅgarkhī
- Say it: aṅgarkhī, once more
- Say it: say aṅgarkhī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a woman's wrap, then the Marwadi for a bodice, then say aṅgarkhī again

Before you move on

What does अंगरखी mean? ("A long coat".) Say it once more.

Chapter 129

Shirt, Sandals, Embroidered shoes, Thick bangle, Bangle

Modes: voice (7) Hands-free start: all 7 lessons.

By the end of this chapter: I can say a shirt, sandals, embroidered shoes, a thick bangle and a bangle.

Complete the last lesson of chapter 129: I can say a shirt, sandals, embroidered shoes, a thick bangle and a bangle.

129.1 कमीज (kamīj) — a shirt

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a bodice, then the Marwadi for a long coat.

You'll want to know: कमीज

कमीज — kamīj — "a shirt".

The word, taken apart

कमीज (kamīj) is a loan from Arabic qamīṣ, "shirt", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is q-m-ṣ (Lane). Persian says it qamīz; Marwadi says the last sound as j.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kamīj
- Say it: kamīj, once more
- Say it: say kamīj
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a bodice, then the Marwadi for a long coat, then say kamīj again

Before you move on

What does कमीज mean? ("A shirt".) Say it once more.

129.2 चप्पल (chappal) — sandals

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a long coat, then the Marwadi for a shirt.

You'll want to know: चप्पल

चप्पल — chappal — "sandals".

The word, taken apart

The origin of चप्पल (chappal) is not settled. CDIAL has no entry for it; DEDR compares Hindi cappal, with a "Cf.", to Dravidian words for "sandal" such as Telugu ceppu (DEDR 1963).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chappal
- Say it: chappal, once more
- Say it: say chappal
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a long coat, then the Marwadi for a shirt, then say chappal again

Before you move on

What does चप्पल mean? ("Sandals".) Say it once more.

129.3 मोचड़ी (mochṛī) — embroidered shoes

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a shirt, then the Marwadi for sandals.

You'll want to know: मोचड़ी

मोचड़ी — mochṛī — "embroidered shoes".

The word, taken apart

मोचड़ी (mochṛī) matches Sindhi mocaṛu, "shoe", which CDIAL lists under mōca*, "shoe", a word it takes from Iranian (Pahlavi mōč, "shoe"); Hindi mocī, "cobbler", is in the same entry (CDIAL 10349). CDIAL gives no Marwari form, so the match is through Sindhi, and the ṛ is an added suffix.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mochṛī
- Say it: mochṛī, once more
- Say it: say mochṛī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a shirt, then the Marwadi for sandals, then say mochṛī again

What does मोचड़ी mean? ("Embroidered shoes".) Say it once more.

129.4 कड़ो (kaṛo) — a thick bangle

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for sandals, then the Marwadi for embroidered shoes.

You'll want to know: कड़ो

कड़ो — kaṛo — "a thick bangle".

The word, taken apart

कड़ो (kaṛo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kaṭaka, "twist of straw; bracelet". CDIAL lists Marwari kaṛo under it (CDIAL 2629). Sanskrit kaṭaka already meant "bracelet".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kaṛo
- Say it: kaṛo, once more
- Say it: say kaṛo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for sandals, then the Marwadi for embroidered shoes, then say kaṛo again

Before you move on

What does कड़ो mean? ("A thick bangle".) Say it once more.

129.5 चूड़ी (chūṛī) — a bangle

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for embroidered shoes, then the Marwadi for a thick bangle.

You'll want to know: चूड़ी

चूड़ी — chūṛī — "a bangle".

The word, taken apart

चूड़ी (chūṛī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from cūḍa, "bracelet". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 4884); the match is through Hindi cūṛī and Gujarati cūṛī. CDIAL asks whether it is the same word as cūḍa, "topknot", which it takes from Dravidian.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chūṛī
- Say it: chūṛī, once more
- Say it: say chūṛī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for embroidered shoes, then the Marwadi for a thick bangle, then say chūṛī again

Before you move on

What does चूड़ी mean? ("A bangle".) Say it once more.

140.5 बीछू (bīchhū) — a scorpion

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a mosquito, then the Marwadi for an ant.

You'll want to know: बीछू

बीछू — bīchhū — "a scorpion".

The word, taken apart

बीछू (bīchhū) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vṛścika, "scorpion". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 12081); the match is through Hindi bīchū and Gujarati vīchu. CDIAL suggests that the many forms of the word come from a taboo on naming the scorpion.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bīchhū
- Say it: bīchhū, once more
- Say it: say bīchhū
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a mosquito, then the Marwadi for an ant, then say bīchhū again

Before you move on

What does बीछू mean? ("A scorpion".) Say it once more.

141.2 खराब (kharāb) — bad, spoiled

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a scorpion, then the Marwadi for good.

You'll want to know: खराब

खराब — kharāb — "bad, spoiled".

The word, taken apart

खराब (kharāb) is a loan from Arabic ḫarāb, "ruin, desolation", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ḫ-r-b (Lane).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kharāb
- Say it: kharāb, once more
- Say it: say kharāb
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a scorpion, then the Marwadi for good, then say kharāb again

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for bad, then the Marwadi for narrow.

You'll want to know: चौड़ो

चौड़ो — chauṛo — "wide".

The word, taken apart

चौड़ो (chauṛo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ca-uḍa*, "wide, open", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL lists Old Marwari cauḍaï under it (CDIAL 4534). The Old Marwari row means "in the open"; CDIAL thinks the word may be built on caü-, "four", from compounds of catur.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: chauṛo
- Say it: chauṛo, once more
- Say it: say chauṛo

142.1 हळको (haḷko) — light (not heavy)

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for wide, then the Marwadi for deep.

You'll want to know: हळको

हळको — haḷko — "light (not heavy)".

The word, taken apart

हळको (haḷko) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from laghu, "light". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 10896); the match is through Hindi halkā. Its first sounds are swapped. CDIAL treats Hindi halkā as the source of the same word in Gujarati and Marathi; Marwadi says the l curled back.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: haḷko
- Say it: haḷko, once more
- Say it: say haḷko
- Recall: say the Marwadi for wide, then the Marwadi for deep, then say haḷko again

Before you move on

What does हळको mean? ("Light (not heavy)".) Say it once more.

142.2 कड़क (kaṛak) — hard, stiff

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for deep, then the Marwadi for light.

You'll want to know: कड़क

कड़क — kaṛak — "hard, stiff".

The word, taken apart

कड़क (kaṛak) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from kaṭakaṭā, "sound of rubbing". CDIAL lists Old Marwari kaṛāko under it (CDIAL 2632). CDIAL calls the word imitative. The Old Marwari row means "fasting", from a rumbling stomach; Gujarati kaṛak means "dry, crisp", as कड़क (kaṛak) does.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kaṛak
- Say it: kaṛak, once more

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for shiny, then the Marwadi for calm.

You'll want to know: हुसियार

हुसियार — husiyār — "clever".

The word, taken apart

हुसियार (husiyār) is a loan, usually traced to Persian hušyār, "alert, wise". It is built on Persian huš, "the senses".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: husiyār
- Say it: husiyār, once more
- Say it: say husiyār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for shiny, then the Marwadi for calm, then say husiyār again

Before you move on

What does हुसियार mean? ("Clever".) Say it once more.

146.4 बावळो (bāvaḷo) — silly, foolish

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for calm, then the Marwadi for clever.

You'll want to know: बावळो

बावळो — bāvaḷo — "silly, foolish".

The word, taken apart

बावळो (bāvaḷo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from vātula, "affected by wind-disease, crazy". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 11504); the match is through Hindi bāulā and Gujarati vāulũ. CDIAL thinks the sense "mad" may come from Middle Indo-Aryan vāula, "perplexed", from Sanskrit vyākula.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bāvaḷo
- Say it: bāvaḷo, once more
- Say it: say bāvaḷo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for calm, then the Marwadi for clever, then say bāvaḷo again

Before you move on

What does बावळो mean? ("Silly, foolish".) Say it once more.

146.5 आळसी (āḷsī) — lazy

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for clever, then the Marwadi for silly.

You'll want to know: आळसी

आळसी — āḷsī — "lazy".

The word, taken apart

आळसी (āḷsī) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from ālasya, "sloth". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 1371); the match is through Hindi ālsī.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: āḷsī
- Say it: āḷsī, once more
- Say it: say āḷsī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for clever, then the Marwadi for silly, then say āḷsī again

Before you move on

What does आळसी mean? ("Lazy".) Say it once more.

Chapter 147

Hard-working, Honest, Kind, Miserly, Good-natured

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say hard-working, honest, kind, miserly and good-natured.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 147: I can say hard-working, honest, kind, miserly and good-natured.

147.1 मेहनती (mehantī) — hard-working

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for silly, then the Marwadi for lazy.

You'll want to know: मेहनती

मेहनती — mehantī — "hard-working".

The word, taken apart

मेहनती (mehantī) is a loan from Arabic miḥna, "trial, ordeal", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is m-ḥ-n (Lane). Persian mihnat means "toil"; Marwadi added the ending -ī.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: mehantī
- Say it: mehantī, once more
- Say it: say mehantī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for silly, then the Marwadi for lazy, then say mehantī again

Before you move on

What does मेहनती mean? ("Hard-working".) Say it once more.

147.2 ईमानदार (īmāndār) — honest

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for lazy, then the Marwadi for hard-working.

You'll want to know: ईमानदार

ईमानदार — īmāndār — "honest".

The word, taken apart

ईमानदार (īmāndār) joins Arabic īmān, "faith", whose root is ʾ-m-n (Lane), with Persian -dār, "holder": "one who keeps faith". It reached Marwadi through Persian.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: īmāndār
- Say it: īmāndār, once more
- Say it: say īmāndār
- Recall: say the Marwadi for lazy, then the Marwadi for hard-working, then say īmāndār again

Before you move on

What does ईमानदार mean? ("Honest".) Say it once more.

147.3 दयाळु (dayāḷu) — kind

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for hard-working, then the Marwadi for honest.

You'll want to know: दयाळु

दयाळु — dayāḷu — "kind".

The word, taken apart

दयाळु (dayāḷu) is a semi-tatsama: Sanskrit dayālu, "compassionate", borrowed after the old sound changes had run their course and then lightly reshaped. Marwadi says the l curled back; CDIAL has no entry for the word, only for its base dayā, "sympathy" (CDIAL 6185).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: dayāḷu
- Say it: dayāḷu, once more
- Say it: say dayāḷu
- Recall: say the Marwadi for hard-working, then the Marwadi for honest, then say dayāḷu again

Before you move on

What does दयाळु mean? ("Kind".) Say it once more.

147.4 कंजूस (kañjūs) — miserly

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for honest, then the Marwadi for kind.

You'll want to know: कंजूस

कंजूस — kañjūs — "miserly".

The word, taken apart

कंजूस (kañjūs) is usually traced to Persian kanjūs, "miserly". CDIAL, searched by form and by meaning, has no entry for it.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: kañjūs
- Say it: kañjūs, once more
- Say it: say kañjūs
- Recall: say the Marwadi for honest, then the Marwadi for kind, then say kañjūs again

Before you move on

What does कंजूस mean? ("Miserly".) Say it once more.

147.5 भलो (bhalo) — good-natured

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for kind, then the Marwadi for miserly.

You'll want to know: भलो

भलो — bhalo — "good-natured".

The word, taken apart

भलो (bhalo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bhalla, “auspicious”. CDIAL lists Old Marwari bhalaü under it (CDIAL 9408). CDIAL builds the Sanskrit word on bhadra, “good”.

What you’ve built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bhalo
- Say it: bhalo, once more
- Say it: say bhalo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for kind, then the Marwadi for miserly, then say bhalo again

Before you move on

What does भलो mean? (“Good-natured”.) Say it once more.

Chapter 148

Wicked, Necessary, Special, Plain, Unusual

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

By the end of this chapter: I can say wicked, necessary, special, plain and unusual.

Complete the last lesson of chapter 148: I can say wicked, necessary, special, plain and unusual.

148.1 बुरो (buro) — wicked, bad

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for miserly, then the Marwadi for good-natured.

You'll want to know: बुरो

बुरो — buro — "wicked, bad".

The word, taken apart

बुरो (buro) is a tadbhava, a word inherited and reshaped by sound change. It comes from bura*, "defective", a form CDIAL reconstructs from its descendants. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 9289); the match is through Hindi burā and Gujarati būrũ. CDIAL sets it in a large group of "defective" words.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: buro
- Say it: buro, once more
- Say it: say buro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for miserly, then the Marwadi for good-natured, then say buro again

Before you move on

What does बुरो mean? ("Wicked, bad".) Say it once more.

148.2 जरूरी (jarūrī) — necessary

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for good-natured, then the Marwadi for wicked.

You'll want to know: जरूरी

जरूरी — jarūrī — "necessary".

The word, taken apart

जरूरी (jarūrī) is a loan from Arabic ḍarūrī, "necessary", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ḍ-r-r (Lane). Persian says it zarūrī; Marwadi says the z as j.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: jarūrī

- Say it: jarūrī, once more
- Say it: say jarūrī
- Recall: say the Marwadi for good-natured, then the Marwadi for wicked, then say jarūrī again

Before you move on

What does जरूरी mean? ("Necessary".) Say it once more.

148.3 खास (khās) — special

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for wicked, then the Marwadi for necessary.

You'll want to know: खास

खास — khās — "special".

The word, taken apart

खास (khās) is a loan from Arabic ḫāṣṣ, "particular, special", which reached Marwadi through Persian. Its Arabic root is ḫ-ṣ-ṣ (Lane).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khās
- Say it: khās, once more
- Say it: say khās
- Recall: say the Marwadi for wicked, then the Marwadi for necessary, then say khās again

Before you move on

What does खास mean? ("Special".) Say it once more.

148.4 सादो (sādo) — plain, simple

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for necessary, then the Marwadi for special.

You'll want to know: सादो

सादो — sādo — "plain, simple".

The word, taken apart

सादो (sādo) is a loan, usually traced to Persian sāda, "plain, simple".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: sādo
- Say it: sādo, once more
- Say it: say sādo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for necessary, then the Marwadi for special, then say sādo again

Before you move on

What does सादो mean? ("Plain, simple".) Say it once more.

148.5 अनोखो (anokho) — unusual

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for special, then the Marwadi for plain.

You'll want to know: अनोखो

अनोखो — anokho — "unusual".

The word, taken apart

अनोखो (anokho) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from anapekṣa, "careless". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry (CDIAL 289); the match is through Hindi anokhā. It is built on an-, "not", and apekṣā, "expectation": "not expected", so "unusual".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: anokho
- Say it: anokho, once more
- Say it: say anokho
- Recall: say the Marwadi for special, then the Marwadi for plain, then say anokho again

Before you move on

What does अनोखो mean? ("Unusual".) Say it once more.

Chapter 149

Complete, Happy, Timid, Brave, Crazy

Modes: voice (7) Hands-free start: all 7 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say complete, happy, timid, brave and crazy.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 149: I can say complete, happy, timid, brave and crazy.

149.1 पूरो (pūro) — complete, whole

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for plain, then the Marwadi for unusual.

You'll want to know: पूरो

पूरो — pūro — "complete, whole".

The word, taken apart

पूरो (pūro) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from pūra, "filling". CDIAL lists Old Marwari puraü under it (CDIAL 8330).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: pūro
- Say it: pūro, once more
- Say it: say pūro
- Recall: say the Marwadi for plain, then the Marwadi for unusual, then say pūro again

Before you move on

What does पूरो mean? ("Complete, whole".) Say it once more.

149.2 खुस (khus) — happy

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for unusual, then the Marwadi for complete.

You'll want to know: खुस

The word, taken apart

खुस (khus) is a loan, usually traced to Persian xuš, "happy, pleasant". Marwadi says the š as s.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: khus
- Say it: khus, once more
- Say it: say khus
- Recall: say the Marwadi for unusual, then the Marwadi for complete, then say khus again

Before you move on

What does खुस mean? ("Happy".) Say it once more.

149.3 डरपोक (ḍarpok) — timid

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for complete, then the Marwadi for happy.

You'll want to know: डरपोक

डरपोक — ḍarpok — "timid".

The word, taken apart

डरपोक (ḍarpok) is built on ḍar, "fear", which CDIAL lists as Marwari ḍar under Sanskrit dara, "fear" (CDIAL 6186). CDIAL has no entry for the ending -pok, so that part is not settled.

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ḍarpok
- Say it: ḍarpok, once more
- Say it: say ḍarpok
- Recall: say the Marwadi for complete, then the Marwadi for happy, then say ḍarpok again

Before you move on

What does डरपोक mean? ("Timid".) Say it once more.

149.4 बहादुर (bahādur) — brave

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for happy, then the Marwadi for timid.

You'll want to know: बहादुर

बहादुर — bahādur — "brave".

The word, taken apart

बहादुर (bahādur) is a loan, usually traced to Persian bahādur, "brave, hero". Persian took it from a Turkic or Mongol word for "hero".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: bahādur
- Say it: bahādur, once more
- Say it: say bahādur
- Recall: say the Marwadi for happy, then the Marwadi for timid, then say bahādur again

Before you move on

What does बहादुर mean? ("Brave".) Say it once more.

149.5 गैलो (gailo) — crazy

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for timid, then the Marwadi for brave.

You'll want to know: गैलो

गैलो — gailo — "crazy".

The word, taken apart

गैलो (gailo) is a tadbhava, a word inherited from Sanskrit and reshaped by sound change. It comes from grahila, "possessed by an evil spirit". CDIAL lists Marwari gahalo under it (CDIAL 4366). The Marwari row means "foolish"; गैलो (gailo) has lost its h. CDIAL thinks the Sanskrit word was made from Middle Indo-Aryan gahila, built on graha, "seizing".

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: gailo
- Say it: gailo, once more
- Say it: say gailo
- Recall: say the Marwadi for timid, then the Marwadi for brave, then say gailo again

Before you move on

What does गैलो mean? ("Crazy".) Say it once more.

149.6 Animals and describing words — a first pass

Say the words for brave and crazy.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- a mouse, a fly, a mosquito, an ant, a scorpion
- good, bad, narrow, wide, deep
- light, hard, soft, wet, dry
- hot, salty, sour, bitter, spicy
- beautiful, good-looking, young, thin, short

Before you move on

A mouse? (उंदरो, undro.) A fly? (माखी, mākhī.) A mosquito? (मच्छर, machchhar.) An ant? (कीड़ी, kīṛī.) A scorpion? (बीछू, bīchhū.) Good? (चोखो, chokho.) Bad? (खराब, kharāb.) Narrow? (सांकड़ो, sā̃kṛo.) Wide? (चौड़ो, chauṛo.) Deep? (गैरो, gairo.) Light? (हळको, haḷko.) Hard? (कड़क, kaṛak.) Soft? (नरम, naram.) Wet? (गीलो, gīlo.) Dry? (सूको, sūko.) Hot? (तातो, tāto.) Salty? (खारो, khāro.) Sour? (खाटो, khāṭo.) Bitter? (कड़वो, kaṛvo.) Spicy? (तीखो, tīkho.) Beautiful? (सुंदर, sundar.) Good-looking? (रूपाळो, rūpāḷo.) Young? (जवान, javān.) Thin? (दुबळो, dubaḷo.) Short? (ठिगणो, ṭhigṇo.)

149.7 Describing people — a second pass

Say the words for pink and saffron-coloured.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- pink, saffron-coloured, sky-blue, purple, orange
- shiny, calm, clever, silly, lazy
- hard-working, honest, kind, miserly, good-natured
- wicked, necessary, special, plain, unusual
- complete, happy, timid, brave, crazy

Before you move on

Pink? (गुलाबी, gulābī.) Saffron-coloured? (केसरियो, kesariyo.) Sky-blue? (आसमानी, āsmānī.) Purple? (बैंगणी, baiṅgṇī.) Orange? (नारंगी, nāraṅgī.) Shiny? (चमकीलो, chamkīlo.) Calm? (सांत, sānt.) Clever? (हुसियार, husiyār.) Silly? (बावळो, bāvaḷo.) Lazy? (आळसी, āḷsī.) Hard-working? (मेहनती, mehantī.) Honest? (ईमानदार, īmāndār.) Kind? (दयाळु, dayāḷu.) Miserly? (कंजूस, kañjūs.) Good-natured? (भलो, bhalo.) Wicked? (बुरो, buro.) Necessary? (जरूरी, jarūrī.) Special? (खास, khās.) Plain? (सादो, sādo.) Unusual? (अनोखो, anokho.) Complete? (पूरो, pūro.) Happy? (खुस, khus.) Timid?

(डरपोक, ḍarpok.) Brave? (बहादुर, bahādur.) Crazy? (गैलो, gailo.)

Chapter 150

A connected A2 message

Modes: ↙ pen (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: none (1 lesson).

By the end of this chapter: I can plan and write a connected 70–90 word Marwari message in Devanagari for a named reader and practical purpose.

Complete chapter 150 by writing a model-free 70–90 word connected Marwari message for a named reader and practical purpose.

150.1 A connected message about your day

A connected message is not a pile of vocabulary and not one long sentence. It is a short route for one reader. Before writing, draw eight empty boxes and give them these jobs:

1. reader and greeting;
2. reason for writing;
3. where or when your day begins;
4. two familiar actions;
5. what comes next;
6. one preference and one reason;
7. one direct question for the reader;
8. a close.

Write only one or two English cue words in each box. Do not draft Marwari yet.

Writing — connected composition

There is no model, sentence bank, or copyable answer on this page.

Reader: your friend Kiran. Purpose: help Kiran understand your usual day and choose a good time to call you tomorrow.

Write 70–90 words in Marwari using Devanagari. Use every planning box. Include at least four familiar actions, two time anchors, one preference, one reason, and one direct question for Kiran. Make every detail help with the call. The instructions give content, not sentences: choose only words and forms this book has taught, and connect them yourself. If you cannot form a line honestly, make it simpler; do not borrow a Hindi form to fill the gap.

This first connected attempt is untimed. Put away romanization, dictionaries, translators, generative assistants, and spell-checkers. Do not copy from an earlier lesson. Ordinary legible Devanagari handwriting is enough.

When the whole message exists, count its words once. If it is short, add one useful taught detail to a planning box. If it is long, remove a detail that does not help Kiran. Do not replace the message with a memorised model.

Before you move on

Review the same attempt in four separate passes:

1. Task fulfilment and relevant content — Kiran, the usual day, tomorrow's call, and every requested content point are present.
2. Comprehensibility and organisation — the eight jobs form a route rather than a list of unrelated words or lines.
3. Marwari vocabulary and grammar — every form comes from the taught Marwari track; a familiar shorter line is better than an invented form.
4. Orthographic control — Devanagari letters, vowel signs, top lines, word boundaries, and punctuation remain readable.

Mark one strength and one next step. Repair only the next step; keep the original attempt so the next 70–90 word message can show real growth.

Chapter 151

And, Or, But, and One Reason

Modes: 🚗 voice (4) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 4 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can join two familiar things, offer a choice, contrast two short statements, and give one reason.
> Join a pair, offer tea or water, contrast hot tea with cold water, and give one short reason with kyunkai.

151.1 अर (ar) — put two familiar things together

> Say कुत्तो (kutto, a dog). Then say बिल्ली (billī, a cat). Keep the two words separate for one more breath.

You'll want to know: अर

> अर — ar — and, joining this thing with that thing

The Government of India's Linguistic Survey of India — Rajasthan, Part I records Marwari अर as the particle that links words or groups of words. Its own example joins a dog and a cat. This lesson keeps the book's already-taught word बिल्ली for cat.

The word, taken apart

The official survey attests the Marwari form and its "and / or" use, but does not derive it. Its origin remains unknown in the source used for this lesson.

What you've built

Put अर between the two things:

> कुत्तो अर बिल्ली — kutto ar billī — a dog and a cat

Nothing changes on either noun. The small joining word does the new work.

Your turn

- Say it: कुत्तो अर बिल्ली
- Switch: cat first — बिल्ली अर कुत्तो
- Recall: say only the joining word — अर

Before you move on

Say कुत्तो अर बिल्ली once without looking. What is the one new piece? (अर, ar, and.)
Source: Government of India, Linguistic Survey of India — Rajasthan, Part I, section 4.5, "Conjunctive particle", pp. 125–126.

151.2 चाय अर पाणी? — offer two familiar choices

> Say चाय (chāy, tea), then पाणी (pāṇī, water). Join them once with अर as "tea and water".

What you've built

The official survey gives अर both "and" and "or" value. When somebody offers two alternatives with a question contour, the same small word carries the choice:

> चाय अर पाणी? — chāy ar pāṇī? — Tea or water?

The setting and the rising question do the separating. Do not import a Hindi connector to make the choice look more familiar.

The word, taken apart

This lesson adds a new use, not a new connector. The official survey attests अर with "and / or" value but does not derive it; its deeper origin remains unknown in that source.

Your turn

- Ask: चाय अर पाणी?
- Answer: पाणी।
- Ask: reverse the alternatives — पाणी अर चाय?
- Answer: चाय।

One short item is enough for the answer. This lesson teaches how to hand over a real choice; it does not yet teach "I prefer".

Before you move on

Offer tea or water. Answer with one item. This closes a tiny two-turn choice, not a general preference statement.
Source: Government of India, Linguistic Survey of India — Rajasthan, Part I, section 4.5, "Conjunctive particle", pp. 125–126.

151.3 पण (paṇ) — set one statement against another

Say चाय गरम है। Tea is hot. Then say पाणी ठंडो है। Water is cold. Keep both short statements intact.

You'll want to know: पण

पण — paṇ — but, yet

The Government of India's survey records Marwari पण as the particle for "yet/but". A Marwari dictionary independently prints the same Devanagari form and labels it a conjunction meaning "but".

The word, taken apart

The two sources attest the Marwari form and meaning but do not give an etymology. Its origin remains unknown in the sources used for this lesson.

What you've built

Keep the two familiar statements and put पण at their turning point:

> चाय गरम है, पण पाणी ठंडो है।
> chāy garam hai, paṇ pāṇī ṭhaṇḍo hai.
> Tea is hot, but water is cold.

The first statement stays true. पण tells the listener that the second one pulls in a different direction.

Your turn

- Say it: चाय गरम है
- Add: पण पाणी ठंडो है
- Say it: the whole contrast once, keeping पण in the middle

Before you move on

What single word marks the turn? (पण, paṇ, but/yet.) Say the whole contrast once more.
Sources: Government of India, Linguistic Survey of India — Rajasthan, Part I, section 4.5, pp. 125–126; Marwari–Urdu–English Dictionary, entry पण.

151.4 क्यूंकै — give one short reason

Bring back क्यूंकै (kyũkai, because), बाटी (bāṭī), तवो (tavo, a griddle), and गरम है (garam hai, is hot).

The word, taken apart

Chapter 117 takes क्यूंकै apart as kyũ̃ plus kai. CDIAL lists Old Marwari kyu under Sanskrit kim "what" (CDIAL 3164); the origin of the second part remains not settled. This lesson reuses that word and adds only the two-clause reason frame.

What you've built

Chapter 117 taught the word क्यूंकै. A word meaning "because" is not yet a reason. Put one complete familiar statement before it and another after it:

बाटी गरम है क्यूंकै तवो गरम है।

bāṭī garam hai kyũ̃kai tavo garam hai.

The bati is hot because the griddle is hot.

The first part says what is so. The second gives one reason. Both small statements keep है at their ends.

Your turn

- Say it: बाटी गरम है
- Add: क्यूंकै तवो गरम है
- Say it: the complete reason line once

Now retrieve the chapter in four small moves:

1. join कुत्तो and बिल्ली with अर;
2. offer चाय अर पाणी? and answer with one;
3. contrast hot tea with cold water using पण; and
4. give the bati-and-griddle reason using क्यूंकै.

Before you move on

Say the whole reason once without looking. This is one small curriculum frame against a partial inventory: it is not an A1 mock, not A1 readiness, not an attainment claim, and not human validation.

Source for क्यूंकै: the existing chapter-117 Marwadi lesson and its cited dictionary/CDIAL trail. No new lexical source is claimed here.

Chapter 152

He and That

Modes: 🚗 voice (3) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 3 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say who he is, tell this from that, and still contrast, offer a choice and give a reason.
> Complete MW-R152-he-and-that: say who he is, tell this from that, and contrast, choose and give a reason with them.

152.1 वो — he, the man you talk about

Say how you are: हूं ठीक हूं। (hũ̃ ṭhīk hũ̃.) Then ask the polite question: आप कैसो हो? (āp kaiso ho?)

So far you talk about yourself, हूं, and to the person in front of you, आप. Now a third person: someone you talk about.

Grammar Lens: वो

वो राम है।

vo rām hai. — He is Ram.

वो (vo) is he: a man you are talking about, not to. He comes first, and है ends the sentence, as it does in म्हारो नाम राम है।

वो बीमार है।

vo bīmār hai. — He is ill.

Old Marwari already had vo, "that": CDIAL lists it under Sanskrit asau, "that" (CDIAL 972). This book keeps वो for a man, and names a woman by a word you know: मां, बहन, छोरी.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- वो छोरो है। — vo chhoro hai. — He is a boy.
- वो बीमार है पण हूं ठीक हूं। — vo bīmār hai paṇ hū̃ ṭhīk hū̃. — He is ill, but I am fine.
- हूं राजी हूं क्यूंकै वो अठै है। — hū̃ rājī hū̃ kyū̃kai vo aṭhai hai. — I am happy because he is here.

Before you move on

Who is वो? (A man you are talking about.) Which word ends वो बीमार है।? (है.)

152.2 यो and वो — this one here, that one there

Say he is a boy. Then the near word you know, यो (yo), "this". And offer the old choice once more: चाय अर पाणी? (chāy ar pāṇī?)

Grammar Lens: वो points away

वो also points at a thing away from you: that. यो is the near one, this.

यो म्हारो घर है।

yo mhāro ghar hai. — This is my house.

वो दुकान है।

vo dukān hai. — That is a shop.

So वो is he or that: a man, or a thing over there.

Your turn

Offer two things the way you offered tea or water: यो अर वो? (yo ar vo?), this or that?

Say these aloud:

- यो पाणी है। — yo pāṇī hai. — This is water.
- वो चाय है। — vo chāy hai. — That is tea.
- यो अर वो? — yo ar vo? — This or that?
- वो। — vo. — That one.

Before you move on

Which is near, यो or वो? (यो.) What else can वो be? (He.)

152.3 He and that — a review

Say he is ill.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- he is Ram; he is a boy; he is here
- this is my house; that is a shop; this or that?
- he is ill, but I am fine
- I am happy because he is here
- tea or water?, and answer with one of them

Before you move on

He is here? (वो अठै है।) That is a shop? (वो दुकान है।) Tea or water? (चाय अर पाणी?) He is ill, but I am fine? (वो बीमार है पण हूं ठीक हूं।)

Chapter 153

Am, Is, Are

Modes: voice (4) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first 3 of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say am, is and are with हूं, आप, वो and any noun, and write the letter ऊ from ऊंट.
> Complete MW-R153-am-is-are: say am, is and are for each person, name the camel, and write ऊ*.*

153.1 हूं and है — am and is

Say I am fine, then he is ill. You have said am and is since the greeting; now they get a name.

Grammar Lens: हूं ... हूं

In हूं ठीक हूं। the first हूं is I and the last one is am: the same word, at both ends.

हूं अठै हूं।

hū̃ aṭhai hū̃. — I am here.

Grammar Lens: है

Anyone or anything you talk about takes है, is: वो, राम, the tea.

राम बठै है।

rām baṭhai hai. — Ram is there.

चाय गरम है।

chāy garam hai. — The tea is hot.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- हूं अठै हूं पण राम बठै है। — hū̃ aṭhai hū̃ paṇ rām baṭhai hai. — I am here, but Ram is there.
- हूं राजी हूं क्यूंकै चाय गरम है। — hū̃ rājī hū̃ kyū̃kai chāy garam hai. — I am happy because the tea is hot.
- वो उदास है। — vo udās hai. — He is sad.

Before you move on

I am ends on? (हूं.) He is? (है.)

153.2 आप ... हो — you are

Ask the polite question: आप कैसो हो? Then say I am here and Ram is there.

Grammar Lens: हो after आप

आप कैसो हो? ends on हो. After आप, are is हो:

आप अठै हो।

āp aṭhai ho. — You are here.

हो answers to आप the way हूं answers to हूं, and है to वो.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- आप बठै हो पण हूं अठै हूं। — āp baṭhai ho paṇ hū̃ aṭhai hū̃. — You are there, but I am here.

- आप राजी हो। — āp rājī ho. — You are happy.
- चाय अर पाणी? — chāy ar pāṇī? — Tea or water?
- पाणी। — pāṇī. — Water.

Before you move on

Which are goes with आप? (हो.) And with वो? (है.)

153.3 ऊंट (ũṭ) — a camel

Before the new one: say a cow, a horse and an elephant. (गाय, घोड़ो, हाथी.)

You'll want to know: ऊंट

ऊंट — ũṭ — "a camel".

वो ऊंट है।

vo ũṭ hai. — That is a camel.

It opens on a letter you have not written yet: the long ū, standing alone. The next lesson puts it in your hand.

The word, taken apart

ऊंट (ũṭ) is inherited from Sanskrit uṣṭra, which named a buffalo as well as a camel. CDIAL lists Old Marwari uṭa in the same entry (CDIAL 2387).

What you've built

ऊंट is masculine, and takes है like anything you talk about: ऊंट अठै है। (ũṭ aṭhai hai.), the camel is here.

Your turn

- Say it: ũṭ
- Say it: वो ऊंट है। — vo ũṭ hai. — That is a camel.

- Recall: say a cow, then $\tilde{\bar{u}}\dot{t}$ again

Before you move on

What does ऊंट mean? ("A camel".) Say it once more.

153.4 ऊ (ū) — the letter that opens ऊंट

Before the new one: write उ once, and name it. Then say हूं ($h\tilde{\bar{u}}$): its long $\bar{u}$ is the sign ◌ू.

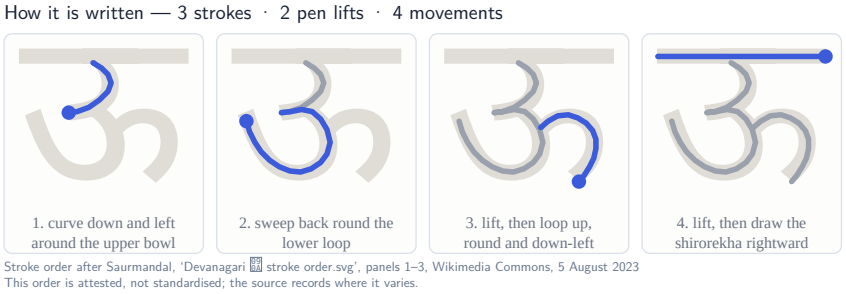

Now say ऊंट ($\tilde{\bar{u}}\dot{t}$), "a camel". It opens on the long vowel standing alone, and this lesson puts that letter in your hand.

Script you'll notice: ऊ

ऊ — $\bar{u}$, the long u.

It opens ऊंट. It is the letter उ with one more part: a separate loop on its right. उ and ऊ pair the way the signs ◌ु and ◌ू do, short and long.

Writing: ऊ

How ऊ is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. curve down and left around the upper bowl, then sweep back through the waist and around the lower loop without lifting
- 2. lift at the waist and sweep the right-hand loop up, around, and down-left
- 3. lift and draw the top shirorekhā left-to-right

Pen lifts: 2.

verified modern printed teaching form; everyday handwriting may simplify the curves

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: Saurmandal, 'Devanagari ऊ stroke order.svg', panels 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 5 August 2023.

Your turn

- Look: at ऊंट and point at ऊ inside it
- Trace it: ऊ three times, saying ū as you finish each one
- Write it: उ, then ऊ, from memory
- Read it: ऊंट aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — ऊ? (ū, the long u.) Which word did it come from? (ऊंट, ūṭ, "a camel".)

153.5 Am, is, are — a review

Say I am here.

Your turn

The three forms side by side, now that each one is taught:

who	to be
हूं	हूं
आप	हो
वो, राम, ऊंट	है

- Say it: I am here; you are there; Ram is there
- Say it: that is a camel; the camel is here
- Say it: I am happy because the tea is hot

- Say it: you are there, but I am here
- Say it: tea or water?, and answer tea
- Read it: ऊंट, and name its first letter

Before you move on

You are? (आप ... हो.) The camel is? (ऊंट ... है.) I am? (हूं ... हूं.)

Chapter 154

What I Do Every Day

Modes: 🚗 voice (4) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 4 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say what I do, what he does and what you do, every day, with any verb whose stem ends in a consonant.
> Complete MW-R154-every-day: say what you, he and you (politely) do every day.

154.1 हूं बोलूं हूं — what I do

Say to speak and to hear. (बोलणो, सुणणो.) Then every day, रोज, and I am here.

Grammar Lens: the stem, -ूं and हूं

Take -णो off बोलणो and बोल is left: the stem. Give it -ूं, then end on हूं:

> हूं थोड़ु बोलूं हूं।
> hũ̃ thoṛu bolũ̃ hũ̃. — I speak a little.

The -ूं sounds like हूं, I: an easy way to hear that the sentence is about you. The same two pieces fit any stem that ends in a consonant: सुणूं हूं, देखूं हूं. This is central Marwari as this book writes it; other districts differ.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- हूं गीत सुणूं हूं। — hũ̃ gīt suṇũ̃ hũ̃. — I listen to songs.
- हूं रोज गीत सुणूं हूं। — hũ̃ roj gīt suṇũ̃ hũ̃. — I listen to songs every day.
- हूं थोड़ु बोलूं हूं। — hũ̃ thoṛu bolũ̃ hũ̃. — I speak a little.

Before you move on

What comes off सुणणो? (-णो.) What goes on, and what ends the sentence? (-ूं, then हूं.)

154.2 वो बोलै है — what he does

Say I listen to songs. Then to read and to write: बांचणो, लिखणो.

Grammar Lens: -ै and है

For वो, for राम, for anyone you talk about, the stem takes -ै and the sentence ends on है:

> वो थोड़ु बोलै है।
> vo thoṛu bolai hai. — He speaks a little.
> राम रोज अखबार बांचै है।
> rām roj akhbār bā̃chai hai. — Ram reads the newspaper every day.

Nothing changes for a woman: मां गीत सुणै है। (mā̃ gīt suṇai hai.), mother listens to songs. Old Marwari wrote the same ending -aï: karaï, "does" (CDIAL 2814).

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- हूं रोज अखबार बांचूं हूं। — hũ̃ roj akhbār bā̃chũ̃ hũ̃. — I read the newspaper every day.
- राम रोज अखबार बांचै है। — rām roj akhbār bā̃chai hai. — Ram reads it every day.
- मां चिट्ठी लिखै है। — mā̃ chiṭṭhī likhai hai. — Mother writes a letter.

Before you move on

I read? (हूं बांचूं हूं.) He reads? (वो बांचै है.)

154.3 आप बोलो हो — what you do

Say mother listens to songs. Then you are here, and the request do it, करो.

Grammar Lens: -ो and हो

After आप, the stem takes -ो, the ending of the requests करो and लावो, and the sentence ends on हो:

आप थोड़ु बोलो हो।

āp thoṛu bolo ho. — You speak a little.

आप कांई करो हो?

āp kāĩ karo ho? — What do you do?

करो alone asks someone to do something. करो हो after आप says what they do.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- आप गीत सुणो हो। — āp gīt suṇo ho. — You listen to songs.
- आप कांई करो हो? — āp kāĩ karo ho? — What do you do?
- हूं चिट्ठी लिखूं हूं। — hũ̃ chiṭṭhī likhũ̃ hũ̃. — I write letters.

Before you move on

I do? (करूं हूं: the stem कर, -ूं, हूं.) He does? (करै है.) You do, to आप? (करो हो.)

154.4 Every day — a review

Say I speak a little.

Your turn

Every cell of the present so far, now that each one is taught:

who	to speak	to read
हूं	बोलूं हूं	बांचूं हूं
वो	बोलै है	बांचै है
आप	बोलो हो	बांचो हो

Say these aloud:

- I listen to songs every day; mother listens to songs
- Ram reads the newspaper every day; you read the newspaper
- what do you do?, to someone you call आप
- I write letters; he writes letters

Before you move on

I speak? (बोलूं हूं.) He speaks? (बोलै है.) You speak? (बोलो हो.)

Chapter 155

Eat, Drink, Go, Come

Modes: 🚗 voice (4) ✓ pen (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: the first 3 of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say what I and others eat, drink, and where we go and come from, every day, and write the letter ध from दूध.
> Complete MW-R155-eat-drink-go-come: use खा, पी, जा and आ in the present, name milk, and write ध.

155.1 हूं जाऊं हूं — a stem that ends in a vowel

Say to go, जाणो. Then I listen to songs and he listens to songs. And the market, बाजार.

Grammar Lens: जा

जाणो leaves जा, a stem that ends in a vowel. For I, its ending is the full letter ऊं:

> हूं रोज बाजार जाऊं हूं।
> hū̃ roj bājār jāū̃ hū̃. — I go to the market every day.

For वो, a व comes in before -ै:

> वो रोज बाजार जावै है।
> vo roj bājār jāvai hai. — He goes to the market every day.

After आप, the व stays: आप जावो हो, the ending of the request लावो. CDIAL lists Old Marwari jāvaï, "to go", with the same -aï (CDIAL 10452). जाऊं is central Marwari as this book writes it; other districts differ.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- हूं रोज बाजार जाऊं हूं। — hū̃ roj bājār jāū̃ hū̃. — I go to the market every day.
- मां रोज बाजार जावै है। — mā̃ roj bājār jāvai hai. — Mother goes to the market every day.
- आप बाजार जावो हो। — āp bājār jāvo ho. — You go to the market.

Before you move on

I go? (जाऊं हूं.) He goes? (जावै है.) You go, to आप? (जावो हो.)

155.2 खा, पी, आ — three more vowel stems

Say I go to the market every day. Then to eat, to drink, to come: खाणो, पीणो, आवणो.

Grammar Lens: the same three endings

खा, पी and आ end in vowels, and go exactly like जा:

हूं रोज दिनूगै चाय पीऊं हूं।

hū̃ roj dinūgai chāy pīū̃ hū̃. — I drink tea early every morning.

राम रोटी खावै है।

rām roṭī khāvai hai. — Ram eats roti.

आप रोज आवो हो।

āp roj āvo ho. — You come every day.

आवणो leaves आव, but its present follows जा: आऊं, आवै, आवो. Old Marwari had āvaï, "comes" (CDIAL 1200).

Your turn

Every cell of the present, now that each one is taught:

who	बोल-	जा-
हूं	बोलूं हूं	जाऊं हूं
वो	बोलै है	जावै है
आप	बोलो हो	जावो हो

Say these aloud:

- हूं रोटी खाऊं हूं। — hū̃ roṭī khāū̃ hū̃. — I eat roti.
- वो चाय पीवै है। — vo chāy pīvai hai. — He drinks tea.
- वो रोज आवै है। — vo roj āvai hai. — He comes every day.

Before you move on

He eats? (खावै है.) I come? (आऊं हूं.) You drink, to आप? (पीवो हो.)

155.3 दूध (dūdh) — milk

Before the new one: say tea, water and yoghurt. (चाय, पाणी, दही.)

You'll want to know: दूध

दूध — dūdh — "milk".

हूं रोज दूध पीऊं हूं।

hū̃ roj dūdh pīū̃ hū̃. — I drink milk every day.

It ends on a letter you have not written yet: dh, a द with a breath after it. The next lesson puts it in your hand.

The word, taken apart

दूध (dūdh) is inherited from Sanskrit dugdha, "milk", a word built on the verb for milking. CDIAL lists Marwari dūdh, masculine (CDIAL 6391).

What you've built

दूध is masculine: दूध गरम है। (dūdh garam hai.), the milk is hot.

Your turn

- Say it: dūdh
- Say it: वो दूध पीवै है। — vo dūdh pīvai hai. — He drinks milk.
- Recall: say tea, then dūdh again

Before you move on

What does दूध mean? ("Milk".) Say it once more.

155.4 ध (dha) — the letter that ends दूध

Before the new one: write द once, and name it.

Now say दूध (dūdh), "milk". It opens on द and ends on a द with a breath after it: dh. This lesson puts that letter in your hand.

Script you'll notice: ध

ध — dha, the breathed d.

It ends दूध. It sits beside द as घ sits beside ग: the same place in the mouth, with a breath. On the page it is an upper spiral that ends in a shoulder, a lower bowl, and a right stem under the headline.

Writing: ध

How ध is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. start at the upper spiral's inner crossing, curl around the small opening, widen left and down around the outer loop, then sweep right through the shoulder
- 2. without lifting, turn back left along the shoulder to the left waist
- 3. sweep down and around the lower bowl to its right junction
- 4. climb up the right stem to the headline
- 5. descend the right stem top-to-bottom
- 6. lift and draw the top shirorekhā left-to-right

Pen lifts: 1.

The source shows four movements; native writers draw ध as two pen-down strokes (81% of HP Labs India's native-writer samples, 64 of 79). This ductus follows the four movements in order and direction, lifting only before the headline: after the shoulder the pen turns back along it into the lower bowl, then climbs the right stem before descending it.

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: Opiaterein, 'Deva-ध-order.gif', strokes 1–4, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009.

Your turn

- Look: at दूध and point at ध at its end
- Trace it: ध three times, saying dh as you finish each one
- Write it: द, then ध, from memory
- Read it: दूध aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — ध? (dha, the breathed d.) Which word did it come from? (दूध, dūdh, "milk".)

155.5 Eat, drink, go, come — a review

Say I go to the market every day.

Your turn

- Say it: I eat roti; he eats roti; you eat roti, to आप
- Say it: I drink milk; mother drinks milk every day
- Say it: I come every day; he comes every day
- Say it: he goes to the market; you go to the market
- Read it: दूध, and name its last letter
- Read it: जाऊं, and name the letter after जा

Before you move on

I eat? (खाऊं हूं.) He drinks? (पीवै है.) You come? (आवो हो.) Milk? (दूध.)

Chapter 156

Mine, In and From

Modes: 🚗 voice (4) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 4 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say whose a thing is, where it is, and where someone comes from.
> Complete MW-R156-mine-in-from: make my and your agree, put things in and on places, and say where someone comes from.

156.1 म्हारो, म्हारी — my, agreeing with what is mine

Say my name is Ram, then this is my house. Then say a boy and a girl: छोरो, छोरी.

Grammar Lens: the thing decides

म्हारो ends like छोरो, and it changes the way छोरो turns into छोरी: it follows the thing that is yours.

> यो म्हारो घर है।
> yo mhāro ghar hai. — This is my house.
> म्हारी गाय अठै है।
> mhārī gāy aṭhai hai. — My cow is here.

घर is masculine, so म्हारो; गाय is feminine, so म्हारी. A woman says म्हारो घर too: the ending follows the house, not the owner.

Your turn

थारो, your, does the same: थारो दूध, थारी रोटी.

Say these aloud:

- म्हारी रोटी गरम है। — mhārī roṭī garam hai. — My roti is hot.
- थारो दूध अठै है। — thāro dūdh aṭhai hai. — Your milk is here.
- म्हारो भाई बठै है। — mhāro bhāī baṭhai hai. — My brother is there.

Before you move on

My house? (म्हारो घर.) My cow? (म्हारी गाय.) Who decides the ending? (The thing that is yours.)

156.2 रसोई मांय, मेज माथै — in and on

Say inside and on top: मांय, माथै. Then my cow is here.

Grammar Lens: a noun in front

Put a noun in front of मांय and माथै, and they say in and on:

दूध रसोई मांय है।

dūdh rasoī mā̃y hai. — The milk is in the kitchen.

किताब मेज माथै है।

kitāb mej māthai hai. — The book is on the table.

कनै, near, works the same: घर कनै, near the house. Old Marwari already had kanai, "near", and māhī, "in, into" (CDIAL 2830, 9804).

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- दुकान बाजार मांय है। — dukān bājār mā̃y hai. — The shop is in the market.

- चाय मेज माथै है। — chāy mej māthai hai. — The tea is on the table.
- वो घर कनै है। — vo ghar kanai hai. — He is near the house.

Before you move on

In the kitchen? (रसोई मांय.) On the table? (मेज माथै.)

156.3 बाजार सूं — from

Say the shop is in the market. Then he comes every day, and the question word where, कठै.

Grammar Lens: सूं

सूं after a place says where someone comes from:

वो बाजार सूं आवै है।

vo bājār sũ̃ āvai hai. — He comes from the market.

हूं दुकान सूं आऊं हूं।

hũ̃ dukān sũ̃ āũ̃ hũ̃. — I come from the shop.

Old Marwari wrote it -su: talā-su, "from below" (CDIAL 5731).

Your turn

Ask with कठै in front of it:

आप कठै सूं आवो हो?

āp kaṭhai sũ̃ āvo ho? — Where do you come from?

Say these aloud:

- आप कठै सूं आवो हो? — āp kaṭhai sũ̃ āvo ho? — Where do you come from?
- हूं बाजार सूं आऊं हूं। — hũ̃ bājār sũ̃ āũ̃ hũ̃. — I come from the market.

Before you move on

From the market? (बाजार सूं.) Where from? (कठै सूं.)

156.4 Mine, in and from — a review

Say my cow is here.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- my house; my cow; your roti; your milk
- the milk is in the kitchen; the book is on the table
- the shop is near the house
- where do you come from?; I come from the market
- he comes from the shop every day

Before you move on

My cow? (म्हारी गाय.) In the kitchen? (रसोई मांय.) From the shop? (दुकान सूं.)

Chapter 157

Not Today

Modes: voice (4) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first 3 of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say that I or someone else does not do something, that someone is not here, and ask someone not to do something.
> Complete MW-R157-not-today: say what you and others do not do, who is not here, and ask someone not to go.

157.1 कोनी — not

Say no, the way you turn down a price: कोनी। Then say I drink tea: हूं चाय पीऊं हूं।

Grammar Lens: कोनी before the verb

The word you refuse with also turns a sentence round. Put कोनी in front of the verb, and let the हूं or है at the end go:

हूं चाय कोनी पीऊं।

hū̃ chāy konī pīū̃. — I don't drink tea.

वो मांस कोनी खावै।

vo mā̃s konī khāvai. — He doesn't eat meat.

Grammar Lens: कोनी in place of है

With no other verb, कोनी stands where है stood:

राम आज अठै कोनी।

rām āj aṭhai konī. — Ram isn't here today.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- हूं मांस कोनी खाऊं। — hũ̃ mã̃s konī khāũ̃. — I don't eat meat.
- आप चाय कोनी पीवो। — āp chāy konī pīvo. — You don't drink tea.
- दूध गरम कोनी। — dūdh garam konī. — The milk isn't hot.

Before you move on

Where does कोनी go? (In front of the verb.) What goes from the end? (हूं or है.)

157.2 मत — don't

Ask for tea: चाय लावो। Then say I don't drink tea.

Grammar Lens: मत before a request

मत in front of a request makes it don't:

मत जावो।

mat jāvo. — Don't go.

चाय मत लावो।

chāy mat lāvo. — Don't bring tea.

कोनी says what is not so; मत asks someone not to. Old Marwari had mati in the same use (CDIAL 9981).

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- अबार मत जावो। — abār mat jāvo. — Don't go now.
- मत भूलो। — mat bhūlo. — Don't forget.
- हूं चाय कोनी पीऊं। चाय मत लावो। — hũ̃ chāy konī pīũ̃. chāy mat lāvo. — I don't drink tea. Don't bring tea.

Before you move on

Don't go? (मत जावो।) I don't go? (हूं कोनी जाऊं।)

157.3 समझणो (samajhṇo) — to understand

Before the new one: say to know, to learn and to think. (जाणणो, सीखणो, सोचणो.)

You'll want to know: समझणो

समझणो — samajhṇo — "to understand".

हूं थोड़ु समझूं हूं।

hũ̃ thoṛu samajhũ̃ hũ̃. — I understand a little.

हूं कोनी समझूं।

hũ̃ konī samajhũ̃. — I don't understand.

It holds a letter you have not written yet: jh, a ज with a breath after it. The next lesson puts it in your hand.

The word, taken apart

समझणो (samajhṇo) is inherited from Sanskrit sambudhyate, "wakes up, understands". CDIAL lists Old Marwari samajhaï, "understands" (CDIAL 12959).

What you've built

Its stem समझ ends in a consonant, so it goes like बोलणो: समझूं हूं, समझै है, समझो हो.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- samajhṇo
- हूं कोनी समझूं। — hũ̃ konī samajhũ̃. — I don't understand.
- वो थोड़ु समझै है। — vo thoṛu samajhai hai. — He understands a little.

Before you move on

What does समझणो mean? ("To understand".) I don't understand? (हूं कोनी समझूं।)

157.4 झ (jha) — the letter inside समझणो

Before the new one: write ज once, and name it.

Now say समझणो (samajhṇo), "to understand". Its middle is a ज with a breath after it: jh. This lesson puts that letter in your hand.

Script you'll notice: झ

झ — jha, the breathed j.

It sits inside समझणो. It pairs with ज as छ pairs with च: the same place in the mouth, with a breath. On the page it is one joined body, with a short upper stem, two loops and a diagonal tail, then a middle crossbar, a right stem and the headline.

Writing: झ

How झ is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. descend the short upper stem, turn left and curve clockwise around the upper bowl, continue through the waist and clockwise around the lower loop, then finish down-right through the diagonal tail without lifting
- 2. lift at the central junction and draw the middle crossbar left-to-right
- 3. without lifting, climb up the right stem to the headline
- 4. descend the right stem top-to-bottom
- 5. lift and draw the top shirorekhā left-to-right

Pen lifts: 2.

The source shows four movements; native writers draw झ as three pen-down strokes (53% of HP Labs India's native-writer samples, 44 of 83). This ductus follows the four movements in order and direction, lifting only before the crossbar and the headline: the crossbar ends on the right stem, so the pen climbs the stem before descending it.

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: Opiaterein, 'Deva-झ-order.gif', strokes 1–4, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009.

Your turn

- Look: at समझणो and point at झ inside it
- Trace it: झ three times, saying jh as you finish each one
- Write it: ज, then झ, from memory
- Read it: समझणो aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — झ? (jha, the breathed j.) Which word did it come from? (समझणो, samajhṇo, "to understand".)

157.5 Not today — a review

Say I don't drink tea.

Your turn

- Say it: I don't eat meat; he doesn't eat meat; you don't drink tea, to आप
- Say it: Ram isn't here today; my cow isn't here
- Say it: don't go; don't go now; don't bring tea
- Say it: I understand a little; I don't understand
- Read it: समझणो, and name the letter after म

Before you move on

I don't understand? (हूं कोनी समझूं।) Ram isn't here? (राम अठै कोनी।) Don't go? (मत जावो।)

Chapter 158

Yes or No?

Modes: voice (5) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first 4 of 6 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can ask a yes-or-no question, answer it politely, ask when, and say that I recognise something.
> Complete MW-R158-yes-or-no: ask and answer yes-or-no questions politely, ask when, and recognise a song.

158.1 आप चाय पीवो हो? — a yes-or-no question

Say you drink tea, to आप: आप चाय पीवो हो।

Grammar Lens: the voice does it

Say the same sentence again and let your voice rise at the end. That is the whole question:

आप चाय पीवो हो?

āp chāy pīvo ho? — Do you drink tea?

vo bīmār hai? — Is he ill?

Nothing moves and nothing is added. In print, only the end mark changes: ? for ।.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- आप दूध पीवो हो? — āp dūdh pīvo ho? — Do you drink milk?
- राम अठै है? — rām aṭhai hai? — Is Ram here?
- आप मांस खावो हो? — āp mā̃s khāvo ho? — Do you eat meat?

Before you move on

What turns वो बीमार है। into a question? (The voice, rising at the end.)

158.2 हां सा, कोनी सा — answering yes or no

Ask do you drink tea? Then say the polite yes and the plain no: हां सा, कोनी.

Grammar Lens: the answer, then the sentence

Answer with हां सा or कोनी सा, then say the sentence back:

हां सा, हूं पीऊं हूं।

hā̃ sā, hū̃ pīū̃ hū̃. — Yes, I do.

कोनी सा, हूं कोनी पीऊं।

konī sā, hū̃ konī pīū̃. — No, I don't.

सा keeps the answer as polite as the question.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- राम अठै है? — rām aṭhai hai? — Is Ram here?
- कोनी सा, राम अठै कोनी। — konī sā, rām aṭhai konī. — No, Ram isn't here.

- हां सा, हूं दूध पीऊं हूं। — hā̃ sā, hū̃ dūdh pīū̃ hū̃. — Yes, I drink milk.

Before you move on

The polite yes? (हां सा.) The polite no? (कोनी सा.)

158.3 कद (kad) — when

Before the new one: say where, why and who. (कठै, क्यूं, कुण.)

You'll want to know: कद

कद — kad — "when".

आप कद आवो हो?

āp kad āvo ho? — When do you come?

The word, taken apart

कद (kad) asks when. Monier-Williams gives Sanskrit kadā, "when?", but CDIAL has no entry for कद, so how the Marwari word came down is not settled. कदी, "sometimes, ever", opens the same way.

What you've built

कद sits where the answer will go, as कठै does: वो कद जावै है? (vo kad jāvai hai?), when does he go?

Your turn

- Say it: kad
- Say it: आप कद आवो हो? — āp kad āvo ho? — When do you come?
- Recall: say where, then kad again

Before you move on

What does कद mean? ("When".) Say it once more.

158.4 ओळखणो (oḷakhṇo) — to recognise

Before the new one: say to know and to see. (जाणणो, देखणो.)
Then I understand a little.

You'll want to know: ओळखणो

ओळखणो — oḷakhṇo — "to recognise".

हूं यो गीत ओळखूं हूं।

hũ̃ yo gīt oḷakhũ̃ hũ̃. — I recognise this song.

आप यो गीत ओळखो हो?

āp yo gīt oḷakho ho? — Do you recognise this song?

It opens on a letter you have not written yet: the vowel o, standing alone. The next lesson puts it in your hand.

The word, taken apart

ओळखणो (oḷakhṇo) goes back to Sanskrit upalakṣayati, which CDIAL glosses "beholds". In that entry CDIAL gives Gujarati oḷakhvũ, "to know, distinguish", and no Marwari form (CDIAL 2226).

What you've built

Its stem ओळख ends in a consonant: ओळखूं हूं, ओळखै है, ओळखो हो.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- oḷakhṇo
- आप यो गीत ओळखो हो? — āp yo gīt oḷakho ho? — Do you recognise this song?
- हां सा, हूं ओळखूं हूं। — hã̃ sā, hũ̃ oḷakhũ̃ hũ̃. — Yes, I recognise it.

Before you move on

What does ओळखणो mean? (“To recognise”.) Say it once more.

158.5 ओ (o) — the letter that opens ओळखणो

Before the new one: write अ once, and name it. Then say छोरो (chhoro): its o is the sign **ो.

Now say ओळखणो (oḷakhṇo), “to recognise”. It opens on the vowel o standing alone, and this lesson puts that letter in your hand.

Script you’ll notice: ओ

ओ — o.

It opens ओळखणो. It is built on अ: the joined bowls, the shoulder and the inner stem, then a trailing stem, as आ has, and above it a separate arc, the same small arc the sign ो carries.

Writing: ओ

How ओ is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. curve right around the upper bowl and continue down and around the lower bowl without lifting
- 2. lift and sweep the middle shoulder right

- 3. without lifting, climb up the inner stem to the headline
- 4. descend the inner stem
- 5. lift and descend the trailing stem
- 6. lift at the trailing stem's headline junction and sweep the upper arc upward and left
- 7. lift and draw the top shirorekhā left-to-right

Pen lifts: 4.

The source shows six movements; native writers draw ओ as five pen-down strokes (60% of HP Labs India's native-writer samples, 49 of 82). This ductus follows the six movements in order and direction, lifting four times: the middle shoulder runs on, climbing the inner stem and descending it, and every other movement starts with a lift.

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: Saurmandal, 'Devanagari ओ stroke order.svg', panels 1–6, Wikimedia Commons, 5 August 2023.

Your turn

- Look: at ओळखणो and point at ओ at its start
- Trace it: ओ three times, saying o as you finish each one
- Write it: अ, then ओ, from memory
- Read it: ओळखणो aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — ओ? (o.) Which word did it come from? (ओळखणो, oḷakhṇo, "to recognise".)

158.6 Yes or no? — a review

Ask do you drink tea?, to आप.

Your turn

- Say it: is Ram here?; no, Ram isn't here
- Say it: do you eat meat?; no, I don't eat meat
- Say it: when do you come?; when does he go?
- Say it: do you recognise this song?; yes, I recognise it
- Read it: ओळखणो, and name its first letter

Before you move on

When? (कद.) Yes, politely? (हां सा.) No, politely? (कोनी सा.)

Chapter 159

Went Home

Modes: 🚗 voice (3) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 3 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say that someone is at home, and that I or someone else went somewhere.
> Complete MW-R159-went-home: say who is at home and who went where, with the ending that agrees.

159.1 घरै — at home

Say here, there and on top: अठै, बठै, माथै. Then a house: घर.

Grammar Lens: घर with -ै

घर with the -ै of अठै, बठै and माथै is घरै: at home, or home as the place you go to.

> हूं घरै हूं।
> hũ̃ gharai hũ̃. — I am at home.
> वो रोज आथण घरै आवै है।
> vo roj āthaṇ gharai āvai hai. — He comes home every evening.

Old Marwari shows a place ending like it: āgai, “before”, beside āgo, “front” (CDIAL 68).

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- मां घरै है। — mā̃ gharai hai. — Mother is at home.
- आप रोज घरै जावो हो? — āp roj gharai jāvo ho? — Do you go home every day?
- हां सा, हूं रोज घरै जाऊं हूं। — hā̃ sā, hū̃ roj gharai jāū̃ hū̃. — Yes, I go home every day.

Before you move on

At home? (घरै.) Here? (अठै.)

159.2 गयो, गई, गया — went

Say I go to the market every day. Then yesterday, काल, and a boy, a girl.

Grammar Lens: one word for the past

गयो is the past of जाणो, all on its own: no हूं and no है after it.

हूं काल बाजार गयो।

hū̃ kāl bājār gayo. — I went to the market yesterday.

It ends like छोरो, and changes like it, to agree with whoever went: गयो for a man, गई for a woman, गया for more than one.

मां घरै गई।

mā̃ gharai gaī. — Mother went home.

सगळा घरै गया।

sagḷā gharai gayā. — Everyone went home.

With a past, काल is yesterday. CDIAL lists Old Marwari gayaü, "gone" (CDIAL 4008).

Your turn

A woman says हूं काल बाजार गई। (hũ̃ kāl bājār gaī.)

Say these aloud:

- राम काल बाजार गयो। — rām kāl bājār gayo. — Ram went to the market yesterday.
- मां घरै गई। — mã̃ gharai gaī. — Mother went home.
- वो कोनी गयो। — vo konī gayo. — He didn't go.

Before you move on

He went? (गयो.) She went, of mother? (गई.) Everyone went? (गया.)

159.3 Went home — a review

Say I am at home.

Your turn

who went	went
राम, a man	गयो
मां, a woman	गई
सगळा, more than one	गया

Say these aloud:

- I went to the market yesterday, as a man and then as a woman
- mother went home; everyone went home
- he didn't go
- do you go home every day?; yes, I go home every day

Before you move on

At home? (घरै.) Went, for a man, a woman, and more than one? (गयो, गई, गया.)

Chapter 160

Came and Got Up

Modes: 🚗 voice (3) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 3 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say that someone came, got up, sat down or arrived, with the ending that agrees with them.
> Complete MW-R160-came-and-got-up: say who came, who got up and who arrived, for a man, a woman and more than one.

160.1 आयो, आई, आया — came

Say everyone went home. Then to come, आवणो, and he comes every day.

Grammar Lens: the past of आवणो

आयो, आई and आया do for आवणो what गयो, गई and गया do for जाणो:

राम काल आयो।

rām kāl āyo. — Ram came yesterday.

मां दिनूगै आई।

mā̃ dinūgai āī. — Mother came early in the morning.

सगळा आथण आया।

sagḷā āthaṇ āyā. — Everyone came in the evening.

CDIAL lists Old Marwari āīyo, "he came" (CDIAL 1045).

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- वो बाजार सूं आयो। — vo bājār sũ̃ āyo. — He came from the market.
- राम कद आयो? — rām kad āyo? — When did Ram come?
- मां काल आई। — mã̃ kāl āī. — Mother came yesterday.

Before you move on

He came? (आयो.) She came, of mother? (आई.) They came? (आया.)

160.2 उठ्यो, बैठ्यो — got up, sat down

Say to get up, to sit and to walk: उठणो, बैठणो, चालणो. Then Ram came yesterday.

Grammar Lens: -यो on a consonant stem

A stem that ends in a consonant takes -्यो in the past: उठ, उठ्यो; बैठ, बैठ्यो; चाल, चाल्यो; पूग, पूग्यो.

हूं दिनूगै उठ्यो।

hũ̃ dinūgai uṭhyo. — I got up early in the morning.

For a woman it is -ी, and for more than one -्या:

मां दिनूगै उठी।

mã̃ dinūgai uṭhī. — Mother got up early in the morning.

सगळा बैठ्या।

sagḷā baiṭhyā. — Everyone sat down.

CDIAL lists Old Marwari ūṭhyo, "stood up" (CDIAL 1907).

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- राम घरै पूग्यो। — rām gharai pūgyo. — Ram reached home.
- मां घरै पूगी। — mā̃ gharai pūgī. — Mother reached home.
- वो कोनी उठ्यो। — vo konī uṭhyo. — He didn't get up.

Before you move on

He got up? (उठ्यो.) She got up? (उठी.) They sat down? (बैठ्या.)

160.3 Came and got up — a review

Say Ram came yesterday.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- Ram came yesterday; mother came yesterday; everyone came in the evening
- I got up early in the morning, as a man and then as a woman
- everyone sat down; Ram reached home
- when did Ram come?; he came from the market
- mother went home; he didn't get up

Before you move on

Came, for a man, a woman, and more than one? (आयो, आई, आया.)
Got up? (उठ्यो, उठी, उठ्या.)

Chapter 161

What I Did

Modes: 🚗 voice (4) ✓ pen (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: the first 3 of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say what I ate, drank, did and took, with the ending that agrees with the thing, and write the letter ढ from काढणो.
> Complete MW-R161-what-i-did: say what you ate, drank, did, took and drew, with म्हैं, and write ढ*.*

161.1 म्हैं रोटी खाई — I ate

Say I eat roti and I drink water. Then mother went home.

Grammar Lens: म्हैं

Eating, drinking and seeing are done to something. In their past, I is म्हैं, not हूं:

म्हैं रोटी खाई।

mhaĩ roṭī khāī. — I ate a roti.

Old Marwari already had mẽ, "I", beside hũ (CDIAL 9691, 992).

Grammar Lens: the thing decides

The ending follows the thing, not you. रोटी is feminine, so खाई; पाणी is masculine, so पीयो:

म्हैं पाणी पीयो।

mhaĩ pāṇī pīyo. — I drank water.

A man and a woman say the same: the roti decides, and so does the water. This past, with म्हैं and an ending that follows the thing, is central Marwari as this book writes it; other districts differ.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- म्हैं दूध पीयो। — mhaĩ dūdh pīyo. — I drank milk.
- म्हैं गाय देखी। — mhaĩ gāy dekhī. — I saw the cow.
- म्हैं घर देख्यो। — mhaĩ ghar dekhyo. — I saw the house.

Before you move on

I, in the past of eating? (म्हैं.) Who decides खाई or खायो? (The thing eaten.)

161.2 कियो, लियो — did, took Say I ate a roti. Then to do and to take: करणो, लेणो.

Grammar Lens: two short pasts

करणो and लेणो have short pasts: कियो and लियो.

म्हैं पाणी गरम कियो।

mhaĩ pāṇī garam kiyo. — I heated the water.

म्हैं दूध लियो।

mhaĩ dūdh liyo. — I took milk.

For a feminine thing, लियो turns into ली:

म्हैं रोटी ली।

mhaĩ roṭī lī. — I took a roti.

CDIAL lists Old Marwari kiyo, "made", and liyo, "takes" (CDIAL 2814, 10948). This book pairs कियो with a masculine thing only. ली is central Marwari as this book writes it; other districts differ.

Your turn

The thing changes the ending; the speaker does not:

who speaks	the thing	the verb
a man	रोटी	ली
a woman	रोटी	ली
a man	दूध	लियो
a woman	दूध	लियो

Say these aloud:

- म्हैं रोटी ली। — mhaĩ roṭī lī. — I took a roti.
- म्हैं दूध लियो। — mhaĩ dūdh liyo. — I took milk.
- म्हैं पाणी गरम कियो। — mhaĩ pāṇī garam kiyo. — I heated the water.

Before you move on

Did, of water? (कियो.) Took, of milk? (लियो.) Took, of a roti? (ली.)

161.3 काढणो (kāḍhṇo) — to take out

Before the new one: say to pull and to lift. (खींचणो, उठावणो.)
Then water.

You'll want to know: काढणो

काढणो — kāḍhṇo — "to take out; to draw (water)".

म्हैं पाणी काढ्यो।

mhaĩ pāṇī kāḍhyo. — I drew water.

वो रोज पाणी काढै है।

vo roj pāṇī kāḍhai hai. — He draws water every day.

It holds a letter you have not written yet: ḍh, a ड with a breath after it. The next lesson puts it in your hand.

The word, taken apart

काढणो (kāḍhṇo) is inherited from a reconstructed verb, kaḍḍhati, "pulls, draws". CDIAL lists Old Marwari kāḍhaï, "to pull out" (CDIAL 2660).

What you've built

Its stem काढ ends in a consonant: काढूं हूं, काढै है, and in the past, with म्हैं, काढ्यो.

Your turn

- Say it: kāḍhṇo
- Say it: म्हैं पाणी काढ्यो। — mhaĩ pāṇī kāḍhyo. — I drew water.
- Recall: say to pull, then kāḍhṇo again

Before you move on

What does काढणो mean? ("To take out; to draw water".) Say it once more.

161.4 ढ (ḍha) — the letter inside काढणो

Before the new one: write ड once, and name it.

Now say काढणो (kāḍhṇo), "to take out". Its middle is a ड with a breath after it: ḍh. This lesson puts that letter in your hand.

Script you'll notice: ढ

ढ — ḍha, the breathed ḍ.

It sits inside काढणो. It stands beside ड and ड़ as ध stands beside द. Its body is one stroke: a stem that runs into a broad outer bowl and a closed loop inside it, then the headline.

Writing: ढ

Stroke order after Opiaterein, 'Deva-ढ-order.gif', strokes 1–2, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How ढ is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. start at the stem's headline junction, descend, turn left through the upper shoulder, sweep counterclockwise around the broad outer bowl, and continue counterclockwise around the closed inner loop without lifting
- 2. lift and draw the top shirorekhā left-to-right

Pen lifts: 1.

verified two-stroke teaching form fitted to the bundled printed outline

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: Opiaterein, 'Deva-ढ-order.gif', strokes 1–2, Wikimedia Commons, 10 May 2009.

Your turn

- Look: at काढणो and point at ढ inside it

- Trace it: ढ three times, saying ḍh as you finish each one
- Write it: ड, then ढ, from memory
- Read it: काढणो aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — ढ? (ḍha, the breathed ḍ.) Which word did it come from? (काढणो, kāḍhṇo, "to take out".)

161.5 What I did — a review

Say I ate a roti.

Your turn

- Say it: I ate a roti; I drank water; I drank milk
- Say it: I saw the cow; I saw the house
- Say it: I heated the water; I heated the milk
- Say it: I took a roti; I took milk
- Say it: I drew water; he draws water every day
- Read it: काढणो, and name the letter after का

Before you move on

I ate a roti? (म्हैं रोटी खाई।) I took milk? (म्हैं दूध लियो।) I drew water? (म्हैं पाणी काढ्यो।)

Chapter 162

Tomorrow

Modes: 🚗 voice (4) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 4 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say what I will and will not do, and tell yesterday from tomorrow by the verb.
> Complete MW-R162-tomorrow: say what you will and won't do, and use काल for yesterday and tomorrow.

162.1 हूं काल जासूं — I will go

Say I went to the market yesterday. The same काल also points the other way, to tomorrow.

Grammar Lens: -सूं

Add -सूं to a stem and you have I will:

हूं काल बाजार जासूं।

hũ̃ kāl bājār jāsũ̃. — I will go to the market tomorrow.

No हूं at the end: the future stands on its own. Every stem takes it the same way: आसूं, खासूं, बोलसूं, समझसूं. CDIAL quotes an Old Marwari line with this future in it, "I will fan" (CDIAL 5593). The spelling -सूं is central Marwari as this book writes it; other districts differ.

Your turn

You know two set phrases that look ahead: पाछे मिलसू and कितणो आखरी भाव दोगे? Keep saying them as you learned them.

Say these aloud:

- हूं काल आसूं। — hũ̃ kāl āsũ̃. — I will come tomorrow.
- हूं आथण दूध पीसूं। — hũ̃ āthaṇ dūdh pīsũ̃. — I will drink milk in the evening.
- हूं काल बाजार जासूं। — hũ̃ kāl bājār jāsũ̃. — I will go to the market tomorrow.

Before you move on

I will go? (जासूं.) I will come? (आसूं.) What comes after it? (Nothing.)

162.2 हूं काल कोनी जासूं — I won't go

Say I will come tomorrow. Then I don't drink tea.

Grammar Lens: कोनी before the future

कोनी goes in front of the future, as it does in front of the present:

हूं काल कोनी जासूं।

hũ̃ kāl konī jāsũ̃. — I won't go tomorrow.

हूं परसूं कोनी आसूं।

hũ̃ parsũ̃ konī āsũ̃. — I won't come the day after tomorrow.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- हूं मांस कोनी खासूं। — hũ̃ mãs konī khāsũ̃. — I won't eat meat.
- हूं आज बाजार कोनी जासूं। — hũ̃ āj bājār konī jāsũ̃. — I won't go to the market today.

Before you move on

I won't go? (कोनी जासूं.) I don't go? (कोनी जाऊं.)

162.3 काल — yesterday or tomorrow

Say I won't go tomorrow. Then say काल and परसूं on their own.

Grammar Lens: the verb decides

काल is one word for two days, and the verb tells you which:

हूं काल गयो।

hũ̃ kāl gayo. — I went yesterday.

हूं काल जासूं।

hũ̃ kāl jāsũ̃. — I will go tomorrow.

परसूं works the same way, for the day before yesterday or the day after tomorrow.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- राम काल आयो। — rām kāl āyo. — Ram came yesterday.
- हूं काल आसूं। — hũ̃ kāl āsũ̃. — I will come tomorrow.
- मां परसूं आई। — mã̃ parsũ̃ āī. — Mother came the day before yesterday.

Before you move on

In हूं काल गयो।, which day? (Yesterday.) In हूं काल जासूं।? (Tomorrow.)

162.4 Tomorrow — a review

Say I will come tomorrow.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- I will go to the market tomorrow; I won't go to the market today
- I will drink milk in the evening; I won't eat meat
- I went yesterday; I will go tomorrow
- I drew water; I will draw water tomorrow

Before you move on

I will go? (जासूं.) I won't go? (कोनी जासूं.) I went? (गयो.)

Chapter 163

Plans and Perhaps

Modes: voice (4) pen (1) Hands-free start: the first 3 of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say a plan with its day, say perhaps and again, and write the letter फ from फेर.
> Complete MW-R163-plans: say a plan with its day, with perhaps and again, and write फ*.*

163.1 परसूं हूं बाजार जासूं — a plan

Say I will go to the market tomorrow. Then the day after tomorrow: परसूं.

Grammar Lens: the time first

A plan opens on its time, then says what you will do:

परसूं हूं बाजार जासूं।

parsũ̃ hũ̃ bājār jāsũ̃. — The day after tomorrow I'll go to the market.

आज आथण हूं घरै आसूं।

āj āthaṇ hũ̃ gharai āsũ̃. — This evening I'll come home.

Your turn

Two plans join with अर:

> काल हूं दिनूगै उठसूं अर बाजार जासूं।
> kāl hū̃ dinūgai uṭhsū̃ ar bājār jāsū̃. — Tomorrow I'll get up early and go to the market.

Say these aloud:

- परसूं हूं बाजार जासूं। — parsū̃ hū̃ bājār jāsū̃. — The day after tomorrow I'll go to the market.
- आज आथण हूं घरै आसूं। — āj āthaṇ hū̃ gharai āsū̃. — This evening I'll come home.

Before you move on

Where does the time go in a plan? (First.) What does the verb take? (-सूं.)

163.2 सायद (sāyad) — perhaps

Before the new one: say now, today and every day. (अबार, आज, रोज.)

You'll want to know: सायद

> सायद हूं काल आसूं।
> sāyad hū̃ kāl āsū̃. — Perhaps I'll come tomorrow.

The word, taken apart

सायद (sāyad) is a loan, usually traced to Persian shāyad, "it may be". Marwari says s where the Persian has sh, as it does in हमेसा.

What you've built

सायद opens the sentence and leaves the rest as it was: सायद परसूं हूं बाजार जासूं। (sāyad parsũ̃ hũ̃ bājār jāsũ̃.)

Your turn

- Say it: sāyad
- Say it: सायद हूं काल कोनी आसूं। — sāyad hũ̃ kāl konī āsũ̃. — Perhaps I won't come tomorrow.
- Recall: say now, then sāyad again

Before you move on

What does सायद mean? ("Perhaps".) Say it once more.

163.3 फेर (pher) — again

Before the new one: say perhaps I'll come tomorrow. Then later, पछै.

You'll want to know: फेर

फेर — pher — "again".

हूं काल फेर आसूं।

hũ̃ kāl pher āsũ̃. — I'll come again tomorrow.

It opens on a letter you have not written yet: ph, a प with a breath after it. The next lesson puts it in your hand.

The word, taken apart

फेर (pher) is built on the old verb for turning. CDIAL gives Hindi and Gujarati pher, "again", under a reconstructed phirati, "turns", and lists Old Marwari phiraï, "turns", in the same entry (CDIAL 9078).

What you've built

फेर sits right before the verb: फेर आसूं, फेर जासूं.

Your turn

- Say it: pher
- Say it: राम फेर आयो। — rām pher āyo. — Ram came again.
- Recall: say later, then pher again

Before you move on

What does फेर mean? ("Again".) Say it once more.

163.4 फ (pha) — the letter that opens फेर

Before the new one: write प once, and name it.

Now say फेर (pher), "again". It opens on a प with a breath after it: ph. This lesson puts that letter in your hand.

Script you'll notice: फ

फ — pha, the breathed p.

It opens फेर. It stands beside प as ध stands beside द. Its left part is a stem and a lower bowl joined to a central stem, much like प; then comes a separate arch on the right, and the headline.

Writing: फ

Stroke order after JackPotte, 'Devanagari p[h] 𑀥.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 29 March 2009
This order is attested, not standardised; the source records where it varies.

How फ is written, stroke by stroke

- 1. descend the left stem, curve right around the lower bowl, rise along the central side to the headline, then retrace down the central stem without lifting
- 2. lift at the central junction and sweep clockwise over and down through the open right arch
- 3. lift and draw the top shirorekhā left-to-right

Pen lifts: 2.

verified three-stroke teaching form; another learner source stages the components differently

Stroke order is one attested teaching order; hands and teachers vary. Source: JackPotte, 'Devanagari p[h] फ.gif', strokes 1–3, Wikimedia Commons, 29 March 2009.

Your turn

- Look: at फेर and point at फ at its start
- Trace it: फ three times, saying ph as you finish each one

- Write it: प, then फ, from memory
- Read it: फेर aloud once more

Before you move on

Which letter is this — फ? (pha, the breathed p.) Which word did it come from? (फेर, pher, "again".)

163.5 Plans and perhaps — a review

Say the day after tomorrow I'll go to the market.

Your turn

- Say it: this evening I'll come home
- Say it: tomorrow I'll get up early and go to the market
- Say it: perhaps I'll come tomorrow; perhaps I won't come tomorrow
- Say it: I'll come again tomorrow; Ram came again
- Read it: फेर, and name its first letter

Before you move on

Perhaps? (सायद.) Again? (फेर.) I'll come? (आसूं.)

Chapter 164

A Notice at the Dairy

Modes: voice (4) eyes (1) Hands-free start: the first 3 of 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can read a dairy's notice of opening days and hours, with a price, and decide when to go.
> Complete MW-R164-dairy: read a 51-word dairy notice and decide when to go for milk, and on which day not to.

164.1 खुलो (khulo) — open

Before the new one: say to open, खोलणो. Then a house and a shop.

You'll want to know: खुलो

> घर खुलो है।
> ghar khulo hai. — The house is open.

The word, taken apart

खुलो (khulo) is inherited: CDIAL lists Old Marwari khulo, "open", in the same entry as खोलणो, under a reconstructed khōll, "to open" (CDIAL 3945).

What you've built

खुलो ends like छोरो and changes the same way, to agree with what is open: घर खुलो है।, but दुकान खुली है। (dukān khulī hai.), the shop is open.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- khulo
- दुकान आज खुली है? — dukān āj khulī hai? — Is the shop open today?
- हां सा, दुकान खुली है। — hã̃ sā, dukān khulī hai. — Yes, the shop is open.

Before you move on

What does खुलो mean? ("Open".) The shop is open? (दुकान खुली है।)

164.2 बंद (band) — closed

Before the new one: say the shop is open. Then Monday and Sunday: सोमवार, रविवार.

You'll want to know: बंद

बंद — band — "closed".

सोमवार दुकान बंद है।

somvār dukān band hai. — On Monday the shop is closed.

The word, taken apart

बंद (band) is a loan, usually traced to Persian band, "shut, bound".

What you've built

बंद does not change: घर बंद है।, दुकान बंद है। Its opposite does: खुलो, खुली.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- band
- दुकान बंद है पण घर खुलो है। — dukān band hai paṇ ghar khulo hai. — The shop is closed, but the house is open.
- दुकान आज बंद कोनी। — dukān āj band konī. — The shop isn't closed today.

Before you move on

What does बंद mean? ("Closed".) Does it change for a shop? (No.)

164.3 तांई (tā̃ī) — until

Before the new one: say he comes from the market. Then the shop is closed.

You'll want to know: तांई

दुकान दिनूगै ६ सूं १० तांई खुली है।

dukān dinūgai chha sū̃ das tā̃ī khulī hai. — The shop is open in the morning from six until ten.

सूं opens the stretch of time, and तांई closes it. The hours are digits, read as numbers: ६ is chha, १० is das.

The word, taken apart

तांई (tā̃ī) is probably inherited from Sanskrit tāvat, "so long". CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry, but it lists an Old Gujarati word for "up till" there (CDIAL 5804).

What you've built

सूं … तांई frames any stretch: आथण ५ सूं ८ तांई, in the evening from five until eight.

Your turn

- Say it: tā̃ī
- Say it: आथण ५ सूं ८ तांई — āthaṇ pāṅch sū̃ āṭh tā̃ī — in the evening, from five until eight
- Recall: say from the market, then tā̃ī again

Before you move on

What does तांई mean? ("Until".) From six until ten? (६ सूं १० तांई.)

164.4 (reading) — a notice at the dairy

Say open, closed and until.

Nobody is talking to anybody here. A notice says what you may do, and when.

Read this

दूध, दही अर छाछ

दुकान रोज दिनूगै ६ सूं १० तांई खुली है। आथण दुकान ५ सूं ८ तांई खुली है। रविवार दुकान दिनूगै ६ सूं १२ तांई खुली है। दोपार अर रात दुकान बंद है। सोमवार दुकान बंद है। भाव: दूध ५४। आज घी कोनी। दही घणो आछो है! आभार।

Read it: the notice once, straight through, without translating
Read it: it a second time, and find every line that says when

What to know first

Most lines open on a when: रोज, आथण, रविवार, दोपार, सोमवार. Each stretch of hours runs सूं … तांई. भाव is the price, written in digits. The line with ! is an advert, set into the notice to bring you in.

Your turn

- Answer: is the shop open on Monday? (No: सोमवार दुकान बंद है।)
- Answer: until when is it open on Sunday morning? (Until twelve: १२ तांई.)
- Answer: is there ghee today? (No: आज घी कोनी।)

Before you move on

Which day is the shop closed all day? (सोमवार, Monday.) When is it closed every day? (दोपार अर रात, midday and night.)

164.5 A notice at the dairy — a review

Say the shop is open.

Your turn

- Say it: the house is open; the shop is open; the shop is closed
- Say it: from six until ten; in the evening, from five until eight
- Say it: on Monday the shop is closed; there is no ghee today
- Answer: in the notice, when can you buy milk on a Sunday morning? (From six until twelve.)

Before you move on

Open? (खुलो, खुली.) Closed? (बंद.) Until? (तांई.)

Chapter 165

A Note About a Repair

Modes: 🚗 voice (3) 👁 eyes (1) 🚗 Hands-free start: the first of 4 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can read a neighbour's short note about a repair visit and decide when to be at home.
> Complete MW-R165-second-pass-the-whole-core: read the repair note for when to be home, then sweep the whole A2 core once more.

165.1 मिस्त्री (mistrī) — a mechanic

> Before the new one: say a neighbour, a fan and spoiled. (पाड़ोसी, पंखो, खराब.)

You'll want to know: मिस्त्री

मिस्त्री — mistrī — "a mechanic; a mason": the person who comes to mend things.

> मिस्त्री पंखो ठीक करै है।
> mistrī paṅkho ṭhīk karai hai. — The mechanic mends the fan.
> मिस्त्री काल आयो।
> mistrī kāl āyo. — The mechanic came yesterday.

The word, taken apart

मिस्त्री (mistrī) is a loan, usually traced to Portuguese mestre, "a master (of a trade)".

What you've built

ठीक करणो, to make right, is how Marwari says to mend: ठीक करै है, and in the past with म्हैं, ठीक कियो.

Your turn

Say these aloud:

- mistrī
- पंखो खराब है। — paṅkho kharāb hai. — The fan is broken.
- मिस्त्री पंखो ठीक करै है। — mistrī paṅkho ṭhīk karai hai. — The mechanic mends the fan.

Before you move on

What does मिस्त्री mean? ("A mechanic; a mason".) Say it once more.

165.2 (reading) — a note about a repair

Say a mechanic and a neighbour.

This one is written to you, by someone you know. Read it for one thing: when you have to be at home.

Read this

राम-राम सा!

हूं पाड़ोसी राम हूं। काल सूं अठै पाणी कोनी। आज मिस्त्री कोनी आयो। हूं काल दिनूगै मिस्त्री लावसूं। मिस्त्री चोखो है। आप काल दिनूगै ९ सूं ११ तांई घरै रैवो। दरवाजो खुलो राखो। दोपार हूं घरै कोनी। कोई सवाल? आज आथण ७ सूं ९ तांई हूं घरै हूं। आभार। राम

Read it: the note once, straight through, without translating
Read it: it again, and find the two lines with hours in them

What to know first

रैवो and राखो are requests, like लावो: please stay, please keep. लावसूं is Ram's own future: I will bring. काल सूं means since yesterday: सूं marks where the time starts.

Your turn

- Answer: what is wrong? (There has been no water since yesterday.)
- Answer: did the mechanic come today? (No: आज मिस्त्री कोनी आयो।)
- Answer: if you have a question, when is Ram at home? (This evening, seven until nine.)

Before you move on

When must you be at home? (Tomorrow morning, ९ सूं ११ तांई.)
What should you leave open? (The gate: दरवाजो खुलो राखो।)

165.3 Plans and notices — a first pass

Say a mechanic. Then I will come tomorrow.

Your turn

- Say it: the mechanic came yesterday; the mechanic mends the fan
- Say it: perhaps I'll come again tomorrow; the day after tomorrow I'll go to the market
- Say it: I won't go tomorrow; don't go now
- Say it: the shop is open from six until ten; on Monday the shop is closed
- Say it: I heated the water; I took milk
- Answer: in Ram's note, when must you be at home? (Tomorrow morning, nine until eleven.)
- Read it: फेर, and name its first letter

Before you move on

A mechanic? (मिस्त्री.) Until? (तांई.) I will bring? (लावसूं.)

165.4 The whole A2 core — a second pass

Say a mechanic. When did Ram's note ask you to be at home? (Tomorrow morning.)

Your turn: people and the present

Say these aloud:

- he is Ram; that is a camel; you are here
- I speak a little; Ram reads the newspaper; what do you do?
- I drink milk every day; mother goes to the market
- my cow is here; the milk is in the kitchen; I come from the shop

Your turn: not, questions, past and future

- Say it: I don't understand; Ram isn't here; don't go
- Say it: do you recognise this song?; yes, I recognise it; when do you come?
- Say it: mother went home; Ram came yesterday; mother got up early
- Say it: I ate a roti; I took milk; I drew water
- Say it: I will go tomorrow; I won't go tomorrow; I'll come again
- Read it: समझणो, ओळखणो and काढणो, and name the newest letter in each

Before you move on

Went? (गयो, गई, गया.) Will go? (जासूं.) Don't? (मत.) Not? (कोनी.)

Chapter 166

Up at Daybreak

Modes: 🚗 voice (5) 🚗 Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say when I wake up, rinse my mouth and lie down.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 166: I can say when I wake up, rinse my mouth and lie down.

166.1 जागणो (jāgṇo) — to wake up

> Before the new one: say the Marwadi for brave, then the Marwadi for crazy.

You'll want to know: जागणो

जागणो — jāgṇo — "to wake up".

> हूं रोज तड़कै जागूं हूं।
> hū̃ roj taṛkai jāgū̃ hū̃.
> I wake up at daybreak every day.

Past (I …): हूं आज तड़कै जाग्यो, hū̃ āj taṛkai jāgyo.

The word, taken apart

जागणो (jāgṇo) is inherited from Sanskrit jāgrati, "they are awake"; CDIAL lists Marwari jāgṇo, "to wake", under it (CDIAL 5175). Its partner जगावणो, to wake someone, is already yours.

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: jāgṇo
- Say it: jāgṇo, once more
- Say it: hū̃ roj taṛkai jāgū̃ hū̃. — I wake up at daybreak every day.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for brave, then the Marwadi for crazy, then say jāgṇo again

Before you move on

What does जागणो mean? ("To wake up".) Say it once more.

166.2 खंगाळणो (khaṅgāḷṇo) — to rinse

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for crazy, then the Marwadi for to wake up.

You'll want to know: खंगाळणो

हूं दिनूगै मूंडो खंगाळूं हूं।

hū̃ dinūgai mū̃ḍo khaṅgāḷū̃ hū̃.

I rinse my mouth early in the morning.

Past (I …): म्हैं लोटो खंगाळ्यो, mhaĩ loṭo khaṅgāḷyo.

The word, taken apart

खंगाळणो (khaṅgāḷṇo) comes from a reconstructed khakkhālayati*, "rinses", which CDIAL thinks imitates the sound of rinsing; it lists Hindi khãgālnā and a Gujarati verb for rinsing the mouth in the morning (CDIAL 3762). CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry.

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: khaṅgāḷṇo
- Say it: khaṅgāḷṇo, once more
- Say it: hũ̃ dinūgai mũ̃ḍo khaṅgāḷũ̃ hũ̃. — I rinse my mouth early in the morning.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for crazy, then the Marwadi for to wake up, then say khaṅgāḷṇo again

Before you move on

What does खंगाळणो mean? ("To rinse".) Say it once more.

166.3 नींद (nī̃d) — sleep

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to wake up, then the Marwadi for to rinse.

You'll want to know: नींद

नींद — nī̃d — "sleep".

आज म्हारी नींद पूरी कोनी।

āj mhārī nī̃d pūrī konī.

I haven't had my full sleep today.

A feminine noun.

The word, taken apart

नींद (nī̃d) is inherited from Sanskrit nidrā, "sleep"; CDIAL lists Old Marwari nīda (CDIAL 7200). It is feminine: म्हारी नींद.

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: nī̃d
- Say it: nī̃d, once more
- Say it: āj mhārī nī̃d pūrī konī. — I haven't had my full sleep today.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to wake up, then the Marwadi for to rinse, then say nī̃d again

Before you move on

What does नींद mean? ("Sleep".) Say it once more.

166.4 पोढणो (poḍhṇo) — to lie down (to sleep)

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to rinse, then the Marwadi for a night's sleep.

You'll want to know: पोढणो

पोढणो — poḍhṇo — "to lie down (to sleep)".

दादी रोज आथण जल्दी पोढै है।

dādī roj āthaṇ jaldī poḍhai hai.

Grandmother lies down early every evening.

Past (he …): वो खाट माथै पोढ्यो, vo khāṭ māthai poḍhyo.

The word, taken apart

पोढणो (poḍhṇo) is inherited from Sanskrit pravardhate, "grows up"; CDIAL explains the later sense "lie down, sleep" from an older "stretched out", and lists Old Marwari poḍhaï, "lies down" (CDIAL 8789).

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: poḍhṇo
- Say it: poḍhṇo, once more
- Say it: dādī roj āthaṇ jaldī poḍhai hai. — Grandmother lies down early every evening.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to rinse, then the Marwadi for a night's sleep, then say poḍhṇo again

Before you move on

What does पोढणो mean? ("To lie down (to sleep)".) Say it once more.

166.5 सांझ (sā̃jh) — dusk

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a night's sleep, then the Marwadi for to lie down.

You'll want to know: सांझ

सांझ घणी सांत है।

sā̃jh ghaṇī sānt hai.

Dusk is very calm.

A feminine noun.

The word, taken apart

सांझ (sā̃jh) is inherited from Sanskrit sandhyā, "twilight", the joining of day and night; CDIAL lists Hindi sā̃jh (CDIAL 12918). CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry.

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: sā̃jh
- Say it: sā̃jh, once more
- Say it: sā̃jh ghaṇī sānt hai. — Dusk is very calm.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a night's sleep, then the Marwadi for to lie down, then say sā̃jh again

Before you move on

What does सांझ mean? ("Dusk".) Say it once more.

Chapter 167

The Day's Work

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say which job comes first, which comes last and what is done in no time.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 167: I can say which job comes first, which comes last and what is done in no time.

167.1 काम (kām) — work

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to lie down, then the Marwadi for dusk.

You'll want to know: काम

> हूं रोज घणो काम करूं हूं।
> hū̃ roj ghaṇo kām karū̃ hū̃.
> I do a lot of work every day.

A masculine noun.

The word, taken apart

काम (kām) is inherited from Sanskrit karman, "act, work"; CDIAL lists Marwari kām (CDIAL 2892). With करणो it is to work: काम करो.

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: kām
- Say it: kām, once more
- Say it: hữ roj ghaṇo kām karữ hữ. — I do a lot of work every day.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to lie down, then the Marwadi for dusk, then say kām again

Before you move on

What does काम mean? ("Work".) Say it once more.

167.2 पैलो (pailo) — first

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for dusk, then the Marwadi for work.

You'll want to know: पैलो

पैलो — pailo — "first".

पैलो काम घणो दोरो है।

pailo kām ghaṇo doro hai.

The first job is very hard.

The word, taken apart

पैलो (pailo) is inherited from a reconstructed prathila*, "first"; CDIAL lists Old Marwari pahalo (CDIAL 8652). It agrees like an adjective: पैली रोटी, the first roti.

What you've built

One more word for saying what you do.

Your turn

- Say it: pailo
- Say it: pailo, once more
- Say it: pailo kām ghaṇo doro hai. — The first job is very hard.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for dusk, then the Marwadi for work, then say pailo again

Before you move on

What does पैलो mean? ("First".) Say it once more.

167.3 छांटणो (chhā̃ṭṇo) — to sprinkle

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for work, then the Marwadi for first.

You'll want to know: छांटणो

छांटणो — chhā̃ṭṇo — "to sprinkle".

दिनूगै मां पाणी छांटै है।

dinūgai mā̃ pāṇī chhā̃ṭai hai.

Early in the morning my mother sprinkles water.

Past (I …): म्हैं पाणी छांट्यो, mhaĩ pāṇī chhā̃ṭyo.

The word, taken apart

आप भाव थोड़ु घटावो।

āp bhāv thoṛu ghaṭāvo.

Please lower the price a little.

Past (I …): म्हैं भाव घटायो, mhaĩ bhāv ghaṭāyo.

The word, taken apart

घटावणो (ghaṭāvṇo) is the causative of घटणो, "to decrease", inherited from the same reconstructed ghaṭṭati*; CDIAL lists Old Marwari ghaṭāvai, which it glosses "belittles" (CDIAL 4415).

What you've built

One more word for this chapter.

Your turn

- Say it: ghaṭāvṇo
- Say it: ghaṭāvṇo, once more
- Say it: āp bhāv thoṛu ghaṭāvo. — Please lower the price a little.

Before you move on

What does भेट mean? ("A gift (brought on a visit); a meeting".) Say it once more.

219.3 हफ्तो (haphto) — a week

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for to come (said with respect), then the Marwadi for a gift.

You'll want to know: हफ्तो

हफ्तो — haphto — "a week".

हूं एक हफ्तो गांव मांय रैसूं।

hũ̃ ek haphto gãv mãy raisũ̃.

I'll stay a week in the village.

A masculine noun.

The word, taken apart

हफ्तो (haphto) is usually traced to Persian hafta, "a week", from haft, "seven"; Marwadi ends it in -o like its own nouns.

What you've built

One more word for saying what comes next.

Your turn

- Say it: haphto
- Say it: haphto, once more
- Say it: hữ ek haphto gā̃v mā̃y raisữ. — I'll stay a week in the village.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for to come (said with respect), then the Marwadi for a gift, then say haphto again

Before you move on

What does हफ्तो mean? ("A week".) Say it once more.

219.4 तीज (tīj) — the Teej festival; the third day of a lunar fortnight

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a gift, then the Marwadi for a week.

You'll want to know: तीज

परसूं तीज है।

parsữ tīj hai.

The day after tomorrow is Teej.

A feminine noun.

The word, taken apart

तीज (tīj) is inherited from Sanskrit tṛtīyā, "the third day of the lunar fortnight" (CDIAL 5920, which lists Marwari tīj). The women's festival of Teej falls on such a third day, in the rains.

What you've built

One more word for saying what comes next.

Your turn

- Say it: tīj
- Say it: tīj, once more
- Say it: parsū̃ tīj hai. — The day after tomorrow is Teej.
- Recall: say the Marwadi for a gift, then the Marwadi for a week, then say tīj again

Before you move on

Chapter 220

A Settled Plan

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say my plan is settled, or that I will put it off or change it.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 220: I can say my plan is settled, or that I will put it off or change it.

220.1 पक्को (pakko) — settled; firm

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for the Teej festival, then the Marwadi for in a hurry.

You'll want to know: पक्को

पक्को — pakko — "settled; firm".

> बात पक्की है, हूं काल जासूं।
> bāt pakkī hai, hū̃ kāl jāsū̃.
> It's settled: I'm going tomorrow.

The word, taken apart

पक्को (pakko) goes back to Sanskrit pakva, "cooked, ripe". Its doubled k matches Hindi pakkā, "ripe, mature, real", which CDIAL takes from Panjabi; the Old Marwari word CDIAL lists in the same entry is pāka,

"ripe" (CDIAL 7621), the plain inherited shape. From ripe it has come to mean firm, settled.

What you've built

One more word for saying what comes next.

Your turn

- Say it: pakko
- Say it: pakko, once more
- Say it: bāt pakkī hai, hũ̃ kāl jāsũ̃. — It's settled: I'm going tomorrow.

You'll want to know: टालणो

टालणो — ṭālṇo — "to put off; to avoid".

हूं जातरा कोनी टालसूं।

hũ̃ jātrā konī ṭālsũ̃.

I won't put off the journey.

Past (I …): म्हैं जातरा टाली, mhaĩ jātrā ṭālī.

The word, taken apart

टालणो (ṭālṇo) is inherited from Sanskrit ṭalati, "moves aside", through its causative ṭālayati; CDIAL lists Marwari ṭālṇo, "to pass (time)", and Hindi and Gujarati verbs for averting and avoiding under it (CDIAL 5450). To move a plan aside is to put it off.

What you've built

One more word for saying what comes next.

Your turn

सोधणो — sodhṇo — "to find out; to search out".

हूं डूंगर कनै नुवो गेलो सोधसूं।

hũ̃ ḍũ̃gar kanai nuvo gelo sodhsũ̃.

I'll search out a new path near the hill.

Past (I …): म्हैं गेलो सोध्यो, mhaĩ gelo sodhyo.

The word, taken apart

सोधणो (sodhṇo) is inherited from Sanskrit śoddhum, "to purify"; CDIAL lists the Old Marwari verb sodhaï, "finds out", and a Gujarati verb "to search" under it (CDIAL 12626).

What you've built

One more word for saying what comes next.

Your turn

- Say it: sodhṇo
- Say it: sodhṇo, once more
- Say it: hū̃ ḍ̃ūgar kanai nuvo gelo sodhsū̃. — I'll search out a new path near the hill.

Henna and Wedding Finery

Modes: voice (5) Hands-free start: all 5 lessons.

> By the end of this chapter: I can say what happened at a wedding.
> Complete the last lesson of chapter 248: I can say what happened at a wedding.

248.1 मेंहदी (mẽhdī) — henna

Before the new one: say the Marwadi for a bride, then the Marwadi for a wedding pavilion.

You'll want to know: मेंहदी

मेंहदी — mẽhdī — "henna".

> बहन हाथ माथै मेंहदी लगावै है।
> bahan hāth māthai mẽhdī lagāvai hai.
> My sister puts henna on her hands.

A feminine noun.

The word, taken apart

मेंहदी (mẽhdī) is inherited from Sanskrit mendhī, the henna plant. CDIAL gives no Marwari form in this entry; it lists Hindi mẽhdī (CDIAL 10328).

What you've built

One more word for saying what happened.

Your turn

- Say it: mẽhdī
- Say it: mẽhdī, once more
- Say it: bahan hāth māthai mẽhdī lagāvai hai. — My sister puts henna on her hands.

Pronunciation & Writing Reference

This is a lookup page, never a prerequisite gate.

The sounds in Chapter 1

- r in rām is a brief tongue-tip tap, not the English bunched or retroflex r. Say a quick Spanish-style single r if that is familiar.
- ā is a steady open vowel held longer than short a. The macron in transliteration marks length; Devanagari writes it with ◌ा after a consonant.
- m and s are close to English m and s.

The writing rule you need first

Devanagari consonants carry a built-in short a. Thus र is ra and स is sa. The right-side mark ◌ा changes that vowel to long ā: रा rā, सा sā. The chapter teaches only those signs and combines them as राम-राम सा.

The lessons ask learners to copy visible forms before they claim a stroke order. Handwriting conventions vary across schools, so a directional stroke sequence will be added only with a specific source. For Marwari-specific Devanagari history and characters, see the Unicode proposal on Devanagari letters for Marwari.

Sources for this starter edition

The opening exchange is attested in Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi's Jāgtī Jot, August–September 2018. Its April 2004 issue uses आभार while expressing gratitude in Rajasthani prose. Rajasthan Foundation's official language page places Marwari among the major forms of Rajasthani. The lesson files carry the direct links. Chapters 1 and 2 are generated from those canonical files. Chapter 3 adds a scholarly Marwari text edition that identifies hā(n)-sā as the polite affirmative and an April–May 2019 Jāgtī Jot dialogue that uses हां सा in context. Chapter 4 uses SIL International's 2015 Marwari–English Dictionary for पाणी, "water," and Turner's comparative dictionary for its Indo-Aryan history. Chapters 5 and 6 use the Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat language report for the exact name-question and name-answer pair, cross-checked against SIL's dictionary and Rajasthan Sahitya Akademi prose for the component forms. Chapters 7 and 8 use Marwari Pathshala's explicitly polite/formal wellbeing question and its documented reply, with SIL's dictionary archive as the variety and orthography reference. Chapters 10–13 use Marwari Pathshala Lesson 4 for the family and relationship labels, while retaining the source's documented alternatives instead of presenting one household vocabulary as universal. Chapters 14–15 use Marwari Pathshala Lesson 5 for the direction and travel vocabulary; they teach words only and leave the still-untaught location question explicit in the planning ledger. Chapter 16 uses Marwari Pathshala Lesson 7 for three weather nouns. It reuses the established script inventory and does not claim that a weather question or complete weather exchange has been taught. Chapter 17 uses the same source for weather, heat, and cold. It isolates the au mark, ग, and ड before independent decoding, while retaining the source's broad heat/summer and cold/winter glosses as labelled scope notes. Chapters 18–19 use Marwari Pathshala Lesson 9 for shop, item, price, cheap, and goods. They isolate short ु before the two words that need it and leave the source's longer price questions and bargaining phrases for later chapters. Chapter 20 uses the same source for clothes and expensive. It isolates the nukta before कपड़ा and reuses familiar signs for महंगो. Chapters 21–22 use Marwari Pathshala Lesson 10 for bus, vehicle, cart, rickshaw, and horse. They isolate only श, reuse ड़, and leave ticket, timetable, location, and transport problem-report exchanges for later work.
